Oil companies certain that great reserves of oil still lay hidden sent exploration crews called doodlebug parties throughout California to find new fields The intense competition among oil companies mandated secrecy concerning doodlebug party movements By setting explosives off in a series of holes doodlebuggers would measure the echoes and make a seismic record that might indicate the presence of oil Our new life was scary because we girls Nancy age 10 and Sunny 12 had been allowed to make the decision whether to follow our father or remain in comfortably familiar Lynwood just south of Los Angeles Still we knew that our father felt fortunate to be holding a job even one that worked a hardship on his wife and children We left our home in Southern California and headed north over the Ridge Route towing our possessions behind our car in a small canvas covered trailer Even though the security of our family unit buffered us against hardships we girls were apprehensive Still we were excited about the new life that was unfolding DOODLEBUG DAYS takes place in a California with a population of only six million The Valley towns in which we lived were small and agricultural with tight knit established families For the employed life was less complicated than it is today Radios not televisions were prominently enshrined in each living room In the small towns up and down the Valley people pulled their kitchen chairs close to their radio to listen to President Roosevelt s fireside chats as he discussed solutions to the problems that marked the era Toni Buzzeo and YOU Toni
