marking the maximal exercise of feminism and women's rights which the patriarchal order is willing to accept. As such, these films are not to be seen as celebrations of feminist liberation but as enunciations of the patriarchal authority that suffuses Chinese cinematic martial arts feminism. The film narratives under examination include Crouching Tiger Hidden Dragon directed by Ang Lee, Hero Zhang Yimou, House of the Flying Daggers Zhang Yimou, Seven Swords Tsui Hark, The Promise Chen Kaige, The Banquet Feng Xiaogang, and Curse of the Golden Flower Zhang Yimou. Chen also touches upon the plots of two of the earliest award-winning Chinese martial arts films A Touch of Zen and Legend of the Mountain, both directed by King Hu.

New Queer Sinophone Cinema Zoran Lee Pecic, 2016-05-20. This book looks closely at some of the most significant films within the field of queer Sinophone cinema. Examining queerness in films produced in the PRC, Taiwan, and Hong Kong, the book merges the Sinophone with the queer, theorising both concepts as local and global, homebound as well as diasporic. Queerness in this book not only problematises the positioning of non-normative desires within the Sinophone, it also challenges Eurocentric critical perspectives on filmic representation that are tied to the idea of the binary between East and West. New Queer Sinophone Cinema will appeal to scholars in Chinese and film studies as well as to anyone who is interested in queer Chinese cinema.

Chinese Cinemas Felicia Chan, Andy Willis, 2016-05-20. Chinese Cinemas International Perspectives examines the impact the rapid expansion of Chinese filmmaking in mainland China has had on independent and popular Chinese cinemas both in and outside of China. While the large Chinese markets are coveted by Hollywood, the commercial film industry within the People's Republic of China has undergone rapid expansion since the 1990s. Its own production, distribution, and exhibition capacities have increased exponentially in the past 20 years, producing box office success both domestically and abroad. This volume gathers the work of a range of established scholars and newer voices on Chinese cinemas to address questions that interrogate both Chinese films and the place and space of Chinese cinemas within the contemporary global film industries, including the impact on independent filmmaking both within and outside of China, the place of Chinese cinemas produced outside of China, and the significance of new internal and external distribution and exhibition patterns on recent conceptions of Chinese cinemas. This is an ideal book for students and researchers interested in Chinese and Asian Cinema as well as for students studying topics such as World Cinema and Asian Studies.

China's iGeneration Matthew D. Johnson, Keith B. Wagner, Luke Vulpiani, Kiki Tianqi Yu, 2014-05-22. This innovative collection of essays on post-WTO Chinese cinema features contributions from an international community of scholars in the fields of media and film studies, comparative literature, and history. The iGeneration describes a post-cinematic, post-reform era phenomenon in China where the production, distribution, and consumption of films increasingly take a digital form, and the flow of images parallels that of capital. By calling attention to a wide range of agendas since 2001—nation building, market diffusion, cultural capital, self-understanding, regional deviance, social justice, as well as functions such as state didacticism, commodified leisure, personal expression, virtual surveillance, worldly connoisseurship—iGeneration offers Chinese moving image culture at its most
