Crusaders For Wildlife A History Of Wildlife Stewardship In Southwestern Colorado:

Crusaders for Wildlife Glen A. Hinshaw, 2000 The white man had not only confiscated the Ute Indian s Colorado homeland but also destroyed the natural ecosystem and nearly eliminated all wildlife Crusaders for Wildlife is a history of what the people did to bring wildlife back to the San Juan Mountains in Western Colorado Now the San Juans are once again renown for the abundance of fish in the streams and the large herds of elk and deer yet controversy still exists over the reintroduction of such species as the lynx grizzly bear and wolf

The Nature of Southwestern Colorado Deborah D. Paulson, William Lawrence Baker, 2006 Travellers pass through one jaw dropping landscape after another where the snowy San Juan Mountains meet the canyon and mesa country of the Colorado Plateau in southwestern Colorado Yet this small but remarkably varied region also plainly reveals a history of hard use including logging scars mine polluted rivers and overgrazed grasslands and forests In The Nature of Southwestern Colorado Deborah D Paulson and William L Baker guide readers through this awe inspiring land and its human legacies describing in detail the ecology of its six sub regions showing readers how to recognise human influences on the flora and fauna and discussing current trends Although some of the policies and attitudes in southwestern Colorado continue to harm the natural world a number of community projects suggest a promising future Examining these trends the authors search for signs of a new relationship between people and nature emerging here one that enables people to protect restore and coexist with the wild

The Last Stand of the Pack Arthur Carhart, 2017-12-01 This critical edition explores the past and future of wolves in Colorado Originally published in 1929 The Last Stand of the Pack is a historical account of the extermination of what were then believed to be the last wolves in Colorado Arthur H Carhart and Stanley P Young describe the wolves extermination and extoll the bravery of the federal trappers hunting them down while simultaneously characterizing the wolves as cunning individuals and noble adversaries to the growth of the livestock industry and the settlement of the West This is nature writing at its best even if the worldview expressed is at times jarring to the twenty first century reader Now almost 100 years later much has been learned about ecology and the role of top tier predators within ecosystems In this new edition Carhart and Young s original text is accompanied by an extensive introduction with biographical details on Arthur Carhart and an overview of the history of wolf eradication in the west chapters by prominent wildlife biologists environmentalists wolf reintroduction activists and ranchers Tom Compton Bonnie Brown Mike Phillips Norman A Bishop and Cheney Gardner and an epilogue considering current issues surrounding the reintroduction of wolves in Colorado Presenting a balanced perspective these additional chapters address views both in support of and opposed to wolf reintroduction Coloradans are deeply interested in wilderness and the debate surrounding wolf reintroduction but for wolves to have a future in Colorado we must first understand the past The Last Stand of the Pack Critical Edition presents both important historical scholarship and contemporary ecological ideas offering a complete picture of the impact of wolves in Colorado

Abolitionists, Doctors, Ranchers, and Writers Lynne Marie

Getz,2017-09-22 Nearly 250 years after ninety five year old Elder Thomas Faunce got caught up in the mythmaking around Plymouth Rock his great great great great great granddaughter Hilda Faunce Wetherill died in Pacific Grove California leaving behind a cache of letters and family papers The remarkable story they told prompted historian Lynne Marie Getz to search out related collections and archives and from these to assemble a family chronology documenting three generations of American life Abolitionists Doctors Ranchers and Writers tells of zealous abolitionists and free state campaigners aiding and abetting John Brown in Bleeding Kansas of a Civil War soldier serving as a provost marshal in an occupied Arkansas town of young women who became doctors in rural Texas and New York City in the late nineteenth century of a homesteader and businessman among settler colonists in Colorado and of sisters who married into the Wetherill family known for their discovery of Ancient Pueblo sites at Mesa Verde and elsewhere who catered to a taste for Western myths with a trading post on a Navajo reservation and a guest ranch for tourists on the upper Rio Grande Whether they tell of dabbling in antebellum reforms like spiritualism vegetarianism and water cures building schools for free blacks in Ohio or championing Indian rights in the West serving in the US Army or confronting the struggles of early women doctors and educators these letters reveal the sweep of American history on an intimate scale as it was lived and felt and described by individuals their family story reflects the richness and complexity of the genealogy of the nation Journal of the West Lorrin L. Morrison,Carroll Spear Morrison,2001 American Book Publishing Record ,2001 Who's Who in the Midwest, 1984-1985 Marquis Who's Who, LLC,1984 Cumulated Index to the Books ,1953 Who's who in Religion ,1992 Mr. Hornaday's War Stefan Bechtel,2012-05-15 He was complex quirky pugnacious and difficult He seemed to create enemies wherever he went even among his friends A fireplug of a man who stood only five feet eight inches in his stocking feet he began as a taxidermist and an adventurer who tracked tigers in Borneo with friendly headhunters lead crocodile hunting expeditions in the Orinoco and scouted the last remaining bison in the Montana territories William Temple Hornaday 1854 1937 was also a man ahead of his time He was the most influential conservationist of the nineteenth century second only to his great friend and ally Theodore Roosevelt When this one time big game collector witnessed the wanton destruction of wildlife prevalent in the Victorian era he experienced an awakening and devoted the rest of his life to protecting our planet s endangered species Hornaday founded the National Zoo in Washington D C served for thirty years as director of the renowned Bronx Zoo and became a fierce defender of wild animals and wild places He devoted fifty years to fighting gun manufacturers poachers scandalously lax game protection laws and the vast apathy of the American public He waged the Plume Wars against the feathered hat industry and is credited with having saved both the Alaskan fur seal and the American bison from outright extinction Mr Hornaday s War restores this major figure to his rightful place as one of the giants of the modern conservation movement But Stefan Bechtel also explores the grinding contradictions of Hornaday s life Though he crusaded against the wholesale slaughter of wildlife he was at one time a trophy hunter and what happened in 1906 at the Bronx Zoo when

Hornaday displayed an African man in an ethnographic exhibit shows a side of him that is as baffling as it is repellant This gripping book takes an honest look at a fascinating enigmatic man who both represented and transcended his era s paradoxical approach to wildlife and who profoundly changed the course of the conservation movement for generations to come
