Culture And Waste The Creation And Destruction Of Value:

Culture and Waste Gay Hawkins, Stephen Muecke, 2003 Waste is a key category for understanding cultural value It is not just the bad stuff we dispose of it is material we constantly struggle to redeem Cultures seem to spend as much energy reclassifying negativity as they do on establishing the negative itself The huge tertiary sector devoted to waste management converts garbage into money while ecological movements continue to stress human values and the natural But the problems waste poses are never simply economic or environmental The international contributors to this collection ask us to pause and consider the complex ways in which value is created and destroyed Their diverse approaches of ethics philosophy cultural studies and politics are at the forefront of a new field of ecohumanities

Residual Media Charles R. Acland, 2007 In a society that awaits the new in every medium what happens to last year's new From player pianos to vinyl records and from the typewriter to the telephone Residual Media is an innovative approach to the aging of culture and reveals that ultimately new cultural phenomena rely on encounters with the old

Waste Paper in Early Modern England Anna Reynolds, 2024 Waste Paper in Early Modern England argues that rhetorical commonplaces referring to waste paper are indicative of everyday material experience of an author's reader's housewife's or city dweller's immersion in an environment brimming with repurposed scraps and sheets

Acquiring Cultures Bénédicte Savoy, Charlotte Guichard, Christine Howald, 2018-12-03 As more parts of the world outside Europe became accessible and in the wake of social and technological developments in the 18th century a growing number of exotic artefacts entered European markets The markets for such objects thrived while a collecting culture and museums emerged This book provides insights into the methods and places of exchange networks prices expertise and valuation concepts as well as the transfer and transport of these artefacts over 300 years and across four continents The contributions are from international experts including Ting Chang N lia Dias No mie Etienne Jonathan Fine Philip Jones Sylvester Okwunodu Ogbechie L a Saint Raymond and Masako Yamamoto

Indispensable Eyesores Mélanie van der Hoorn, 2009-05-01 Collapsing concrete colossuses run down overgrown skeletons immutable architectural misfits the outcasts from our built environment which we are dying to dispose of and yet cannot do without have inspired many ghost stories crime novels and urban legends Such narratives reveal the significance of architectural eyesores for the people who live or work in or near them After exploring various approaches to building lives and deaths the author presents a rich variety of undesired edifices in Germany Hungary Austria and Bosnia Herzegovina and investigates the different methods used to dispose of them eliminating damaging transforming or reframing them abandoning them to progressive dilapidation or virtually rejecting them Discarding an edifice however need not bring its social life to an end This analysis continues with a reflection on the afterlife of unwanted buildings and concludes with a discussion on the life expectancy of buildings their multi sensory materiality and thingly agency

Routledge Handbook of Ecocriticism and Environmental Communication Scott Slovic, Swarnalatha Rangarajan, Vidya Sarveswaran, 2019-02-01 Ecocriticism and environmental communication studies have for many years co existed as parallel disciplines occasionally crossing paths but typically operating in separate academic spheres These fields are now rapidly converging and this handbook aims to reinforce the common concerns and methodologies of the sibling disciplines The Routledge Handbook of Ecocriticism and Environmental Communication charts the history of the relationship between ecocriticism and environmental communication studies while also highlighting key new paradigms in information studies diverse examples of practical applications of environmental communication and textual analysis and the patterns and challenges of environmental communication in non Western societies Contributors to this book include literary film and religious studies scholars communication studies specialists environmental historians practicing journalists art critics linguists ethnographers sociologists literary theorists and others but all focus their discussions on key issues in textual representations of human nature relationships and on the challenges and possibilities of environmental communication The handbook is designed to map existing trends in both ecocriticism and environmental communication and to predict future directions This handbook will be an essential reference for teachers students and practitioners of environmental literature film journalism communication and rhetoric and well as the broader meta discipline of environmental humanities

A Reflection Through Fashion Upcycling Rachael Cassar, 2025-11-19 A Reflection Through Fashion Upcycling The Archive in Pieces stands as a seminal work at the intersection of fashion studies material culture and sustainability discourse Authored by a distinguished award winning practitioner this groundbreaking text offers a richly detailed examination of fashion upcycling through a historical and material culture lens At its core the book transcends the traditional confines of sustainable fashion discourse by delving into the profound complexities of reuse and material culture Drawing from a curated archive of garments dating from the late 19th to early 20th centuries it traces the symbolic and tactile journey of deconstructing clothing and repurposing through contemporary design The book s originality lies in its synthesis of academic research and studio practice positioning fashion upcycling as an intellectual and ethical act By re contextualising garments through experimental design it offers fresh insight into the potential of upcycling as a means of historical preservation critical inquiry and cultural storytelling The author combines rigorous scholarship studio based experimentation and intimate engagement with historical artefacts to uncover layered narratives embedded within textiles By challenging narrow interpretations of sustainable fashion the work presents upcycling as a nuanced dialogue between past and present ethics and aesthetics and materiality and meaning Through its interdisciplinary approach and meticulous scholarship it charts a path towards a more considered sustainable and conscientious future for the fashion industry Bridging design history practice and ecological awareness A Reflection Through Fashion Upcycling offers a rigorous yet accessible examination of fashion upcycling as a site of intellectual inquiry and ethical engagement making it essential reading for scholars researchers and practitioners alike and perfect for fashion enthusiasts and anyone intrigued by stories woven into fabric

Precarious Worlds Katie Meehan, Kendra Strauss, 2015-11-15 This collection contributes to the theoretical literature on social reproduction defined by Marx as the necessary labor to arrive the next day at the factory gate and extended by feminist geographers and others into complex understandings of the relationship between paid labor and the unpaid work of daily life The volume explores new terrain in social reproduction with a focus on the challenges posed by evolving theories of embodiment and identity nonhuman materialities and diverse economies Reflecting and expanding on ongoing debates within feminist geography with additional cross disciplinary contributions from sociologists and political scientists Precarious Worlds explores the productive possibilities of social reproduction as an ontology a theoretical lens and an analytical framework for what Geraldine Pratt has called a vigorous materialist transnational feminism
