Cry Myself to Sleep: He had to escape. They would never hurt him again. Joe Peters,2009-04-30 The next book from the number one bestselling author of Cry Silent Tears Popular Trauma Culture Anne Rothe,2011-09-15 In Popular Trauma Culture Anne Rothe argues that American Holocaust discourse has a particular plot structure characterized by a melodramatic conflict between good and evil and embodied in the core characters of victim survivor and perpetrator and that it provides the paradigm for representing personal experiences of pain and suffering in the mass media The book begins with an analysis of Holocaust clichés including its political appropriation the notion of vicarious victimhood the so called victim talk rhetoric and the infusion of the composite survivor figure with Social Darwinism Readers then explore the embodiment of popular trauma culture in two core mass media genres daytime TV talk shows and misery memoirs Rothe conveys how victimhood and suffering are cast as trauma kitsch on talk shows like Oprah and as trauma camp on modern day freak shows like Springer The discussion also encompasses the first scholarly analysis of misery memoirs the popular literary genre that has been widely critiqued in journalism as pornographic depictions of extreme violence Currently considered the largest growth sector in book publishing worldwide many of these works are also fabricated And since forgeries reflect the cultural entities that are most revered the book concludes with an examination of fake misery memoirs Crying in the Dark Jamie Phillips, Joe Peters, 2008 At fourteen he finally found the courage to run away hiding in a hut by a railway line fed on scraps by some local children who found him Joe's is the ultimate insider's story casting light into the darkest of hidden worlds and a truly inspirational account of how one small boy found the strength to overcome almost impossible odds and become a remarkable man Now that he has found his voice again Joe speaks out against child abuse and helps support and protect other children whose lives have been blighted by it
