Creating Competitiveness Entrepreneurship And Innovation Policies For Growth:

Creating Competitiveness David B. Audretsch, Mary Walshok, 2013-02-01 Although competitiveness is typically associated with firms they are not the only organizational body whose performance is dependent upon competitiveness This poignant and insightful book focuses on how the varied economic performance of cities and regions both within nations as well as across nations during the era of the Great Recession also highlights the need for competitiveness Competitive cities and regions enjoy a superior economic performance while their less competitive counterparts experience poorer economic growth and increasing unemployment Using leading frameworks this study provides applications and case studies about what shapes the competitiveness of places in an international context Specific policies that enhance local competitiveness are identified and analyzed Scholars of regional economics urban economics urban planning and public policy as well as policymakers will find plenty of invaluable information in this invigorating book

Handbook of Regions and Competitiveness Robert Huggins, Piers Thompson, 2017-03-31 The aim of this Handbook is to take stock of regional competitiveness and complementary concepts as a means of presenting a state of the art discussion of the contemporary theories perspectives and empirical explanations that help make sense of the determinants of uneven development across regions Drawing on an international field of leading scholars the book is assembled and organized so that readers can first learn about the theoretical underpinnings of regional competitiveness and development theory before moving on to deeper discussions of key factors and principal elements the emergence of allied concepts empirical applications and the policy context

Competitive Strategies for Academic Entrepreneurship: Commercialization of Research-Based Products Szopa, Anna, 2015-09-21 In recent years the pace of technological growth from the very first stages of research and development to full scale industrial implementation has quickened at an exponential rate To better keep pace with rapidly changing market demands the gap between university research incubators and public sector start up companies has undergone a marked contraction Competitive Strategies for Academic Entrepreneurship Commercialization of Research Based Products seeks to fill the gap in research between universities and the public and offers cutting edge insight into the current state of the field Charting a course that moves from discussions of academic resistance and implications for knowledge transfer theory to current case studies of academic industrial launch pads like COTEC s Technology Commercialization Accelerator and the Maryland Industrial Partnerships program this publication targets an audience of academicians administrators researchers entrepreneurs and established professionals and seeks to provide insight into the mechanisms by which the research of today becomes the household names of tomorrow

The Oxford Handbook of Local Competitiveness David B. Audretsch, Albert N. Link, Mary Lindenstein Walshok, 2015-08-03 The local levels of economies have felt the impact of technological change and globalization These forces have triggered the need to understand the dynamic mechanisms that enable locales to respond to such changes For example the downsizing of traditional employers because of a major loss in market share due to new competitors acquisition by global firms or off shoring of production or services was traditionally thought to be beyond the scope of powers of local policy makers thinkers and business leaders In the world of practice those concerned about the economic performance of place city region or state are increasingly focused on how to adapt to these trends and leverage their existing resources to respond to these global challenges as a positive opportunity The Oxford Handbook of Local Competitiveness brings together some of the leading minds in the fields of business economics and the social sciences to identify articulate and analyze what influences and shapes local competitiveness and what places can do to enhance their economic performance The contributors to the Handbook provide a body of systematic analyses suggesting that the local context is a critical element of the forces that shape competitiveness The challenges to generate and sustain economic performance vary across places and the factors and conditions that either enhance or impede competitiveness also are place specific Finally the characteristics and nature of what constitutes success also vary across places This Handbook is essential reading material for academics in the fields of economics and public policy as well as business leaders who hope to gain a more in depth understanding of their field Informative and intellectually rigorous The Oxford Handbook of Local Competitiveness is the definitive volume of scholarly analysis regarding the relationship between place and economic competition
