book provides the reader with an authoritative text that includes important and useful concepts and research findings. Emphasis is placed on language development in children who are learning languages other than or in addition to English as well as children with risk factors for language delay or disorder. The text leads the reader through every stage of development: the early months before children begin to speak, the preschool and school years, and adolescence as children achieve mastery of adult-like language skills.

Key Features: Chapter pedagogy includes learning objectives, visual aids, video links, summaries, and suggested projects to extend students' understanding and application of text concepts. Key terms are highlighted in the text with definitions provided in a Glossary. Clear and concise writing by authors who are known for their research in the subject area and their ability to explain complex topics to a broad audience. A multilingual and multicultural focus on acquisition in languages other than English, on non-mainstream varieties of English, and on children learning two or more languages simultaneously, bilingualism, as well as children with developmental communication disorders.

New to the Tenth Edition: Restructure of chapters to streamline information. Greater in-depth coverage of concepts that are frequently more difficult for students to master. Updated references to new research and the current literature. References are now at the end of each chapter. New and updated figures and photos. Coverage of the latest technological advances in basic research and clinical practice in child language.

The Turfan Dialect of Uyghur Abdurishid Yakup, 2005. This volume presents a synchronic description of the phonology, morphology, and lexicon of a local variety of modern Uyghur which is mainly spoken in Turfan, one of the famous ancient cultural centres in the Silk Road. It includes three descriptive chapters: a rather large corpus of texts and a dialect vocabulary. Descriptive chapters focus mainly on actual and uniform phonological, morphological, and lexical features distinguishing this local dialect from the standard form and other regional varieties of modern Uyghur, whereas the text part provides a comprehensive and reliable linguistic sample of all possible regional varieties of the Turfan dialect and presents a corpus of oral history and folk literature of the Turfan region reflecting ethnological and geographical peculiarities of the local settlements. All data are given in International Phonetic Alphabet together with a direct translation as well as with linguistic and extra-linguistic explanations.

A grammar of Mandan Ryan Kasak, 2024-12-10. Mandan is a Siouan language of North Dakota near the geographic center of North America. There are no longer any first language speakers; after the last fluent speaker passed away in 2016. This grammar has been built from archival recordings of Mandan speakers from the 1960s through 2010 plus field work by the author undertaken between 2014 and 2016. The data from these various sources allowed for an in-depth description of the key aspects of the grammar of Mandan with special attention to the language's complex verbal and nominal morphology. This book also includes an overview of Mandan narrative structure culminating with an interlinear gloss of a traditional Mandan narrative and its free translation into English. This grammar is written to be used by as general an audience as possible, including Mandan.
