researchers and educators in applied linguistics TESOL and language education The English Teachers RF Duncan-Goodwillie,2020-07-08 English teaching encompasses a variety individuals and contexts Much has been written about their jobs how to teach what to teach etc but very little about the people themselves until now In a series of interviews with current and former English teachers conducted in locations ranging from Rhode Island to Northern Iraq Rory Fergus Duncan Goodwillie provides an insight into the lives of the English teachers The Indigo Memoirs Dexter Blithe,2016-01-14 This novel titled The Indigo Memoirs details anecdotes events thoughts opinions experiences and memories that have occurred during my life The book retells my travels over Australia and other parts of the world including Greece and Japan It includes my struggles at school as well as my personal and intimate experiences There is something for everyone in this book There elements of comedy suspense lust and action There are elements of spirituality and theology and the material is graphic and heavy at times The Indigo Memoirs tells the story of who I am and how I became who I am

Reflective Practice in English Language Teaching Steve Mann,Steve Walsh,2017-06-27 Offering a unique data led evidence based approach to reflective practice in English language teaching this book brings together theory research and practice in an accessible way to demonstrate what reflective practice looks like and how it is undertaken in a range of contexts Readers learn how to do and to research reflective practice in their own settings Through the use of data dialogue and appropriate tools the authors show how reflective practice can be used as an ongoing teaching tool that supports professional self development Success on your Certificate Course in English Language Teaching Caroline Brandt,2006-07-04 Extremely comprehensive and well written in terms of style accessible to the reader but intelligent and expressing some fairly subtle concepts Would that more ELT practitioners could do the same Certainly a good read for those thinking about and also those engaged in initial training or even post initial training stage Jenny Pugsley Head of TESOL Trinity College London It s essential reading whether you are simply curious about what is involved in training in ELT need advice on choosing the right course have already enrolled and want to make the most of your course or are a new teacher just starting out It s a book I wish I d had when I was starting out in my ELT career and that I wish had been available to many of the course participants I have tutored Lyn Strutt ELT author and Chair of the British Council Families Association Each year thousands of people all over the world take one of the hundreds of available short pre service courses that lead to the award of a certificate in English Language Teaching ELT or Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages TESOL Caroline Brandt s book is an invaluable guide to anyone thinking of enrolling on one of these courses With a clear and concise structure that follows your general interest in TESOL right through to the intricacies of the course itself it can be used from initial research stages to final qualifications and beyond Brandt s decades of experience in this field across the globe shine through Chapters include introducing English Language Teaching becoming qualified knowing your certificate course getting started learning working together being qualified Throughout the book there are snapshots of students experiences in their own words and summaries of key points for you to take with you whether into the next stage of learning or the next day's teaching. The chapters are stand-alone resources as well as the building blocks to becoming a fully qualified English Language teacher. The book is supported by a companion website which provides quizzes to test understanding of each chapter, lesson plan proformas, a full glossary and annotated website links. Assessing Language Teachers'

Professional Skills and Knowledge Rosemary Wilson, Monica Poulter, 2015-01-31. The growth in English language teaching worldwide and the related increase in teacher training programmes of all kinds highlight the need for greater accountability in the assessment of teachers. The need for formal summative assessment has taken on greater importance in training programmes and requires procedures which do not always sit easily with the development process while transparency of assessment procedures is also increasingly demanded by the candidates themselves. This edited volume discusses key issues in assessing language teachers' professional skills and knowledge and provides case study illustrations of how teacher knowledge and teaching skills are assessed at pre-service and in-service levels within the framework of the Cambridge English Teaching Qualifications. The volume provides discussion of ways in which the changing nature of English language teaching has impacted on teacher education and assessment, examples of specific assessment procedures for both teaching knowledge and practical classroom skills, accounts of the ways in which the Cambridge English Teaching Qualifications have been integrated into and adapted for local contexts. This is the first volume of its kind wholly dedicated to language teacher assessment and as such will be of interest to language teachers and teacher educators as well as to researchers and postgraduate students. ELT: The Basics Michael McCarthy, Steve Walsh, 2023-10-20. ELT: The Basics offers a clear non-jargonistic introduction to English language teaching for EFL/ESL teachers in training, early career teachers, those considering taking up ELT, and experienced teachers who may want to read about the way the profession has developed and continues to evolve. Key features of this book include: Real classroom data and data from ELT training programmes; Discussion of a wide range of learning contexts and different types of learners: young learners, adults, third age, academic refugees and immigrants etc; Comparisons of different types of syllabuses and methods and discussion of current technologies; An emphasis on classroom interaction as the key to maximising learning; Featuring a glossary of key terms, cartoons and illustrations; further reading, personal reflection points and discussion of the most important and relevant research. This book is a clear and accessible introduction to the complex field of ELT. Building the Self-Efficacy Beliefs of English Language Learners and Teachers Mark Wyatt, Farahnaz Faez, 2024-02-20. Building the Self-Efficacy Beliefs of English Language Learners and Teachers explores juxtaposes and bridges two fields of research that have developed separately: the self-efficacy beliefs of English language learners and the self-efficacy beliefs of English language teachers. The aim is to expand understanding in each field and highlight how the two areas can mutually inform each other. This should encourage fresh perspectives providing direction for researchers and improving learning, teaching and teacher education. Empirical research suggests that English language learners and teachers who believe they can fulfil a task are more likely to succeed than those who believe they cannot. Based on a deep understanding of how self-efficacy beliefs are formed and developed, this book illustrates how such beliefs can be supported and researched amongst English language learners and teachers. Bringing together the work of educators and researchers working in contexts including Algeria, Bulgaria, Canada, China, Iran, Israel, Japan, Turkey, the UK, the USA and Vietnam, this volume includes meta-analyses largely focusing on quantitative data and empirical studies employing qualitative approaches and mixed methods. Studies included examine factors impacting the development of language teachers' self-efficacy beliefs and investigate domain-specific dimensions of the self-efficacy beliefs of English language learners and teachers. This rigorous and original volume will appeal to an international readership of scholars, teachers, teacher educators and researchers with interests in language education, teacher education, TESOL, linguistics and educational psychology.
