The Turnaround ToolKit Lynn Winters, Joan Herman, 2011 Lynn Winters's and Joan Herman's The Turnaround Toolkit is written for school leaders who are focused on transforming instruction and who may be working under significant time constraints to reverse declining student achievement or public perceptions of school failure. Based on the evidence that simply implementing continuous improvement is not enough to close the achievement gap, The Turnaround Toolkit provides a nine-step formative evaluation program designed to achieve an immediate and consistent focus on improving instruction in order to bolster student achievement. In a straightforward and accessible fashion, Herman and Winters explain three overarching Turnaround Tasks that frame these steps and the necessary and sometimes drastic actions that must be taken by school leaders as they use data to strategically choose, implement, monitor, and revise school interventions. A dedicated online toolkit offers numerous worksheets and templates that support each stage of the process and help school leaders scaffold the work of educators to put an aggressive turnaround plan into action, while a leadership guide at the end of the book provides guidance to turnaround teams and facilitators.

Toward Human-Level Artificial Intelligence Eitan Michael Azoff, 2024-09-18
Is a computer simulation of a brain sufficient to make it intelligent? Do you need consciousness to have intelligence? Do you need to be alive to have consciousness? This book has a dual purpose. First, it provides a multi-disciplinary research survey across all branches of neuroscience and AI research that relate to this book's mission of bringing AI research closer to building a human-level AI (HLAI) system. It provides an encapsulation of key ideas and concepts and provides all the references for the reader to delve deeper. Much of the survey coverage is of recent pioneering research. Second, the final part of this book brings together key concepts from the survey and makes suggestions for building HLAIs. This book provides accessible explanations of numerous key concepts from neuroscience and artificial intelligence research, including the focus on visual processing and thinking and the possible role of brain lateralization toward visual thinking and intelligence, diffuse decision making by ensembles of neurons, the inside-out model to give HLAIs an inner life, and the possible role for cognitive architecture implementing the scientific method through the plan-do-check-act cycle within that model, learning to learn, a neuromodulation feature such as a machine equivalent of dopamine that reinforces learning, the embodied HLAIs machine, a neurorobot that interacts with the physical world as it learns. This book concludes by explaining the hypothesis that computer simulation is sufficient to take AI research further toward HLAIs and that the scientific method is our means to enable that progress. This book will be of great interest to a broad audience, particularly neuroscientists and AI researchers, investors in AI projects, and lay readers looking for an accessible introduction to the intersection of neuroscience and artificial intelligence.
