De Expansie Van Het Nederlands 20:

De expansie van het Nederlands Marius François Valkhoff, 1945      De expansie van het Nederlands Marius F. Valkhoff, 1943      Historical research in the Low Countries 1970-1975 Alice C. Carter, 2024-09-16

The five review articles included in this volume were produced by the Dutch History Seminar of the University of London with the assistance of several Belgian and Dutch historians. They first appeared in the volumes VI X of the Acta Historiae Neerlandicae in 1978, renamed The Low Countries History Yearbook, a periodical published by the Dutch Historical Society with the objective of bringing new publications on the history of the Low Countries in the Dutch language to the attention of English speaking historians. These articles have been republished and provided with indexes in the hope that in this form they will also prove to be useful to students of Belgian and Dutch history who have not been regular readers of the Acta. Should this publication be favourably received, a subsequent volume covering the years 1976-1981 may be issued.

Survey of recent Dutch Historiography ALICE C CARTER Editor INTRODUCTION This bibliographical article has been put together by members of the Dutch history seminar held at London University's Institute of Historical Research. The article is intended for non-Dutch reading scholars and indeed all who are interested in Netherlands history. An attempt has been made and will continue to be made to survey important works published in the year previous to that in which the article is drawn up. This year we have concerned ourselves with books or in the earlier part of 1971.

European Archaeology Abroad S.J. van der Linde, 2013-10-01

What are European archaeologists doing abroad? What have they been doing there for the past three to four centuries? Are they doing things differently nowadays? To address these questions, this book explores the scope, impact, and ethics of European archaeological policies and practices in the Mediterranean area, the Near East, sub-Saharan Africa, Asia, and Latin America. Acknowledging that international and transcultural projects have a range of different stakeholders, the first part of this book aims to identify some of the values and motivations behind different European archaeologies abroad. This is done by providing thorough historical overviews on a range of European countries including France, Spain, Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands, and Poland. But how are these values translated through socio-political, theoretical, and administrative frameworks into local circumstances in host countries? And how are these archaeological activities received locally? The second part of this book attempts to answer these questions through a range of historical and contemporary case studies in Africa, in Asia, in South America, in the Near East, and in Europe. The third part of the book offers several critical reflections on European values, motivations, and collaboration projects as perceived by archaeological heritage professionals based in and/or working in Senegal, Sudan, Somaliland, Colombia, and the Near East. This collection of historical overviews, contemporary case studies, and critical reflections focuses on the challenging relationships between archaeological practices and policies, including the requirements and wishes of archaeologists of local communities and of other stakeholders in Europe and in the host countries. In addition to researchers and students, this book should be of interest to practicing archaeologists heritage professionals and policy makers the world over as they seek to reach better informed decisions regarding archaeological projects and international collaboration This publication was produced in the framework of the ACE project Archaeology in Contemporary Europe Professional Practices and Public Outreach with the support of the Culture 2007 2013 programme of the European Commission Leuvense bijdragen, 1929 Economische geschiedenis van Nederland in de 20e eeuw J.
