Denman Ross and American Design Theory Marie Ann Frank, 2011 The life and thought of one of the founders of twentieth century American design Rethinking Basic Design in Architectural Education Mine Ozkar, 2017-03-27 Rethinking Basic Design in Architectural Education provides historical and computational insights into beginning design education for architecture Inviting the readers to briefly forget what is commonly known as basic design it delivers the account of two educators Denman W Ross and Arthur W Dow from the turn of the twentieth century in Northeast America interpreting key aspects of their methodology for teaching foundations for design and art This alternate intellectual context for the origins of basic design as a precursor to computational design complements the more haptic more customized and more open source design and fabrication technologies today Basic design described and illustrated here as a form of low tech computation offers a setting for the beginning designer to consciously experience what it means to design Individualized dealings with materials tools and analytical techniques foster skills and attitudes relevant to creative and technologically adept designers The book is a timely contribution to the theory and methods of beginning design education when fast changing design and production technology demands change in architecture schools foundations curricula Histories of Architecture Education in the United States Peter L. Laurence, 2023-10-31 Histories of Architecture Education in the United States is an edited collection focused on the professional evolution experimental and enduring pedagogical approaches and leading institutions of American architecture education Beginning with the emergence of architecture as a profession in Philadelphia and ending with the early work but unfinished international effort of making room for women and people of color in positions of leadership in the field this collection offers an important history of architecture education relevant to audiences both within and outside of the United States Other themes include the relationship of professional organizations to educational institutions the legacy of late nineteenth century design concepts the role of architectural history educational changes and trans Atlantic intellectual exchanges after WWII and the Cold War the rise of the city and urban design in the architect's consciousness student protests and challenges to traditional architecture education and the controversial appearance of environmental activism This collection in other words provides a relevant history of the present with topics of concern to all architects studying and working today Amaza Lee Meredith Imagines Herself Modern Jacqueline Taylor, 2023-11-28 The extraordinary life and work of architect Amaza Lee Meredith and the role modernism and material culture played in the aspiring Black American middle class of the early twentieth century Amaza Lee Meredith Imagines Herself Modern tells the captivating story of Amaza Lee Meredith a Black woman architect artist and educator born into the Jim Crow South whose bold choices in both life and architecture expand our understanding of the Great Migration and the Harlem Renaissance while revealing the importance of architecture as a force in Black middle class identity Through her charismatic protagonist Jacqueline Taylor derives new insights into the experiences of Black women at the forefront of culture in early twentieth century America caught between expectation and ambition responsibility and desire Central to Taylor's argument is that Meredith's response to modern architecture and art like those of other Black cultural producers was not marginal to the modernist project instead her work reveals the tensions and inconsistencies in how American modernism has been defined In this way the book shines a necessary light on modernism's complexity while overturning perceived notions of race and gender in relation to the modernist project and challenging the notion of the white male hero of modern architecture

The China Collectors Karl E. Meyer, Shareen Blair Brysac, 2025-06-25 Thanks to Salem sea captains Gilded Age millionaires curators on horseback and missionaries gone native North American museums now possess the greatest collections of Chinese art outside of East Asia itself How did it happen The China Collectors is the first full account of a century long treasure hunt in China from the Opium Wars and the Boxer Rebellion to Mao Zedong's 1949 ascent The principal gatherers are mostly little known and defy invention They included foreign devils who braved desert sandstorms bandits and local warlords in acquiring significant works Adventurous curators like Langdon Warner a forebear of Indiana Jones argued that the caves of Dunhuang were already threatened by vandals thereby justifying the removal of frescoes and sculptures Other Americans include George Kates an alumnus of Harvard Oxford and Hollywood who fell in love with Ming furniture The Chinese were divided between dealers who profited from the artworks removal and scholars who sought to protect their country's patrimony Duanfang the greatest Chinese collector of his era was beheaded in a coup and his splendid bronzes now adorn major museums Others in this rich tapestry include Charles Lang Freer an enlightened Detroit entrepreneur two generations of Rockefellers and Avery Brundage the imperious Olympian and Arthur Sackler the grand acquirer No less important are two museum directors Cleveland's Sherman Lee and Kansas City's Laurence Sickman who challenged the East Coast's hegemony Shareen Blair Brysac and Karl E Meyer even handedly consider whether ancient treasures were looted or salvaged and whether it was morally acceptable to spirit hitherto inaccessible objects westward where they could be studied and preserved by trained museum personnel And how should the US and Canada and their museums respond now that China has the means and will to reclaim its missing patrimony The Tender Detail Daniel E. Snyder, 2020-06-25 The Tender Detail tells a story about the repression of sentimentality through architectural ornament The protagonists are Louis H Sullivan and Frank Lloyd Wright two of the most important architects and designers of ornament in American history Interweaving close readings of their architecture and writings with wide ranging discussions about sexuality gender and philosophy the book explores how both men worked to solve the problem of late nineteenth century ornamentation It suggests that their solutions while widely different were both intimately rooted in the tender emotions of sentimentality Viewing ornament in this way reveals much not only about Sullivan and Wright s artistic intentions but also about the role of affect the value of beauty and the agency and ontology of objects Illuminated by personal stories from their respective autobiographies which add a level of human interest unusual in an academic work The Tender Detail is a readable scholarly study which sheds fresh light on Sullivan and Wright s relationship their work and on the nature of ornament itself Chromatic Modernity Sarah Street, Joshua

Yumibe, 2019-04-02 The era of silent film long seen as black and white has been revealed in recent scholarship as bursting with color Yet the 1920s remain thought of as a transitional decade between early cinema and the rise of Technicolor despite the fact that new color technologies used in film advertising fashion and industry reshaped cinema and consumer culture In Chromatic Modernity Sarah Street and Joshua Yumibe provide a revelatory history of how the use of color in film during the 1920s played a key role in creating a chromatically vibrant culture Focusing on the final decade of silent film Street and Yumibe portray the 1920s as a pivotal and profoundly chromatic period of cosmopolitan exchange collaboration and experimentation in and around cinema Chromatic Modernity explores contemporary debates over color s artistic scientific philosophical and educational significance It examines a wide range of European and American films including Opus 1 1921 L Inhumaine 1923 Die Nibelungen 1924 The Phantom of the Opera 1925 The Lodger 1927 Napol on 1927 and Dracula 1932 A comprehensive comparative study that situates film among developments in art color science and industry Chromatic Modernity reveals the role of color cinema in forging new ways of looking at and experiencing the modern world The
