Designing Assessment For Quality Learning The Enabling Power Of Assessment:

Designing Assessment for Quality Learning Claire Wyatt-Smith, Valentina Klenowski, Peta Colbert, 2014-03-10 This book brings together internationally recognised scholars with an interest in how to use the power of assessment to improve student learning and to engage with accountability priorities at both national and global levels It includes distinguished writers who have worked together for some two decades to shift the assessment paradigm from a dominant focus on assessment as measurement towards assessment as central to efforts to improve learning These writers have worked with the teaching profession and in so doing have researched and generated key insights into different ways of understanding assessment and its relationship to learning The volume contributes to the theorising of assessment in contexts characterised by heightened accountability requirements and constant change The book s structure and content reflect already significant and growing international interest in assessment as contextualised practice as well as theories of learning and teaching that underpin and drive particular assessment approaches Learning theories and practices assessment literacies teachers responsibilities in assessment the role of leadership and assessment futures are the organisers within the book s structure and content The contributors to this book have in common the view that quality assessment and quality learning and teaching are integrally related Another shared view is that the alignment of assessment with curriculum teaching and learning is linchpin to efforts to improve both learning opportunities and outcomes for all Essentially the book presents new perspectives on the enabling power of assessment In so doing the writers recognise that validity and reliability the traditional canons of assessment remain foundational and therefore necessary However they are not of themselves sufficient for quality education The book argues that assessment needs to be radically reconsidered in the context of unprecedented societal change Increasingly communities are segregating more by wealth with clear signs of social political economic and environmental instability These changes raise important issues relating to ethics and equity taken to be core dimensions in enabling the power of assessment to contribute to quality learning for all This book offers readers new knowledge about how assessment can be used to re engage learners across all phases of education Local Research and Glocal Perspectives in English Language Teaching Rubina Khan, Ahmed Bashir, Bijoy Lal Basu, Md. Elias Uddin, 2023-01-01 This book provides an overview of recent trends and developments in the field of English language education It showcases research endeavors from a heterogenous group of scholars from different parts of the world and brings together perspectives from both experienced and emerging scholars This book provides a platform for established as well as emerging practitioners and scholars in the field of English Language Teaching to share their research It synthesizes local expertise and culture with innovative ideas from other contexts and brings theory and practice together in one volume Toward a Reconceptualization of Second Language Classroom Assessment Matthew E. Poehner, Ofra Inbar-Lourie, 2020-02-03 This book responds to the call for praxis in L2 education by documenting recent and ongoing projects around the world that see partnership with classroom teachers as the essential driver for continuing to develop both classroom assessment practice and conceptual frameworks of assessment in support of teaching and learning. Taken together these partnerships shape the language assessment literacy the knowledge and skills required for theorizing and conducting assessment activities of both practitioners and researchers. While united by their orientation to praxis the chapters offer considerable diversity with regard to languages taught learner populations included varying in age and proficiency level specific innovations covered research methods employed and countries in which the work was conducted. As a whole the book presents a way of engaging in research with practitioners that is likely to stimulate interest among not only language assessment scholars but also those studying second language education and language teacher education as well as language teaching professionals themselves.

National Testing in Schools Bob Lingard, Greg Thompson, Sam Sellar, 2015-11-06 Over the last two decades large scale national or provincial standardised testing has become prominent in the schools of many countries around the globe. National Testing in Schools An Australian Assessment draws on research to consider the nature of national testing and its multiple effects including media responses and constructions such as league tables of performance pressures within school systems and on schools effects on the work and identities of principals and teachers and impacts on the experience of schooling for many young people including those least advantaged. Using Australia as the case site for global concerns regarding national testing this book will be an invaluable companion for education researchers teacher educators teacher education students and teachers globally.

Global Inclusive Education Jordi Collet, Mila Naranjo, Jesús Soldevila-Pérez, 2022-08-12 This book addresses issues related to school inclusion from the perspective of systemic inclusion. It focuses on the need to face the challenges of inclusion in education from a broad perspective including the classroom the school as an institution families and the community. It also pays attention to the full interactions between them. The book demonstrates how inclusion can be carried out in very real concrete and everyday ways. It also shows how researchers can work hand in hand with the professionals and other stakeholders who are developing their practices day by day. The book draws on a range of research projects of the Spanish and international research groups to provide both rich theoretical frameworks and rigorous research outcomes related to the four dimensions of the systemic inclusion perspective and its necessary networking classroom school families and the community. Most of the chapters take Spain as the case study but far from being a local book it uses Spanish analysis to dialogue universally with current main debates and challenges in inclusion almost 30 years after the Salamanca Statement.

Innovation in Language Learning and Teaching Hayo Reinders, David Nunan, Bin Zou, 2017-09-08 This book evaluates the origins of processes of change in language teaching in China and the factors influencing their success. Examining diverse experiences and drawing on the perspectives of academics from the top institutions in the country the authors analyse the complex interplay between global and local influences on language policies. Encouraging discussion of the significant education reforms that have taken place in China in recent years this work will be of interest to students and scholars of language education English as a Second Language and applied linguistics Teacher Learning with Classroom Assessment Heng Jiang, Mary F. Hill, 2018-04-19 This book discusses the interwoven themes of teacher learning and classroom assessment highlighting the complexity and intricacy of these processes in a range of very different classroom contexts The case studies demonstrate how classroom assessment is needed for teachers to learn about teaching and for them to be able to grow professionally and improve student learning Although this volume is mainly situated in the unique and varied contexts of the Asia Pacific region it addresses the key issues of quality teaching assessment and accountability in a global context Curriculum Flexibility and Autonomy Promoting a Thriving Learning Environment OECD, 2024-08-19 For the first time the OECD Future of Education and Skills 2030 project conducted comprehensive curriculum analyses through the co creation of new knowledge with a wide range of stakeholders including policy makers academic experts school leaders teachers NGOs social partners and most importantly students This report is one of six in a series presenting the first ever comparative data on curriculum at the content level It summarises existing literature explores trends in curriculum adaptation addresses challenges and strategies for effective implementation and offers policy insights drawn from real world experiences of curriculum reforms This report explores curriculum flexibility and autonomy in global education systems assessing how curricula adapt to diverse educational needs and contexts It maps the stakeholders who influence decision making on curriculum flexibility and discusses dilemmas faced by policymakers and practitioners between curriculum prescription and autonomy Drawing on international examples it illustrates how flexible curricula can enhance teaching effectiveness and inclusivity It emphasises key strategies such as enhanced teacher training and collaborative policymaking necessary for flexible curricula to meet educational needs It also identifies critical factors such as clear goals accountability mechanisms and societal support which are crucial for successful curriculum implementation Learning to Assess

Christopher DeLuca, Jill Willis, Bronwen Cowie, Christine Harrison, Andrew Coombs, 2024-01-01 This book presents a new framework for how teachers develop their assessment capacity based on a multi year study conducted in four countries Australia Canada England and New Zealand which focused on student teacher learning in assessment throughout their initial teacher education programs It examines how teacher learning is shaped by the complex dynamics of assessment capacity within larger teacher education contexts The framework proposed here identifies four domains involved in cultivating assessment capacity and characterizes assessment learning as always integrating cognitive philosophical and moral dimensions with assessment's social emotional and physical dimensions while recognizing that each capacity is continually shaped by the learning context The book draws on the survey of teacher education programs in each of the four focal countries and data from student teachers to shed light on how the various pedagogies program structures and policies encountered provide beginning teachers with codes for classifying and framing assessment capacity and form a template for developing this capacity throughout their careers Offering suggestions for future research and teacher education practice the book concludes with an outlook on future steps to cultivate teachers assessment capacity Handbook of Research on Assessment Literacy and Teacher-Made Testing in the Language Classroom White, Eddy, Delaney, Thomas, 2018-11-23 The evaluation of student performance and knowledge is a critical element of an educator s job as well as an essential step in the learning process for students The quality and effectiveness of the evaluations given by educators are impacted by their ability to create and use reliable and valuable evaluations to facilitate and communicate student learning The Handbook of Research on Assessment Literacy and Teacher Made Testing in the Language Classroom is an essential reference source that discusses effective language assessment and educator roles in evaluation design Featuring research on topics such as course learning outcomes learning analytics and teacher collaboration this book is ideally designed for educators administrative officials linguists academicians researchers and education students seeking coverage on an educator s role in evaluation design and analyses of evaluation methods and outcomes
