The Economics of US Health Care Policy Charles E. Phelps, Stephen T. Parente, 2017-11-13 In this book Phelps and Parente explore the US health care system and set out the case for its reform. They trace the foundations of today's system and show how distortions in the incentives facing participants in the health care market could be corrected in order to achieve lower costs, a higher quality of care, a higher level of patient safety and a more efficient allocation of health care resources. Phelps and Parente propose novel yet economically robust changes to US tax law affecting health insurance coverage and related issues. They also discuss a series of specific improvements to Medicare and Medicaid and assess potential innovations that affect all of health care including chronic disease management, fraud and abuse detection, information technology and other key issues. The Economics of US Health Care Policy will be illuminating reading for anyone with an interest in health policy and will be a valuable supplementary text for courses in health economics and health policy including for students without advanced training in economics.

Language of Possibility Michael Roberts, 2022-08-12 Language can help lift or limit students. Based on brain research and authentic classroom experience, this book will help you get back to the optimism of teaching by reconnecting with the possibility of each student. From classroom practice to systemwide policies, readers will find strategies for shifting the way we approach teaching to cultivate the gifts each student has to offer. Teachers and leaders will understand how limiting language stifles student growth and academic success. Utilize figures and other resources to better recognize limiting language and replace it with positive language. Reflect on the culture of your own school and improve collaborative work. Access and analyze data that will equip you to better handle obstacles in developing your professional learning community. Improve communication among all classrooms within your school or district.
