SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

CENTRO Journal of the Center for Puerto Rican Studies is a multidisciplinary, bilingual, refereed publication of the Center for Puerto Rican Studies. The journal welcomes scholarly articles in the humanities, and the social and natural sciences, as well as interpretive essays, interviews, fiction, book review essays, and artwork that address the Puerto Rican experience on the island and throughout the Diaspora. We are especially receptive to works that compare Puerto Ricans with other groups. While primarily an academic journal, we encourage submissions in a style accessible to a broad audience.

CENTRO Journal (ISSN: 1538-6279) is indexed or abstracted by over twenty services.

Information for Authors: Manuscripts submitted to CENTRO Journal should not be under simultaneous consideration by any other journal or have been published elsewhere. CENTRO Journal has the right to first publication of all submitted manuscripts. Submission of a manuscript to CENTRO Journal is taken to indicate the author's commitment to publish in this journal. When submitting work, specify in the cover letter whether the work is an academic essay, an interpretive essay, an interview, or fiction. All manuscripts are reviewed anonymously. Manuscripts may be submitted either electronically (in the form of a Word or Word Perfect document, sent as an attachment) or in two printed copies with an accompanying disk—the hard copy and the electronic copy need to be identical. Authors are encouraged to submit articles electronically. When submitting electronically, indicate the word processing program, and version, used. Submissions are accepted in either English or Spanish. Please allow between three and six months for editorial consideration. Manuscripts will not be returned unless accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Manuscript Form: Manuscripts are accepted in any of the standard styles of the pertinent discipline/genre. Scholarly articles should meet the conventions of The Chicago Manual of Style or the Modern Language Association Style Manual. Double-spacing is required for all materials, including quotations, references cited, notes, captions, and headings. The main text should not exceed 35 double-spaced pages. The font used should be standard 12 point. Do not break words at the end of the typed lines, and do not right-justify the text. Use one side only of good quality bond paper. Paper must be 8 1/2 x 11 in. (21.6 x 28 cm), with at least a one-inch margin on all four edges. Authors submitting from countries where other larger sizes of paper are the standard may send the manuscript in them. Isolated words and phrases in a language other than the one the essay is written should be set in italics if they are unfamiliar to readers. When typing be sure to distinguish between the digit 1 and the letter l (also o and O); use tabs for indents, not spaces; and display titles and headings in a consistent manner.

Title Page: Give title, author(s), institutional affiliation(s), current mailing address, and e-mail address. Give acknowledgments at the bottom of this page (these comprise the first unnumbered paragraph of the notes); the Editor will place them with the notes (if the paper is accepted).

Abstract: Each article-length manuscript must begin with an abstract—a 75-to 100-word summary of the essential points and findings of the paper. The abstract should end with a bracketed list of up to seven index words or phrases ("key words").

Text References: These (including references to personal communications) are placed in the body of the text, not as notes. For each quotation or statement specific enough to need a reference, place the citation in parentheses (author's name, year of publication of work quoted or referred to, page(s) cited), thus (Pérez 2001) or (Pérez 2001:47–57). For more than three authors, use et al. For institutional authorship, supply the minimum identification from the beginning of the complete citation: (U.S. Bureau of the Census, 1993:117). With more than one reference to an author in the same year, distinguish them by use of letters (a, b) attached to the year of publication: (Zentella 1990a: 75–92). Enclose a series of references within a single pair of parentheses, separated by semicolons: (Torres 1997; Uricuoli 1998; Zentella 1997).

Notes: All notes follow the text, beginning on a new page, and are to be used only for substantive observations. Notes are numbered consecutively throughout the text by superscript numerals. Try to limit the use of endnotes as much as possible.

References: The "References" section must begin on a new page, and all entries must be double-spaced, listed alphabetically by last name of senior author, and chronologically for two or more titles by the same author(s). Do not include any publication not cited in the text, and all publications in the "References" section must appear on the text. The typed layout should conform to the printed layout as follows:

- Alicia, Maritza. 1997. 'A Chambered Nautilus': The Contradictory Nature of Puerto Rican Women's Roles in the Construction of a Transnational Community. Gender & Society 11(5): 597–626.
