A Legislative History of the Taiwan Relations Act Martin B. Gold, 2016-12-27 As 1979 dawned President Jimmy Carter extended diplomatic recognition to the People's Republic of China upending longstanding U.S. foreign policy in Asia For thirty years after the triumph of Mao's revolution the United States continued to recognize the claim of the Republic of China based on Taiwan to govern the entire country Intricate economic and cultural relations existed between Washington and Taipei backed by a Mutual Defense Treaty While Carter withdrew from the treaty satisfying a core Chinese condition for diplomatic relations he presented Congress with legislation to allow other ties with Taiwan to continue unofficially Many in Congress took issue with the President Generally supportive of his policy to normalize relations with China they worried about Taiwan's future Believing Carter's legislation was incomplete especially regarding Taiwan's security they held extensive hearings and lengthy debates substantially strengthening the bill The President ensured the measure comported with the terms of normalization He negotiated with Congress to produce legislation he could sign and Beijing could at least tolerate Although the final product enjoyed broad consensus in Congress fights over amendments were fierce and not always to the President's advantage Passage of the Taiwan Relations Act stabilized America's position in Asia and its situation with Taipei while allowing the new China to be properly launched Now in its fourth decade the Act remains highly impactful on the leading bilateral relationship in the world The United States Constitution makes Congress the President's partner in shaping American foreign policy The Taiwan Relations Act of 1979

vividly demonstrates how robust congressional engagement and inter Branch cooperation leads to stronger and more durable policy outcomes which enjoy a greater degree of public acceptance
