Changing Teacher Professionalism International Trends Challenges And Ways Forward:

Changing Teacher Professionalism Sharon Gewirtz, Pat Mahony, Ian Hextall, Alan Cribb, 2009-01-08 Significant changes in the policy and social context of teaching over the last 30 years have had substantial implications for teacher professionalism. As the influence of central regulation and marketisation has increased so the scope for professional influence on policy and practice has in many cases diminished. Instead teachers have had to respond to a range of other demands stemming from broader social changes including greater public scepticism towards professional authority combined with demands for public services that are more responsive to diverse cultural and social identities. This collection of work by leading international scholars in the field makes a unique contribution to understanding both how these changes are impacting on teaching and how teachers might change their practice for the better. The central premise of the book is that if research is going to be helpful in improving professional learning and the quality of teachers practice the full potential of three broad approaches to research on teacher professionalism needs to be brought to bear on these issues: research on the changing political and social context of professional work and practice; research on the working lives and lived experiences of teachers; and research on how teachers professional practices might be enhanced. In bringing together and drawing out the complementarities of these three approaches this book represents a ground breaking collection of work.

Teacher Professionalism from the Margins

Alison L. Milner, 2025-09-25 A comparative analysis of educational policy in England and Sweden this text offers insights into the possibilities of and difficulties facing of teacher unions in combatting the global crisis of teacher recruitment and retention.

Transforming Teacher Preparation Across

Nations Gerald LeTendre, Ira Lit, Rachel A. Lotan, 2025 The contributors to this volume document and analyze the evolution of an international organic network of collaborating teacher educators Educators at the Stanford Teacher Education Program launched the iSTEP Institute a professional learning and development program for teacher educators from across the globe This international movement seeks to construct and implement exemplary teacher preparation Chapter authors argue that there are several shortcomings with how we currently conceptualize 1 the nature of reform in teacher education 2 the role of theory in transforming educational institutions and 3 the transnational diffusion of innovation and best practices in teaching and teacher education They articulate a new formulation of effective systemic reform This book shows how the iSTEP Institute has been a reform catalyst for teacher preparation by embedding and transforming the key institutional components of universities NGOs foundations schools and school governance Case examples demonstrate how the activities of this reform network have transformed teacher education in several nations across the global north and south Book Features Identifies key design principles for consequential teacher preparation on a global level Offers case examples that demonstrate the power and transferability of design principles across social political and cultural contexts Elevates the power of organic relational networks as a catalyst and engine for effective reform in teacher education Draws on principles of teacher preparation from the iSTEP Institute and the Stanford Teacher Education Program STEP whose model of preparation is internationally renowned Demonstrates how effective school university partnerships can evolve to support long term reform in teacher preparation Lotan directed STEP for over a decade Lit is the current faculty director LeTendre worked with the Program for Complex Instruction during his time at Stanford Contributors comprise leading scholars of teacher education from around the world all of whom participated in the iSTEP Institute including Bjørn Strand Fernando Carnaíba Cristián Cox Karen Hammerness and Kirsti Klette

Education Policies and the Restructuring of the Educational Profession

Romuald Normand, Min Liu, Luís Miguel Carvalho, Dalila Andrade Oliveira, Louis LeVasseur, 2018-07-04 The book analyzes worldwide changes in school organization and the teaching profession and how the profession has been impacted by education policies that promote assessments and accountability It also identifies some shifts in professional positions statuses and profiles and characterizes the impact and contextualization of professional standards that shape teaching practices and the management of schools Further the book provides relevant comparative and empirical data on the restructuring of the teaching profession in an era of globalization through a critical perspective on and an overview of the main research and comparative findings across countries As such the book is not only directed to educational researchers but will also interest professionals and policymakers addressing a broader education and policy community concerned by the new aspects shaping the teaching profession in the 21st century

Critical Perspectives on Teachers and Teaching Jessica Holloway, 2024-02-08 This book draws attention to the new ways the field of education is problematising the emerging and evolving conditions that shape the work lives and identities of teachers It offers geographically diverse accounts of the teacher and teaching demonstrating what it means to do critical research well Teachers and their practice have been and continue to be important sites of critical research This book offers varied perspectives from diverse geographies to examine how teacher subjectivities are shaped by conditions of possibility Collectively they show how critiquing conditions rather than the teachers themselves provide a means for problematising the teacher while also advocating the well being of teachers as humans Contributions offer compelling examples of how critical scholars can emphasise teaching as a political and value laden exercise and therefore treat the teacher subject as also being constituted through political and value laden discourses Critical Perspectives on Teachers and Teaching offers a provocation to inspire new questions moving forward That is critical researchers have an obligation to challenge taken for granted assumptions not only by looking outwards at the policymakers edu businesses and intergovernmental agencies e g OECD but also by looking inwards and challenging their assumptions about power discourse and subjectivity This book was originally published as a special issue of Critical Studies in Education

Educating for Civic-mindedness Carolin Kreber, 2016-06-17 Imagined at their best how might professions contribute most effectively to their local and global communities and how could higher education support graduates future professionals in making this contribution The answer proposed in this book is to educate students for civic mindedness an overarching professional capability grounded in certain dispositions and qualities ideals types of knowledge and political emotions Civic mindedness and its internal counterpart the practitioner s self cultivation give rise to an engagement with professional practice that is authentic civic and democratic The tension between responsiveness or regard for others and regard for self is overcome by recognising that authentic professional identities are constructed through practices around shared purposes and ideals Drawing on a wide range of theorists including Dewey Arendt and Nussbaum professions are envisaged to play a vital role Primarily professions support society s well being by ensuring access to public goods such as local and global justice access to information health education safety housing the beauty and sustaining power of the ecological environment among others Yet professions also protect the fundamental good of citizen participation in free deliberation and decision making on issues affecting their lives The book concludes with a vision of higher education that is transformative of graduates professionals pedagogies professional practices and communities Issues of increasing social awareness are a key concern for anyone involved in teaching professionals and this book which builds best practice around a sound theoretical and philosophical framework will prove both thought provoking and practical in application Mentoring Geography

Teachers in the Secondary School Grace Healy, Lauren Hammond, Steve Puttick, Nicola Walshe, 2022-02-27 Mentoring Geography Teachers in the Secondary School supports both new and experienced mentors in developing their knowledge and skills in mentoring in geography education Within the book chapter authors critically consider how mentoring has been conceptualised and represented in policy and academic debate as well as examining how mentoring in geography education has been experienced and perceived in practice Chapters in the book explore a range of perspectives experiences and aspects of mentoring geography teachers including Critical engagement with educational policy and practice Perspectives from beginning geography teachers Mentoring as a professional development opportunity The value of engaging with the geography education community in teacher education How mentoring meetings and conversations can support beginning geography teachers in their growth and development This book is a vital source of support and inspiration for all those involved in developing the next generation of geography teachers The themes of justice agency and voice raised and engaged with implicitly and explicitly throughout this edited collection are of critical importance to mentors beginning teachers and geography education more broadly in developing and enacting a progressive vision of mentoring Educators, Professionalism and Politics Terri Seddon, John Levin, 2013 This title brings together contributions from around the world that analyse and reflect on the way curriculum is configuring and reconfiguring that world Teacher and School Resilience in an Era of Uncertainty Joanna Madalińska-Michalak, Maria Assuncao Flores, 2025-11-20 This book explores the nature of teacher and school resilience in times of uncertainty and how resilience can be nurtured within individual schools and educational systems as a whole Innovative approaches to exploring these concepts are presented as well as the role of educational research and practice in providing opportunities for sustainable peaceful and equitable growth of societies where diversity and diversification under conditions of uncertainty and risk are appreciated The book's contributors show that teacher and school resilience can be promoted through high quality teacher education and nurtured by school leaders at different levels Directions for future research are also indicated The book enriches relevant theory and research in the field of teaching teacher professional development teacher education education policy and school leadership
