Attachment in the Preschool Years Mark T. Greenberg, Dante Cicchetti, E. Mark Cummings, 1990 This collection of original articles by leading specialists in child development brings together work from diverse backgrounds and disciplines to establish for the first time the importance of the preschool period eighteen months to four years for parent child attachment relationships Balancing theoretical research oriented and clinical papers Attachment in the Preschool Years provides valuable data and approaches for those working in a wide range of fields including developmental psychology and psychopathology child psychiatry family therapy pediatrics nursing and early childhood education There is a wealth of information and thought in this book it does not have a weak or uninteresting chapter starting with the Preface by Emde and as a whole it forms a sort of seminar John E Bates Contemporary Psychology Developments in Attachment Research Robbie Duschinsky, 2025-06-06 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 licence It is free to read at Oxford Scholarship Online and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations Developments in Attachment Research explores the contributions of several research groups in developmental science that have shaped the study of attachment and caregiving in recent decades each with a different image of the history of attachment research of the nature of attachment and why and how attachment research might be valuable In tracing changes in attachment theory over time the book examines the development of scientific evidence and breakthroughs The book also examines attachment research within developmental psychology as a culture considering its leadership kinship structures symbols conflicts points of entry or exit and the pressures and opportunities to which it has responded or failed to respond Attachment and Bonding C. Sue Carter, Lieselotte Ahnert, K. E. Grossmann, Sarah B. Hrdy, Michael E. Lamb, 2015-10-06 Scientists from different disciplines including anthropology psychology psychiatry pediatrics neurobiology endocrinology and molecular biology explore the concepts of attachment and bonding from varying scientific perspectives Attachment and bonding are evolved processes the mechanisms that permit the development of selective social bonds are assumed to be very ancient based on neural circuitry rooted deep in mammalian evolution but the nature and timing of these processes and their ultimate and proximate causes are only beginning to be understood In this Dahlem Workshop Report scientists from different disciplines including anthropology psychology psychiatry and behavioral biology come together to explore the concepts of attachment and bonding from diverse perspectives In their studies they seek to understand the causes or the consequences of attachment and bonding in general and their different qualities in individual development in particular They address such questions as biobehavioral processes in attachment and bonding early social attachment and its influences on later patterns of behavior bonding later in life and adaptive and maladaptive or pathological outcomes The studies confirm that social bonds have consequences for virtually all aspects of behavior and may be protective in the face of both physical and emotional challenges Handbook of Peer Interactions, Relationships, and Groups Kenneth H. Rubin, William M. Bukowski, Brett Laursen, 2011-01-31 This comprehensive authoritative handbook covers the breadth of theories methods and empirically based findings on the ways in which children and adolescents contribute to one another's development Leading researchers review what is known about the dynamics of peer interactions and relationships from infancy through adolescence Topics include methods of assessing friendship and peer networks early romantic relationships individual differences and contextual factors in children's social and emotional competencies and behaviors group dynamics and the impact of peer relations on achievement social adaptation and mental health Salient issues in intervention and prevention are also addressed Neurodevelopmental Disorders in Adult Women Anupriya Gogne, 2025-04-01 This book elaborates on Neurodevelopmental Disorders NDD and their treatment in adult women with a special focus on the unique clinical presentation of these problems during the Perinatal period Problems related to chronic untreated NDD during adulthood are viewed through the lens of pregnant and postpartum mothers to highlight unique struggles as their family unit expands after having children The content is based on the author's clinical experience with mothers under her psychiatric care between 2017-2024 at an outpatient practice affiliated with Brown University Comorbid psychiatric problems such as anxiety mood disorders trauma and substance use disorders are also reviewed In addition to sharing clinical anecdotes the author presents a consolidated review of scientific literature on the subject I believe that this book can be an important addition to scientific literature at this time when Neurodiversity is being explored and accepted more in society and we are more receptive to improving women's mental health Afflicted mothers as well as their treatment providers have conveyed to me the profound relief on finally getting accurate diagnosis and treatment for NDDs Several books have been published documenting the unique presentation and treatment interventions for ADHD and Autism in women however this will be the only book addressing symptomology and treatment interventions for NDD specifically during the perinatal period I have seen how successful long term treatment with a specialized team of mental health professionals can significantly improve the quality of life not just for the mother but also for the entire family unit The book will be divided into two parts Part 1 Clinical Manifestations and Symptomology in Adult Women with NDD In the first part of the book I plan to discuss the approach to diagnosis of Neurodevelopmental Disorders in General Adult Psychiatry and understand reasons for missed diagnosis especially in females I will outline my diagnostic and therapeutic approach conceptualizing NDD symptomology as variations of higher brain functioning rather than categorization of these symptoms as a disorder and contemplating potential evolutionary advantages to neurodiversity Based on my clinical practice I will discuss tools for clinical assessment including referral for neuropsychological testing and its utility in adults In addition to the DSM 5 diagnoses I will also propose conceptualizing difficulties in functioning and subjective distress in terms of symptom domains executive dysfunction hyperactivity impulsivity sensory overload and emotional regulation as reflected in day to day functioning and social interactions in the adult life of women Also differential diagnoses including Obsessive Compulsive Disorder Bipolar disorder Post Traumatic Stress Disorder PTSD and personality disorders will be discussed addressing the puzzling symptom overlap as well as genetic predisposition between these psychiatric illnesses and neurodevelopmental disorders I will describe this association using clinical case examples and later in the book propose the inclusion of trauma based interventions in treatment of Neurodevelopmental Illnesses in adult women Lastly comorbid substance use will be addressed I will highlight struggles related to complex psychopathology and dual diagnosis Given my training in Addiction Psychiatry one of my goals is also to reduce stigma and apprehension about prescribing controlled medications in patients with history of substance use disorders

Part 2 Perinatal perspective on NDD Part 2 will have a specific perinatal focus starting with a detailed description of predisposing factors Behavioral Social Psychological and Biological factors for distress in Mothers with NDD Behavioral factors include high risk behaviors that occur in untreated NDD for example a high number of unplanned pregnancies in girls and young women with untreated ADHD I will discuss the effect of societal rules and cultural expectations on maternal mental health especially during the perinatal transition I will share my clinical experiences from working with perinatal women over the past 5 years in outpatient as well as inpatient settings Given that this is the primary area of my work I can offer meaningful insights based on the subjective experience of women with untreated ADHD ASD during pregnancy and postpartum period motherhood I am not aware of any other source paper book that documents these specific perinatal experiences through the course of pregnancy and postpartum in a clinical setting like mine a behavioral health program as part of an Obstetric Hospital I believe discussion of these issues can make clinicians more sensitive to screening for and treating these ailments in adult women This has clinical relevance as I have come across several adult women who were undiagnosed and untreated during childhood but were able to manage symptoms of NDD by developing compensatory behaviors However as they grew up and the complexity of their professional and personal lives increased those compensatory mechanism became ineffective and they developed clinically significant psychological distress This is especially true during the postpartum period and early motherhood where intense internal physiological changes are accompanied by major environmental changes and increased demands on the mother Such role transition would be difficult for almost anyone but for the mother with untreated NDD and secondary anxiety depression can be much more dysregulating and interfere with daily functioning Importantly I will address issues of attachment within the mother baby dyad and the family unit as whole after the woman delivers In child psychiatry there are several studies on behavioral issues in children with neurodevelopmental disorders and treatments to improve parent child interactions and social learning However studies evaluating the attachment patterns within the mother baby dyad in women with undiagnosed and untreated NDDs are scarce I will shed light on these issues and propose potential future directions for research in the perinatal population with NDD

Lastly there is a lot of apprehension amongst prescribers about using psychiatric medications during this pregnancy and lactation Unfortunately a very common clinical presentation of these mothers to our clinic is after abrupt discontinuation of their meds followed by acute distress As a perinatal psychiatrist I will shed light on this subject with the goal of getting more prescribers comfortable with safely prescribing medications during pregnancy to prevent worsening of pre existing illnesses or new onset of severe distress Intended Audience Psychologists Psychiatrists Psychiatric Nurse Practitioners social workers ADHD coaches OB GYNs primary care physicians and pediatricians
