

The background image is a photograph of a desert landscape. A tall, light-colored concrete wall runs across the middle ground. To the left of the wall, a group of people are walking along a dirt path. The ground is sandy and reddish-brown. The sky is blue with some white clouds. The overall scene suggests a border or a place of migration.

Cultural Memories of Nonviolent Struggles A. Reading, T. Katriel, 2015-06-09 If societies have only memories of war of cruelty of violence then why are we called humankind This book marks a new trajectory in Memory Studies by examining cultural memories of nonviolent struggles from ten countries The book reminds us of the enduring cultural scripts for human agency solidarity resilience and human kindness

Memory and the Language of Contention, 2025-03-10 How does language shape the memory of activism And how do memories of hope or of repression inflect the language used by social movements in the present day This edited volume featuring international scholars across literary and cultural studies anthropology legal studies and linguistics shows how memories of activism live in the medium of language It contends that working with and working on the historical resonance of words and linguistic commonplaces is a central feature of political contention

Feminist Afterlives Red Chidgey, 2018-11-19 This book interrogates why feminist memories matter Feminist Afterlives explores how the images ideas and feelings of past liberation struggles become freshly available and transmissible In doing so Red Chidgey examines how popular feminist memories travel as digital and material resources across protest heritage media commercial and governmental sites and in connection with the concerns and conditions of the present Central case studies track repeated invocations to militant suffragettes and the We Can Do It post feminist icon over time and space Assembling interviews archival research and ethnographic accounts with provocative examples drawn from postfeminist media culture a UNESCO heritage bid protest at the London 2012 Olympic Games and activist remembrance in zines and blogs this is a broad ranging study of restless feminist pasts both real and imagined Richly researched and argued this volume offers an original framework of assemblage memory and sets out a new research agenda for the intersections between everyday activism protest and memory practices

Animal Crossing: New Horizons Noah Wardrip-Fruin, 2025-10-09 Can a game take care of us And do we want it to Animal Crossing New Horizons was released on March 20 2020 just as a pandemic kept many from family work restaurants and the rest of their regularly scheduled lives At its height the game averaged one million copies sold per day as players sought comfort escape and a virtual means of connection In this book game scholar Noah Wardrip Fruin isolated with his family by both lockdown and disability explores the power of this game and the mixed emotions of a player and a parent trying to make it from one day to the next while his kids obsession with Animal Crossing creates conflicts between them and pushback against family rules Wardrip Fruin helps both Animal Crossing fans and newcomers understand the unexpected beneath the game s surface like the story of the first Animal Crossing codesigned by an absent father seeking connection like the hallmarks of video game manipulation from streak bonuses to game determined playtimes like the appeal of endless shopping in a kind of safe capitalism and of course like the character quirks of a raccoon dog Tom Nook who provides a world of both safety and strange paternalism For many this blockbuster game offered a comforting world compared to a reality of danger In this first entry in the Replay series

Wardrip Fruin offers an absorbing investigation of a game's role in contemporary social life and a book that belongs on the shelf of anyone who loves or is puzzled by this Nintendo sensation      Screening Queer Memory Anamarija

Horvat, 2021-04-22 In Screening Queer Memory Anamarija Horvat examines how LGBTQ history has been represented on screen and interrogates the specificity of queer memory. She poses several questions: How are the pasts of LGBTQ people and communities visualised and commemorated on screen? How do these representations comment on the influence of film and television on the construction of queer memory? How do they present the passage of memory from one generation of LGBTQ people to another? Finally, which narratives of the queer past, particularly of the activist past, are being commemorated and which obscured? Horvat exemplifies how contemporary British and American cinema and television have commented on the specificity of queer memory, how they have reflected aspects of its construction as well as participated in its creation. In doing so, she adds to an under-examined area of queer film and television research which has privileged concepts of nostalgia, history, temporality and the archive over memory. Films and television shows explored include Cheryl Dunye's The Watermelon Woman 1996, Todd Haynes' Velvet Goldmine 1998, Joey Soloway's Transparent 2014-2019, Matthew Warchus' Pride 2014 and Tom Rob Smith's London Spy 2015      Asian American Film Festivals Erin Franziska Högerle, 2020-10-26

Responding to a lack of studies on the film festival's role in the production of cultural memory, this book explores different parameters through which film festivals shape our reception and memories of films. By focusing on two Asian American film festivals, this book analyzes the frames of memory that festivals create for their films, constructed through and circulated by the various festival media. It further establishes that festival locations, both cities and screening venues, play a significant role in shaping our experience of films. Finally, it shows that festivals produce performances which help guide audiences towards certain readings and direct the film's role as a memory object. Bringing together film festival studies and memory studies, Asian American Film Festivals offers a mixed methods approach with which to explore the film festival phenomenon, thus shedding light on the complex dynamics of frames, locations and performances shaping the festival's memory practices. It also draws attention to the understudied genre of Asian American film festivals, showing how these festivals actively engage in constructing and performing a minority group's collective identity and memory      The United Red Army on Screen: Cinema, Aesthetics and The Politics of Memory Christopher Perkins, 2015-09-17

This book investigates how films made about the URA since the 1990s have engaged with reproduced and contested cultural memories of the organisation, discussing how directors have addressed questions of narrativization, trauma, intergenerational connection and political subjectivity as they engage in the politics of cultural memory on screen      Qualitative Research Methods for Media Studies Bonnie S.

Brennen, 2025-01-20 This fully updated fourth edition provides students and researchers with the tools they need to perform critically engaged, theoretically informed research using methods that include interviewing, focus groups, historical research, oral histories, textual analysis, ethnography and participant observation and digital ethnography and netnography. chapter features step by step instructions that integrate theory with practice as well as a case study drawn from published research demonstrating best practices for media scholars Readers will also find in depth discussions of the challenges and ethical issues that may confront researchers using a qualitative approach With new case studies and examples throughout this fourth edition also includes updated and expanded material on performing data analysis how to analyze and understand research findings performing social media research and the use of big data and Artificial Intelligence A I This includes a brand new chapter on generative A I which examines recent advancements and technological developments and considers ways qualitative researchers can use it for their research A comprehensive and accessible guide for those hoping to explore this rich vein of research methodology this book provides students and scholars with all the tools they need to be able to work with in today s convergent media environment

Memory in a Mediated World Andrea Hajek,Christine

Lohmeier,Christian Pentzold,2016-02-10 Considering both retrospective memories and the prospective employment of memories Memory in a Mediated World examines troubled times that demand resolution recovery and restoration Its contributions provide empirically grounded analyses of how media are employed by individuals and social groups to connect the past the present and the future

Civil Society and Memory in Postwar Germany Jenny Wüstenberg,2017-09-07

Blending history and social science this book tracks the role of social movements in shaping German public memory and values since 1945 Drawn from extensive original research it offers a fresh perspective on the evolution of German democracy through civic confrontation with the violence of its past Told through the stories of memory activists the study upends some of the conventional wisdom about modern German political history An analysis of the decades long struggle over memory and democracy shows how grassroots actors challenged and then took over public institutions of memorialization In the process confrontation of the Holocaust has been pushed to the centre of political culture In unified Germany memory politics have shifted again as activists from East Germany have brought attention to the crimes of the East German state This book delivers a novel and important contribution to scholarship about postwar Germany and the wider study of memory politics
