Student Exploration: Refraction

Learning Goals: Explore the relationship between the angle of incidence, frequency, and wavelength of light. Understand how refraction affects the path of light and how it is related to the speed of light.

Prerequisite Knowledge: Students should have a basic understanding of the properties of light, including its wave nature and its speed in a vacuum.

1. What would happen if light traveled through a medium with a higher refractive index than the medium it was traveling through?

2. How does the refractive index of a medium affect the speed of light? Explain. (Hint: Refractive index is defined as the ratio of the speed of light in a vacuum to the speed of light in a medium.)

Student Exploration:

A light ray travels through a medium with a refractive index of 1.5. It then enters a medium with a refractive index of 1.0. What happens to the light ray? Explain. (Hint: The refractive index of a medium is defined as the ratio of the speed of light in a vacuum to the speed of light in the medium.)

Teacher Resources: This activity is suitable for students in grades 11-12.

3. A light ray travels through a medium with a refractive index of 1.5. It then enters a medium with a refractive index of 1.0. What happens to the light ray? Explain.

4. What happens to the speed of the light ray as it enters the new medium?

5. What happens to the wavelength of the light ray as it enters the new medium?

Conclusion: Light travels faster in a medium with a lower refractive index.

6. A light ray travels through a medium with a refractive index of 1.5. It then enters a medium with a refractive index of 1.0. What happens to the light ray? Explain. (Hint: The refractive index of a medium is defined as the ratio of the speed of light in a vacuum to the speed of light in the medium.)
