Exploring Entrepreneurship Richard Blundel,Nigel Lockett,Catherine Wang,2017-10-16 A detailed and critical analysis of the multiple types of entrepreneurship helping students to understand the practical skills and theoretical concepts needed to create their very own entrepreneurial venture The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2009 The Ethics of Justice Without Illusions Louis E. Wolcher,2016-06-17 The founding premise of this book is that the nimbus of prestige which once surrounded the idea of justice has now been dimmed to such a degree that it is no longer sufficient to secure the possibility of a good conscience for those who undertake in good faith to make the world a better place in the spheres of politics and law. The many decent human beings who have noticed and experienced this diminishment of justice's prestige find themselves in a thoroughly disenchanted existential situation. For them the attempt to do justice without the illusion of being grounded in something beyond the sheer facticity of their own performances is a distinctly ethical theme which cries out to be investigated in its own right. Heeding the cry this book asks and attempts to answer the following fundamental ethical question: is a life in the law even one spent in the pursuit of justice worth living and if so how can a disenchanted person come to bear the living of it without constantly having to engage in self-deception? If Nietzsche is right that living without illusions is impossible for human beings then the most important ethical implication of this essentially anthropological fact goes far beyond the question of what illusions we ought to choose. It must also include the question of whether we should succumb to that most seductive and pernicious of all illusions namely the belief that exercising great care and responsibility in choosing our illusions which we might then call our principles of justice excuses us ethically for what we do to others in their name. The culmination of a 10 year legal philosophical project this book will appeal to graduate students, scholars and curious non-academic intellectuals interested in continental philosophy, critical legal theory, postmodern theology, the philosophy of human rights and the study of individual ethics in the context of law.

District Heating and Cooling Networks in the European Union Antonio Colmenar-Santos, David Borge-Diez, Enrique Rosales-Asensio, 2017-07-18 This book evaluates the potential of the combined use of district heating networks and cogeneration in the European Union (EU). It also proposes measures to remove barriers hindering their widespread implementation, formulates policies for their implementation and evaluates their economic, energy and environmental consequences. The book presents a preliminary assessment of the likely cost and the impact of widespread adoption of district heating networks and cogeneration carried out in three cities that represent the variety of climatic conditions in the EU. Based on this assessment, it is estimated that by undertaking the maximum economically feasible implementation across the EU, fuel savings of 95M year would be achieved, representing energy savings of 6 400 petajoules PJ which is around 15% of the total final energy consumption in the EU in 2013 46 214 5 PJ Using simple and quick calculations and not specific software the method used allows the evaluation of the potential benefits of retrofitting existing power plants into cogeneration plants and connecting them to nearby heating networks In light of increasing energy costs and environmental concerns the book is of interest to heating engineers city planners and policy makers around the globe Solutions Manual for Financial Accounting Walter T. Harrison, Jr., Charles T. Horngren, C.
