Davis, 2005 Since a new sensitivity and orientation to victims of injustice arose in the 1960s categories of victimization have proliferated Large numbers of people are now characterized and characterize themselves as sufferers of psychological injury caused by the actions of others In contrast with the familiar critiques of victim culture Accounts of Innocence offers a new and empirically rich perspective on the question of why we now place such psychological significance on victimization in people's lives. Focusing on the case of adult survivors of childhood sexual abuse, Joseph E. Davis shows how the idea of innocence shaped the emergence of trauma psychology and continues to inform accounts of the past and hopes for the future in therapy with survivor clients. His findings shed new light on the ongoing debate over recovered memories of abuse. They challenge the notion that victim accounts are an evasion of personal responsibility. And they suggest important ways in which trauma psychology has had unintended and negative consequences for how victims see themselves and for how others relate to them. An important intervention in the study of victimization in our culture, Accounts of Innocence will interest scholars of clinical psychology, social work, and sociology as well as therapists and victim activists. Interest in the practice of spiritual direction has grown in recent years. With the increased number of people seeking direction have come a number of new issues confronting spiritual directors. This volume of essays by seasoned spiritual directors from a variety of faith traditions addresses issues of concern to directors today such as direction with abused persons, the poor, church drop outs, and gays and lesbians. Other essays look at spiritual direction in new contexts such as the congregational setting, the corporate arena, spiritual direction and generational issues, and direction at the turn of the century. The final section of the book addresses some specific circumstances: working with the addicted, with those who are dying, using art in spiritual direction, and direction and social justice. Contributors include Joseph D. Driskill, Pacific School of Religion, Berkeley, CA; Juan Reed, Chicago, IL; Rich Rossiter, Oak Park, IL; Sandra Lommason Davis, CA; Howard Rice, Santa Rosa, CA; Tom Cashman, Federal Way, WA; Steven Charleston, Episcopal Divinity School, Barry Woodbridge, Rancho Cucamonga, CA; Margaret Guenther, Washington, D.C.; Betsy Caprio, Hedburg, Culver City, CA; and Kenneth Leech, London.
