Crafting A Life In Essay Story Poem:

Crafting a Life in Essay, Story, Poem Donald Morison Murray, 1996 Donald Murray demonstrates the craft that has been his discipline and joy for more than half a century

A Guide to Creating Student-staffed Writing Centers, Grades 6-12 Richard Kent, 2006 Writing centers are places where writers work with each other in an effort to develop ideas discover a thesis overcome procrastination create an outline or revise a draft Ultimately writing centers help students become more effective writers Visit any college or university in the United States and chances are there is a writing center available to students staff and community members A Guide to Creating Student Staffed Writing Centers Grades 6 12 is a how to and ultimately a why to book for middle school and high school educators as well as for English language arts teacher candidates and their methods instructors Writing centers support students and their busy teachers while emphasizing and supporting writing across the curriculum

The Teacher-Writer Christine M. Dawson, 2016-12-12 The Teacher Writer shows how teachers can pursue and sustain personally and professionally worthwhile writing practices even amidst the many demands associated with teaching It meets teachers wherever they are as novice teachers just beginning to pursue writing as teachers emerging from a professional development experience or as accomplished writers seeking to further their craft Chapter by chapter the book provides strategies to help teachers get started on projects build energy for writing overcome obstacles of limited time create support systems using online technologies and develop coherence across their writing lives The text includes useful writing group routines questions for framing collaborative inquiry methods for adapting writing communities to online settings and rich examples of conversations and texts shared in actual teacher writing group meetings Book Features Focuses on teacher writers and their actual experiences working together in a writing group including benefits and challenges Includes vignettes taken from writing group meetings that demonstrate the variety of ways teachers may participate and engage in writing Offers practical suggestions for teachers seeking to form writing groups including plans for online groups Shares strategies to help teacher writers expand their concepts of writing to include everything from exploratory texts to professional and academic writing An extremely important read for every teacher of writing this book focuses on the development of ideas and the exploration of language and structure instead of formulaic routines Here we see how teachers can locate or reawaken themselves as writers bringing fresh language literacy excitement and expertise into their classrooms Judith A Langer distinguished research professor University at Albany Readers of Christine Dawson's new book might be surprised to find themselves in a novelistic world where the literary characters are women who through talk and writing act in and on their complex lives They are teachers yes but they are also thoughtful mothers and daughters wives and friends and ready companions This is a newly liberated notion of a writing group of women who teach and a practical guide to those readers inspired to start their own group Anne Haas Dyson University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign

is carefully designed to help readers gain confidence and acquire competence in their academic writing abilities. It focuses on real people as they write and actively involves readers in the writing process. The authors' innovative approach encourages reflection on how professional writing initiatives connect to the personal self. For pre-service and in-service teachers, graduate students, school administrators, educational specialists, and all others involved in the educational enterprise, effective writing is important to professional success. Organized to help the reader move progressively and confidently forward as a writer of academic prose, Doing Academic Writing in Education: Connecting the Personal and the Professional features activities to engage readers in connecting their writing endeavors to their personal selves and in discovering their own writing attitudes, behaviors, strengths, and problem areas; practical applications to inform and support the reader's writing initiatives, including opportunities to engage in invention strategies to begin a draft, to revise and edit a piece of writing that is personally and professionally important, and to record reflections about writing; the voices of the authors and of graduate students who are pursuing a variety of academic writing tasks to serve as models for the reader's writing endeavors; and writing samples and personal stories about writing shared by experts in various contexts, offering hints about conditions, self-reflections, and habits that help them write effectively. All students and professionals in the field of education will welcome the distinctive focus in this book on connecting the personal and the professional and the wealth of practical applications and opportunities for reflection it provides. Teaching Dilemmas and Solutions in Content-Area Literacy, Grades 6-12 Peter Smagorinsky, 2014-08-19 Because literacy is not just the English teacher's job. Think literacy is just for English teachers. Not anymore. Nor should it be when you consider that each discipline has its own unique values and means of expression. These days it's up to all teachers to communicate what it means to be literate in their disciplines. Here finally is a book ambitious enough to tackle the topic across all major subject areas. Engage in this cross-disciplinary conversation with seasoned teachers and university researchers and learn how to develop curriculum and instruction that are responsive to students' needs across English language arts, science, social studies, mathematics, visual space, and music and drama. Peter Smagorinsky and his colleagues provide an insider's lens on both the states of their fields and their specific literacy demands, including reviews of current issues and state-of-the-art research informing literacy education; scenario-based activities for reflection and discussion typifying the dilemmas and challenges faced by practicing teachers; considerations of the textual forms and conventions required in each discipline; specific policy recommendations. Read this book on your own for immediate suggestions on how to improve literacy instruction within your course of study. Better yet, share it with colleagues and participate in a larger conversation about how your literacy expectations influence the ways students read and produce texts in other disciplines. Understanding Waldorf Education Jack Petrash, 2010-03 Written by a teacher with more than 25 years of experience, this book offers a jargon-free view of Waldorf education and its philosophy of the importance of a three-dimensional education.
