Creationists E.L. Doctorow, 2008-12-10 E L Doctorow is acclaimed internationally for such novels as Ragtime Bathgate and The March Now here are Doctorow's rich revelatory essays on the nature of imaginative thought In Creationists Doctorow considers creativity in its many forms from the literary Melville and Mark Twain to the comic Harpo Marx to the cosmic Genesis and Einstein As he wrestles with the subjects that have teased and fired his own imagination Doctorow affirms the idea that we know by what we create Just what is Melville doing in Moby Dick And how did The Adventures of Tom Sawyer impel Mark Twain to radically rewrite what we know as Huckleberry Finn Can we ever trust what novelists say about their own work How could Franz Kafka have written a book called Amerika without ever leaving Europe In posing such questions Doctorow grapples with literary creation not as a critic or as a scholar but as one working writer frankly contemplating the work of another It's a perspective that affords him both protean grace and profound insight Among the essays collected here are Doctorow's musings on the very different Spanish Civil War novels of Ernest Hemingway and Andr Malraux a candid assessment of Edgar Allan Poe as our greatest bad writer a bracing analysis of the story of Genesis in which God figures as the most complex and riveting character Whether he is considering how Harpo Marx opened our eyes to surrealism the haunting photos with which the late German writer W G Sebald illustrated his texts or the innovations of such literary icons as Heinrich von Kleist Harriet Beecher Stowe and Sinclair Lewis Doctorow is unfailingly generous shrewd attentive surprising and precise In examining the creative works of different times and disciplines Doctorow also reveals the source and nature of his own artistry Rich in aphorism and anecdote steeped in history and psychology informed by a lifetime of reading and writing Creationists opens a magnificent window into one of the great creative minds of our time Russell

Banks Kevin T. McEneaney, 2010-06-16 This book provides comprehensive up to date commentary and critical guidance on the writings of Russell Banks Despite being a globally successful writer who has been published for over 30 years and is credited with two successful movies based on his work there is but one prior study of Russell Banks's work in English which is now nearly a decade old Russell Banks In Search of Freedom offers the only modern complete commentary on his work and establishes Banks as one of the leaders in the postmodern neorealist tradition of American fiction This critical guide contains a brief biography of Banks describing the details of his life that shaped his philosophies plot themes and settings such as New England and the Caribbean Russell Banks then illustrates how Banks moved beyond his working class origins and explored problems in race communication sexual and family relations religion popular culture landscape and more recently the upper class The final chapter explains Banks's unique vision of American history and liberty American Fiction in Transition Adam Kelly, 2013-04-25 American Fiction in Transition is a study of the observer hero narrative a highly significant but critically neglected genre of the American novel Through the lens of this transitional genre the book explores the 1990s in relation to debates about the end of postmodernism and connects the decade to other transitional periods in US literature Novels by four major contemporary writers are examined Philip Roth Paul Auster E L Doctorow and Jeffrey Eugenides Each novel has a similar structure an observer narrator tells the story of an important person in his life who has died But each story is equally about the struggle to tell the story to find adequate means to narrate the transitional quality of the hero's life In playing out this narrative struggle each novel thereby addresses the broader problem of historical transition a problem that marks the legacy of the postmodern era in American literature and culture

Contemporary Authors: 1945 to the Present Britannica Educational Publishing, 2013-06-01 Contemporary literature encompasses so many genres literary forms and themes that it would seem almost impossible to identify a unifying thread between them Yet in the tradition established by literary heavyweights who came before modern writers of all stripes and backgrounds have continued to entertain and to confront the social cultural and psychological realities of the times including everything from racial identity to war to technology with their own flair and insight The diversity of authors profiled herein from Toni Morrison to Sylvia Plath to Stephen King to David Foster Wallace attests to the scope and complexity of modern society

Religion and American Literature Since 1950 Mark Eaton, 2020-04-16 From Flannery O'Connor and James Baldwin to the post 9/11 writings of Don DeLillo imaginative writers have often been the most insightful chroniclers of the USA's changing religious life since the end of World War II Exploring a wide range of writers from Protestant Catholic Jewish and secular faiths this book is an in depth study of contemporary fiction's engagement with religious belief identity and practice Through readings of major writers of our time like Saul Bellow E L Doctorow Philip Roth Marilynne Robinson and John Updike Mark Eaton discovers a more nuanced picture of the varieties of American religious experience that they are more commonplace than cultural ideas of progressive secularisation or faith based polarization might suggest
