Islam's Predicament with Modernity Bassam Tibi, 2009-02-25 This book presents an in depth cultural and political analysis of the issue of political Islam as a potential source of tensions and conflict and how this might be peacefully resolved Looking at modernity from an Islamic point of view the author analyses issues such as law knowledge and human rights

Civil Society: Concepts, Challenges, Contexts Michael Hoelscher, Regina A. List, Alexander Ruser, Stefan Toepler, 2022-05-10 This volume is a collection of original essays prepared by colleagues collaborators and former students on the occasion of Helmut K Anheier's 65th birthday and retirement from the University of Heidelberg An internationally recognized pioneer of nonprofit and civil society studies Anheier focused his work on providing clarity around 1 civil society local and global observing its origins and trajectory and developing theories to explain it 2 the nonprofit sector and institutions within and extending from it including nonprofit organizations philanthropy and social investment and 3 culture as it relates to democracy and back to civil society The essays in this volume refer to these concepts and position them in the context of developments over the last two to three decades The volume is arranged in three sections The first section comprises essays that elucidate concepts and probe theories in the field The second section presents chapters discussing current global challenges and trends in the focal areas The third and final section then comprises country and regional case studies illustrating important aspects of the global challenges or theoretical issues of the two preceding sections A fascinating and up to date overview of key issues and trends in civil society and nonprofit research by an international collection of eminent scholars in these fields this book will be attractive to civil society and nonprofit sector researchers as well as a broader academic community of political scientists sociologists economists and cultural experts Islam in Global Politics Bassam Tibi, 2012-03-12 Reaching beyond traditionally politicised scholarship to provide a unique perspective on the place of religion and culture in global and local politics this book examines the impact of Islam on civilizational relations between different groups and polities Bassam Tibi takes a highly original approach to the topic of religion in world politics exploring the place of Islam in society and its frequent distortion in world politics to the more radical Islamism Looking at how this becomes an immediate source of tension and conflict between the secular and the religious Tibi rejects the clash of civilizations theory and argues for the revival of Islamic humanism to help bridge the gap Chapters expand on inter civilizational conflict in global politics dialogue between religious and secular East and West western concepts of Islamism euro Islam and the Islamic diaspora in Europe Islamic humanism as a tool for bridging civilizations Shedding new light on the highly topical subject of Islam in politics and society this book is an essential read for scholars and students of international politics Islamic studies and conflict resolution International Encyclopedia of Civil Society Helmut K. Anheier, Stefan Toepler, 2009-11-24 Recently the topic of civil society has generated a wave of interest and a wealth of new information Until now no publication has attempted to organize and consolidate this knowledge The International Encyclopedia of Civil Society fills this gap establishing a common set of understandings and terminology and an analytical starting point for future research Global in scope and authoritative in content the Encyclopedia offers succinct summaries of core concepts and theories definitions of terms biographical entries on important figures and organizational profiles In addition it serves as a reliable and up to date guide to additional sources of information In sum the Encyclopedia provides an overview of the contours of civil society social capital philanthropy and nonprofits across cultures and historical periods For researchers in nonprofit and civil society studies political science economics management and social enterprise this is the most systematic appraisal of a rapidly growing field Citizens' Media Against Armed Conflict Clemencia Rodríguez, Citizens media countering armed conflict and rebuilding community in Colombia Women Journalists, Proximity Radios and Conflicts in

Burkina Faso Viviane Schönbächler, 2025-09-26 This book explores the complex relationships between proximity radio and conflict in Burkina Faso from the perspective of female radio journalists. The study is based on in-depth qualitative field research including interviews, audio diaries, and radio content analysis using an analytical framework based on the concepts of participation and intersectionality. It provides a detailed account of radios in the northern provinces of Burkina Faso and the specificities of proximity radio in comparison to larger national media outlets, particularly in their relationship with the community they serve. It also highlights the material and discursive consequences of violent conflict on radio stations and shows how journalists regain agency despite severe constraints, as well as pointing to important, often invisible contributions of women journalists in promoting peace and non-violent conflict transformation. Culture, Institutions, and Development

Jean-Philippe Platteau, Robert Peccoud, 2010-10-04 Does culture matter? This question has taken on added significance since fundamentalist revivalism has recently gained ground in different parts of the world. The old controversy between Max Weber and Karl Marx, which centres around the extent to which cultural factors such as social norms and values affect economic growth, is of critical importance, particularly because of its policy implications. Indeed, if culture is not an autonomous factor susceptible to influencing economic realities, it should not matter, and public authorities can dispense with thinking about cultural interventions. On the other hand, if culture does have a real impact, the question arises as to whether it is conducive or detrimental to economic growth, political liberalization, and the emancipation of individuals, among other things. Culture, Institutions, and Development addresses this debate at a concrete level by looking at five important issues: the role of tradition and its influence on development; the role of religion, with special reference to Middle Eastern countries; the role of family, kinship, and ethnic ties in the process of development; the relationship between culture and entrepreneurship; and the relationship between culture and poverty. This collection offers a nuanced view that neither denies nor exaggerates the role of cultural factors in explaining relative growth performances across countries. Instead, the contributors focus on the dynamic, two-way relationship between culture and development in a way that stresses policy stakes and the value of multidisciplinary collaboration between economists, historians, and other social scientists. This book will be of interest to postgraduates and researchers in all the social sciences, as well as to professionals working in national development agencies, international organisations, and Non-Governmental Organisations.
