De Zee, 1929 Nautisch technisch tijdschrift de zee, 1974 The Future of the Law of the Sea Leo J.

Bouchez, 2013-12-01 It is no surprise that the subject The Future of the Law of the Sea meets with special interest in the Netherlands The sea is our element the roaring sea our glory as the old folksong says For a nation whose and prosperity are so closely connected with the sea it is of the fate utmost importance to which regime the nations that border upon sail and exploit the sea are subjected Until recently nobody worried about the legal regime of the sea The principle of the freedom of the sea since Hugo Grotius one of the strongest hardly assailable principles of inter national law was it not of paramount importance for the Netherlands Since the Second World War this security does not exist any more International Law is shaken in its foundations This law once anchored in the sense of justice of the then leading nations which certainly did not think similarly but to a certain extent along the same lines has been shaken by the development of groups which no longer accept these rules as the guiding principle of their actions The alarmingly scant willingness among the younger nations to accept the compulsory jurisdiction of the International Court and the scarce assignments conferred to that Court bear witness to this crisis More and more International Law is traversed by economical sociological political and power factors which are pushing aside the conceptions of law once considered stable Lijst van zeekaarten en zeevaartkundige boeken, 1860

A World at Sea Lauren Benton, Nathan Perl-Rosenthal, 2020-10-09 The past twenty five years have brought a dramatic expansion of scholarship in maritime history including new research on piracy long distance trade and seafaring cultures Yet maritime history still inhabits an isolated corner of world history according to editors Lauren Benton and Nathan Perl Rosenthal Benton and Perl Rosenthal urge historians to place the relationship between maritime and terrestrial processes at the center of the field and to analyze the links between global maritime practices and major transformations in world history A World at Sea consists of nine original essays that sharpen and expand our understanding of practices and processes across the land sea divide and the way they influenced global change The first section highlights the regulatory order of the seas as shaped by strategies of land based polities and their agents and by conflicts at sea The second section studies documentary practices that aggregated and conveyed information about sea voyages and encounters and it traces the wide ranging impact of the explosion of new information about the maritime world Probing the political symbolism of the land sea divide as a threshold of power the last section features essays that examine the relationship between littoral geographies and sociolegal practices spanning land and sea Maritime history the contributors show matters because the oceans were key sites of experimentation innovation and disruption that reflected and sparked wide ranging global change Contributors Lauren Benton Adam Clulow Xing Hang David Igler Jeppe Mulich Lisa Norling Nathan Perl Rosenthal Carla Rahn Phillips Catherine Phipps Matthew Raffety Margaret Schotte Tijdschrift toegewijd aan het zeewezen, 1835

Netherlandish Image after Iconoclasm, 1566? 672 " Mia M. Mochizuki, 2017-07-05 Debunking the myth of the stark white Protestant church interior this study explores the very objects and architectural additions that were in fact added to Netherlandish church interiors in the first century after iconoclasm In charting these additions Mia Mochizuki helps explain the impact of iconoclasm on the cultural topography of the Dutch Golden Age and by extension permits careful scrutiny of a decisive moment in the history of the image Focusing on the Great or St Bavo Church in Haarlem this interdisciplinary book draws on art history history and theology to look at the impact of iconoclasm and reformation on the process of image making in the early modern Netherlands The new objects that began to appear in the early Dutch Reformed Church signaled a dramatic change in the form function and patronage of church art and testified to new roles for church government guild and resident Each chapter in the book introduces a major theme of the nascent Protestant church interior the Word made material the Word made memorial and the Word made manifest which is then explored through the painting sculpture and architecture of the early Dutch Reformed Church The text is heavily illustrated with images of the objects under discussion many of them never before published A large number of these images are from the camera of prize winning photographer Tjeerd Frederikse with additional photography courtesy of E A van Voorden This book unveils defines and reproduces a host of images previously unaddressed by scholarship and links them to more familiar and long studied Dutch paintings It provides a religious art companion to general studies of Dutch Golden Age art and lends greater depth to our understanding of iconoclasm as well as the way in which cultural artifacts and religious material culture reflect and help to shape the values of a community Taking up the challenge of an unusual category of objects for visual analysis this The Crone Library
