Castro's Cuba, Cuba's Fidel Lee Lockwood, 2003-06-30 Mr Lockwood's exciting book holds many surprises for the reader who has seen the Cuban reality up to now only through the distorting prism of propaganda During Mr Lockwood's latest 14 week visit to Cuba in 1965 he had a seven day marathon conversation with Fidel the transcription of which with excellent photographs constitutes the heart of the book A first rate psychological document this book is also an historical one in that it contains information necessary to the understanding of several conversational questions such as the priority given agriculture in the development of the Cuban economy the dissension between Moscow and Havana or even the intellectual road by which Castro came to Marxism Moreover it provides particulars up to now unknown Claude Julien The New York Times Book Review Lockwood gives us crowds posters individual studies Fidel in every possible mood the cities farms country towns most of Cuba is in the photographs Lockwood's text consists mainly of excerpts from several interviews he got from Fidel in 1965 In one way or another Fidel touches on all the events of crucial importance from the beginning of the insurrection until 1965 and the interviews thus become an explanation of the revolution that we badly need Jose Yglesias The New Republic The author's questions to Fidel are tough and penetrating and they elicited the same kind of answers The lively record deserves and encourages serious study K G Jackson Harper's Magazine Given the paucity of scholarly work on contemporary Cuba and the difficulty of visiting the island the photographs interview materials and interpretations of this gifted journalist must go high on the reading list of anyone professional or lay person who maintains a serious interest in Cuban affairs and in that most dramatic and important of twentieth century Latin American leaders Fidel Castro Richard Fagan Hispanic American Historical Review
