Psychoanalysis as Social and Political Discourse in Latin America and the Caribbean Paola Bohórquez, Verónica Garibotto, 2022-06-16 This book offers a regional intersectional and transnational perspective of psychoanalysis in Latin America and the Caribbean that illuminates psychoanalysis's role as social and political discourse through a collection of original interventions in the fields of psychoanalysis cultural studies psychology anthropology health sciences history and philosophy The authors contribute to discussions about the applicability of psychoanalytic concepts to reading Latin American and Caribbean sociopolitical phenomena as well as how these regionally specific dimensions challenge and transform traditional psychoanalytic notions Firstly the book offers a regional overview of psychoanalysis as a discourse that reflects on the imbrication between the psychic and the sociopolitical Secondly it showcases intersectional perspectives that illuminate psychoanalysis's potentials and limitations in addressing contemporary problematics around race gender sexuality and class Finally the book attests to the area's role in advancing psychoanalysis as a transnational discipline By providing both a balanced regional overview and an interdisciplinary perspective the volume will be essential for all psychoanalysts and scholars wanting to understand the place of psychoanalysis in Latin American and Caribbean discourse

Post-9/11 Cinema John Markert, 2011-08-05 In contemporary society cinema has become a primary way in which people gain knowledge about events taking place in the world Films often go beyond news reports by showing in depth behind the scenes footage whether in a documentary or recreated in fictional features More than fleeting scenes of events shown on the nightly news a film can influence people's feelings about war and what our political leaders should do about it This has certainly been the case since the attack on 9/11 and the subsequent incursions into Iraq and Afghanistan In Post 9/11 Cinema Through a Lens Darkly John Markert takes a close look at the films depicting these events Covering cinematic portrayals of 9/11 and the attacks that followed this book examines both dramas and documentaries that depict what some have termed Bush's war as well as rebuttal films films about terrorist activities and films seen from the vantage point of journalists and military personnel Post 9/11 Cinema not only shows how motion pictures reflect societal values but also how such works can influence social attitudes and thus promote change In addition Markert appraises the film industry and critiques how images are manipulated to sway the viewer to appreciate the side being advocated Examining such dramas as The Messenger Stop Loss The Lucky Ones In the Valley of Elah and The Hurt Locker as well as documentaries including Fahrenheit 9/11 Soldiers of Conscience and Taxi to the Dark Side Post 9/11 Cinema is a valuable read for professors of media and mass communication popular culture and film studies as well as cultural sociologists

Doo-Wop Acappella Lawrence Pitilli, 2016-08-02 In Doo Wop Acappella A Story of Street Corners Echoes and Three Part Harmonies scholar and musician Lawrence Pitilli details this too little explored area of 1950's early 60's American culture As Kenny Vance and the Planotones suggested in their classic song Looking for an Echo every doo wop acapella group's mission the search for a sound a place to be in harmony a place we almost found was more than the story of street kids seeking recording glory It is the tale of urban change mass migrations ethnic acculturation a changing radio and recording industry and the dynamics of cultural change in the sounds sonic and linguistic that every generation seeks to make and re make for itself In his study of this neglected period Pitilli uncovers a rich musical tradition practiced largely by amateurs in an almost mythologized urban America Although most of these practitioners were musically untrained their lack of formal music education and financial support neither diluted their passion for singing or their quest for possible fame and fortune In this engagingly written and celebratory work Pitilli further demonstrates that doo wop acappella was closely tied to broader issues including the self invented individual gender roles ethnicity race and class

Culture: Raise 'low', Rethink 'high.'

A Representation of the Academic Potential of So-Called 'Low' Culture Emma Buchanan, 2020-11-15 Despite or more likely due to being the culture which most affects and interacts with the masses the broad and definition evading category of popular culture remains a second class citizen in academia relegated to a position of low below a culture deemed high and worthy of scholarly inquiry This eclectic collection of essays aims to convince that this inequality must be addressed by exploring a variety of supposedly low cultural types and texts through an academic lens proving that so called low culture can be a valuable contribution to academic research That said raising the low does not mean making it high turning it into an elite category to be accessed only by experts Rather the authors are unswerving in their approach that academic writing and fan writing are not mutually exclusive On the contrary it is their knowledge and passion as fans of their subject matter that has inspired their chapters all of which draw upon their considerable experience of engaging as fans in what they discuss All the chapters have been written by postgraduate students seeking to inspire a new empiricism through which their interests might be fully pursued in their futures as scholars Emma Buchanan is a British postgraduate researcher and television fan who is currently writing up her PhD thesis on the topic of gender and change in AMC's The Walking Dead as understood from the point of view of Jungian depth psychology
