Designing ICT around Food Practices in the Digital Age

Philip Weber, 2025-04-26 Human Food Interaction (HFI), a subfield of Human Computer Interaction (HCI), examines how technology shapes food practices from shopping and cooking to eating and disposal. This book focuses on eating, particularly dining out, and explores the role of technology in these practices. Methodologically, it maps the design space by studying eating habits before, during, and after meals, the impact of COVID-19, and food influencers' digital work. Observational studies, interviews, and social media analyses provide a rich foundation for understanding these dynamics. Additionally, the book refines the design space through prototyping and evaluating three ICT artifacts using participatory design and user studies. Findings offer insights into tailoring technology for diverse eating contexts, contributing to more context-aware and supportive food-related technologies.

The Changing Meaning of Kitsch Max Ryyänen, Paco Barragán, 2023-04-26

In addition, the editors provide a concise theoretical introduction to the volume and the subject. The role of kitsch in contemporary culture and society is innovatively explored, and the volume aims not to condemn but to accept and understand why kitsch has become acceptable today.
