Celts Art And Identity:

Celts Julia Farley, Fraser Hunter, 2015 A beautifully illustrated study of Celtic arts style development and revival and the relationship between art objects and identity covering 2500 years of history Arts and the Nation Alan Riach, Alexander Moffatt, John Purser, 2017-10-26 A panorama of ideas about nationality and culture Arts and the Nation arose from the conviction that Scotland can never be really democratic until it gives the arts the priority of place and attention they demand This book is a fresh take on subjects new and old with multifaceted ideas of nationality and culture Those featured include William Dunbar Duncan Ban MacIntyre and Elizabeth Melville are read alongside international authors such as Wole Soyinka and Edward Dorn J D Fergusson Joan Eardley and John Bellany are considered with American Alice Neel and the art of the ancient Celts Composers like John Blackwood McEwen Cecil Coles and Helen Hopekirk are introduced amongst discussions of education politics social priorities the mass media and different genres of writing What was the real reason Robert Louis Stevenson dedicated his dark masterpiece to his cousin Katharine de Mattos Why was Katharine s own tale of duality published under a pseudonym When Fanny Stevenson stole another story idea from Katharine why did RLS explode with Hyde-like rage at the cousin for whom he had once been the one that loves you Jekyll and not Hyde Featuring the full text of Katharine s tale of duality Fanny s stolen story and another tale revealing Katharine s grief at losing her cousin s love forever Mrs Jekyll Cousin Hyde sheds new light on one of the greatest Victorian authors Barbaric Splendour: The Use of Image Before and After Rome Toby F. Martin, Wendy Morrison, 2020-06-11 This book comprises a collection of essays comparing late Iron Age and Early Medieval art Fundamentally the book asks what making images meant on the fringe of the expanding or contracting Roman empire particularly as the art from both periods drew heavily from but radically transformed imperial imagery Eastern European Perspectives on Celtic Studies Michael Hornsby, Karolina Rosiak, 2019-01-08 This volume brings together contributions from a range of scholars not only from the Celtic heartlands but further afield such as Austria Canada and Poland The chapters are based upon a number of presentations on a wide range of Celtic Studies given at a conference in Pozna Poland in October 2014 The book as such emphasizes the international aspect of the field and highlights the relatively strong position of Celtic Studies in Poland through the inclusion of Polish scholars working on Irish and Breton and by introducing an academic audience to the conversation on Celtic matters which was held recently on Polish soil Celtic Studies are currently undergoing a series of changes with respect to the approaches adopted and the field is brought into question in this volume with an examination of the notion of Celtoscepticism which as pointed out when tackled in the right way can breathe new life into the subject and can be viewed as a positive movement As such a number of contributions here problematize the changes in thinking of many linguists over the concept of who is a speaker of a Celtic language and how well they speak it as well as the connection between traditional Celtic cultural practices and the concept of well being The volume also provides chapters on Mediaeval Celtic Studies which showcase the work of a number of emerging scholars in the field who examine various aspects of Celtic textuality in Mediaeval Scotland Brittany and Wales Indeed this book gives voice to a number of early career scholars placing them carefully alongside more established scholars in the field in order to show the continuation of established methods of investigation "Landscape, Art and Identity in 1950s Britain " Catherine Jolivet,2017-07-05 During the years following World War II debates about the British landscape fused with questions of national identity as the country reconstructed its sense of self For better or for worse artists statesmen and ordinary citizens saw themselves reflected in the landscape and in turn helped to shape the way that others envisioned the land While landscape art is frequently imagined in terms of painting this book examines the role of landscape in terms of a broader definition of visual culture to include the discussion not only of works of oil on canvas but also prints sculpture photography advertising fashion journalism artists biographies and the multi media stage of the national exhibition Making extensive use of archival materials newspaper reviews radio broadcasts interviews with artists letters and exhibition planning documents Catherine Jolivet explores the intersection of landscape art with a variety of discourses including the role of women in contemporary society the status of immigrant artists in Britain developments in science and technology and the promotion of British art and culture abroad A Cultural Encyclopedia of Lost Cities and Civilizations Michael Shally-Jensen,Anthony Vivian,2022-11-11 A stimulating volume for readers interested in lost cultures or climate change s role in the past and present Library Journal This volume explores the span of human history and plenty of prehistory searching out prominent and fascinating examples of cities or broader civilizations that shifted from a position of influence to a lack thereof The accelerating threat of climate change challenges us to analyze our own communities relationships with the wider world and to contemplate their very existence This single volume cultural encyclopedia examines lost cities and civilizations from every region of the globe and dated throughout human history Arranged alphabetically the compilation allows both students and general readers easy access to detailed entries on specific lost cities and civilizations Throughout the geographically and chronologically diverse entries such themes as colonization migration and especially climate change are developed and analyzed Supplementing the main entries are sidebars detailing mythological cities and Investigative Boxes examining present day cities on the brink of extinction These round out the book s focus on disappearing cultural centers and reveal the robust relevance this material has to a world facing the crisis of climate change The Quest for the Irish Celt Mairéad Carew,2018-03-29 The Quest for the Irish Celt is the fascinating story of Harvard University s five year archaeological research programme in Ireland during the 1930s to determine the racial and cultural heritage of the Irish people The programme involved country wide excavations and the examination of prehistoric skulls by physical anthropologists and was complemented by the physical examinations of thousands of Irish people from across the country measuring skulls nose shape and grade of hair colour The Harvard scientists mission was to determine who the Celts were what was their racial type and what element in the present day population represented the descendants of the earliest inhabitants of the island Though the Harvard Mission was hugely influential there were theories of eugenics involved that would shock the modern reader The main adviser for the archaeology was Adolf Mahr Nazi and Director of the National Museum 1934 39 The overall project was managed by Earnest A Hooton famed Harvard anthropologist whose theories regarding biological heritage would now be readily condemned for their racism Mair ad Carew explores this extraordinary archaeological mission examining its historic importance for Ireland and Irish America its landmark findings and the unseemly activities that lay just beneath the surface

The Roman Occupation of Britain and its Legacy Rupert Jackson, 2020-09-03 This book tells the fascinating story of Roman Britain beginning with the late pre Roman Iron Age and ending with the province s independence from Roman rule in AD 409 Incorporating for the first time the most recent archaeological discoveries from Hadrian s Wall London and other sites across the country and richly illustrated throughout with photographs and maps this reliable and up to date new account is essential reading for students non specialists and general readers alike Writing in a clear readable and lively style with a satirical eye to strange features of past times Rupert Jackson draws on current research and new findings to deepen our understanding of the role played by Britain in the Roman Empire deftly integrating the ancient texts with new archaeological material A key theme of the book is that Rome s annexation of Britain was an imprudent venture motivated more by political prestige than economic gain such that Britain became a trophy province unable to pay its own way However the impact that Rome and its provinces had on this distant island was nevertheless profound huge infrastructure projects transformed the countryside and means of travel capital and principal cities emerged and the Roman way of life was inseparably absorbed into local traditions Many of those transformations continue to resonate to this day as we encounter their traces in both physical remains and in civic life

Art in the Eurasian Iron Age Courtney Nimura, Helen Chittock, Peter Hommel, Chris Gosden, 2020-02-28 Since early discoveries of so called Celtic Art during the 19th century archaeologists have mused on the origins of this major art tradition which emerged in Europe around 500 BC Classical influence has often been cited as the main impetus for this new and distinctive way of decorating but although Classical and Celtic Art share certain motifs many of the design principles behind the two styles differ fundamentally Instead the idea that Celtic Art shares its essential forms and themes of transformation and animism with Iron Age art from across northern Eurasia has recently gained currency partly thanks to a move away from the study of motifs in prehistoric art and towards considerations of the contexts in which they appear This volume explores Iron Age art at different scales and specifically considers the long distance connections mutual influences and shared ways of seeing that link Celtic Art to other art traditions across northern Eurasia It brings together 13 papers on varied subjects such as animal and human imagery technologies of production and the design theory behind Iron Age art balancing pan Eurasian scale commentary with regional and site scale studies and detailed analyses of individual objects as well as introductory and summary papers This multi scalar approach allows connections to be made across wide geographical areas whilst maintaining the detail required to carry out sensitive studies of objects Ceramic, Art and Civilisation Paul Greenhalgh, 2020-12-24 Full of surprises and evocative The Spectator Passionately written Apollo An extraordinary accomplishment Edmund de Waal Monumental Times Literary Supplement An epic reshaping of ceramic art Crafts An important book The Arts Society Magazine In his major new history Paul Greenhalgh tells the story of ceramics as a story of human civilisation from the Ancient Greeks to the present day As a core craft technology pottery has underpinned domesticity business religion recreation architecture and art for millennia Indeed the history of ceramics parallels the development of human society This fascinating and very human history traces the story of ceramic art and industry from the Ancient Greeks to the Romans and the medieval world Islamic ceramic cultures and their influence on the Italian Renaissance Chinese and European porcelain production modernity and Art Nouveau the rise of the studio potter Art Deco International Style and Mid Century Modern and finally the contemporary explosion of ceramic making and the postmodern potter Interwoven in this journey through time and place is the story of the pots themselves the culture of the ceramics and their character and meaning Ceramics have had a presence in virtually every country and historical period and have worked as a commodity servicing every social class They are omnipresent a ubiquitous art Ceramic culture is a clear unique definable thing and has an internal logic that holds it together through millennia Hence ceramics is the most peculiar and extraordinary of all the arts At once cheap expensive elite plebeian high tech low tech exotic eccentric comic tragic spiritual and secular it has revealed itself to be as fluid as the mud it is made from Ceramics are the very stuff of how civilized life was and is led This then is the story of human society s most surprising core causes and effects
