Music Mothers Julie Turley,Joan Jocson-Singh,2023-04-21 Heavy Music Mothers Extreme Identities Narrative Disruptions is an exploration of women and heavy music and the ways in which women have historically engaged with musicking as mothers Julie Turley and Joan Jocson Singh musicking mothers themselves largely employ an ethnographic lens foregrounded in powerful one on one original interviews as vignettes that narrate thematic patterns Other chapters examine motherhood identity embedded in respective published rock music memoirs discussions of rock performance as a site of maternal bonding and themes that arise when heavy music mothers write about motherhood Autoethnographic portions throughout give the book an intimate and personal tone one such chapter presents the concept of vigilante motherhood within an auto ethnographic context The authors reference the book s limitations meditating on historically marginalized moms the authors predict and hope the focus will be on for the future Heavy Music Mothers is a robust study of women and motherhood set within a music culture historically inhospitable to both women and mothers This book the first scholarly study of this topic is just the beginning The Oxford Handbook of Politics and Performance Shirin M. Rai,Milija Gluhovic,Silvija

Jestrovic,Michael Saward,2021-02-19 Political scientists and political theorists have long been interested in social and political performance Theatre and performance researchers have often focused on the political dimensions of the live arts Yet the interdisciplinary nature of this labor has typically been assumed rather than rigorously explored Further it is crucial to bring the concepts of theatre and performance deployed by other disciplines such as psychology law political anthropology sociology among others into a wider as well as deeper interdisciplinary engagement Embodying and fostering that engagement is at the heart of this new handbook The Handbook brings together leading scholars in the fields of Politics and Performance to map out the evolving interdisciplinary engagement The authors drawn from a wide range of disciplines investigate the relationship between politics and performance to show that certain features of political transactions shared by performances are fundamental to both disciplines and that they also share to a large extent a common communicational base and language The volume is organized into seven thematic sections the interdisciplinary theory of politics and performance performativity and theatricality protest regulation resistance change authority identities race gender sexuality class citizenship indigeneity sites states borders markets law religion scripts accountability authority and legitimacy security ceremony sustainability body voice and gesture representation leadership participation rhetoric disruption and affect media care love empathy comedy populism memory
