Citizenship Today Thomas Alexander Aleinikoff, Douglas B. Klusmeyer, 2001 Foreword Jessica T Mathews

Citizenship Policies for an Age of Migration T. Alexander Aleinikoff, 2011-12 Many liberal democracies facing high levels of immigration are rethinking their citizenship policies In this book a group of international experts discuss various ways liberal states should fashion their policies to better accommodate newcomers They offer detailed recommendations on issues of acquisition of citizenship dual nationality and the political social and economic rights of immigrants Contributors include Patrick Weil University of Paris Sorbonne David A Martin University of Virginia School of Law Rainer Baub ck Austrian Academy of Sciences and Michael Fix Urban Institute Dual Citizenship in Europe Thomas Faist, 2007 In an age of terrorism and securitized immigration dual citizenship is of central concern The contributors to this timely volume examine policies regarding dual citizenship across Europe covering a wide spectrum of countries The case studies explore the negotiated character and boundaries of political membership and the fundamental beliefs and arguments which have shaped debates and policies on citizenship International Migration and Citizenship Today Niklaus Steiner, 2009-09-10

International migration has emerged in the last decade as one of the world s most controversial and pressing issues This thought provoking textbook offers the reader a more nuanced and knowledgeable understanding of the complex economic political cultural and moral concerns that arise when people move across borders seeking admission into other countries Splitting the text into five broad sections Steiner facilitates easy navigation of the complex discussions that surround the issue of migration Section One Introduction examines how the central questions that frame the book will be addressed including what criteria should be used to admit migrants and How should a country grant citizenship Section Two Immigrants discusses the criteria for accepting immigrants dealing with the unwanted and assessing the economic cultural and political impacts Section Three Refugees evaluates the methods used to protect refugees the controversies surrounding asylum and the shortcomings of current refugee definitions Section Four Citizenship charts the rise of nationalism presents modern issues of minority rights and diversity and examines processes of naturalization across the globe Section Five Conclusion considers more unconventional approaches to migration and citizenship and suggests moving towards a more holistic approach Carefully constructed to spark discussion and student reflection and featuring suggested resources at the end of each section this book offers dozens of contemporary examples and case studies from across the globe International Migration and Citizenship Today is essential reading for not only students of migration and citizenship but also globalization international relations and democracies Migration: Policies, Practices, Activism Martin Bulmer, John Solomos, 2014-01-02 Migration Policies Practices Activism brings together a range of scholarly research papers to examine the place of international migration in the modern world starting with the overview of migration and development by Alejandro Portes There are many aspects to migration today which are treated in this collection including new patterns of migration flows asylum and the handling of refugees multiculturalism religious and cultural diversity identity formation among immigrant communities and the impact of migration upon social and economic development Chapters in this book look at a variety of migration case studies including aspects of international migration in Europe movement from sub Saharan Africa northwards movement from Albania to Italy a comparison of the USA and Germany the entry of international brides to South Korea and the concept of diversity and its use in the study of the outcomes of migration This is a stimulating collection which looks at many facets of the phenomenon This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies

Citizenship in the Arab World Gianluca Paolo Parolin, 2009 Subject The book is the fruit of five years of on site research on citizenship in the Arab world It takes a broader legal perspective to the multifaceted reality of nationality and citizenship The methodology employed builds on the interdisciplinary approach of comparative legal studies and brings in theories concepts and insights from anthropology political science Arab and Islamic studies linguistics and sociology The work relies on a broad range of Western and Arab references and all sources and documents were directly accessed in their original languages this is particularly relevant for Arab legislation all in text reference has been translated by the author and the original has been inserted using scientific transliteration Website OAPEN Library The Human Right to Citizenship Barbara von Rütte, 2022-12-28 The open access publication of this book has been published with the support of the Swiss National Science Foundation This book offers a comprehensive analysis of the right to citizenship in international and regional human rights law It critically reflects on the limitations of state sovereignty in nationality matters and situates the right to citizenship within the existing human rights framework It identifies the scope and content of the right to citizenship by looking not only at statelessness deprivation of citizenship or dual citizenship but more broadly at acquisition loss and enjoyment of citizenship in a migration context Exploring the intersection of international migration human rights law and belonging the book provides a timely argument for recognizing a right to the citizenship of a specific state on the basis of one's effective connections to that state according to the principle of jus nexi Voting Rights of Refugees Reuven Ziegler, 2017 A novel legal argument about the voting rights of refugees recognised in the 1951 Geneva Convention

Migration in Political Theory Sarah Fine, Lea Ypi, 2016-01-29 Written by an international team of leading political and legal theory scholars whose writings have contributed to shaping the field Migration in Political Theory presents seminal new work on the ethics of movement and membership The volume addresses challenging and under researched themes on the subject of migration It debates the question of whether we ought to recognize a human right to immigrate and whether it might be legitimate to restrict emigration The authors critically examine criteria for selecting would be migrants and for acquiring citizenship They discuss tensions between the claims of immigrants and existing residents and tackle questions of migrant worker exploitation and responsibility for refugees The book illustrates the importance of drawing on the tools of political theory to clarify criticize and challenge the current terms of the migration debate The Politics of Citizenship in Europe Marc Morjé Howard, 2009-09-07 In this book Howard addresses immigrant integration one of the most critical challenges facing European countries the resolution of which will in large part depend on how foreigners can become citizens Howard s research shows that despite remarkable convergence in their economic judicial and social policies the countries of the European Union still maintain very different definitions of citizenship Based on an innovative measure of national citizenship policies the book accounts for both historical variation and contemporary change Howard s historical explanation highlights the legacies of colonialism and early democratization which unintentionally created relatively inclusive citizenship regimes Howard s argument focuses on the politics of citizenship showing in particular how anti immigrant public opinion when activated politically usually by far right movements or public referenda can block the liberalizing tendencies of political elites Overall the book shows the far reaching implications of this growing and volatile issue
