City Life From Jakarta To Dakar Movements At The Crossroads Global Realities:

City Life from Jakarta to Dakar AbdouMaliq Simone,2010-01-27 By showing how much of what is considered peripheral to urban life is actually critical to it the book opens up new ways for understanding what it is possible to do in cities from now on

The City as a Global Political Actor Stijn Oosterlynck,Luce Beeckmans,David Bassens,Ben Derudder,Barbara Segaert,Luc Braeckmans,2018-10-10 This book engages with the thorny question of global urban political agency It critically assesses the now popular statement that in the context of paralysed and failing nation state governments cities can and will provide leadership in addressing global challenges Cities can act politically on the global scale but the analysis of global urban political agency needs to be firmly embedded in the field of urban studies Collectively the chapters in this volume contextualize urban agency in time and space and pluralize it by looking at how urban agency is nurtured through coalitions between a wide range of public and private actors The authors develop and critically assess the conceptual underpinnings of the notion of global urban political agency from a variety of theoretical and disciplinary perspectives The second part contains several theoretically informed empirical analyses of global urban political agency in cities around the globe This book geographically expands analysis by looking beyond global cities in diverse contexts It is highly recommended reading for scholars in the fields of international relations and urban studies who are looking for an interdisciplinary and empirically grounded understanding of global urban political agency in a diversity of contexts and a plurality of forms

Hydraulic City Nikhil Anand,2017-03-17 Nikhil Anand explores the politics of Mumbai s water infrastructure to demonstrate how citizenship and the rights through which to make demands on the state for public services emerges through the relations between residents plumbers politicians engineers and the 3000 miles of pipe that bind them

Housing in the Margins Hanna Hilbrandt,2021-04-19 Housing in the Margins offers a theoretically informed and empirically detailed exploration of unruly housing practices and their governance at the periphery of Berlin An original empirical contribution to understanding housing precarity in the context of the German housing crisis A novel approach to theorizing the nexus of informality and the state in ways that bridge analytical divides between debates about Northern and Southern states An innovative account of urban development in Berlin that contributes to the limited discussions of urban informality in Euro American cities A theoretical understanding of the ways in which negotiations and transgressions are embedded in the making of urban order A historically informed narrative of the development of allotment gardens in Berlin with a particular focus on housing practices at these sites

The Routledge Handbook on Cities of the Global South Susan Parnell,Sophie Oldfield,2014-03-26 The renaissance in urban theory draws directly from a fresh focus on the neglected realities of cities beyond the west and embraces the global south as the epicentre of urbanism This Handbook engages the complex ways in which cities of the global south and the global north are rapidly shifting the imperative for multiple genealogies of knowledge production as well as a diversity of empirical entry points to understand contemporary urban dynamics The Handbook works towards a geographical realignment in urban studies bringing into conversation a wide array of cities across the global south the ordinary mega global and peripheral With interdisciplinary contributions from a range of leading international experts it profiles an emergent and geographically diverse body of work The contributions draw on conflicting and divergent debates to open up discussion on the meaning of the city in or of the global south arguments that are fluid and increasingly contested geographically and conceptually It reflects on critical urbanism the macro and micro scale forces that shape cities including ideological demographic and technological shifts and constantly changing global and regional economic dynamics Working with southern reference points the chapters present themes in urban politics identity and environment in ways that re frame our thinking about cities The Handbook engages the twenty first century city through a southern urban lens to stimulate scholarly professional and activist engagements with the city

Military Legacies James A. Tyner, 2010-01-26 Landmines cluster bombs chemical pollutants and other remnants of war continue to cause death to humans and damage to the environment long after the guns have fallen silent From the jungles of Vietnam to the arctic tundra of Russia no region has escaped the legacy of warfare To understand the legacy of modern militarism this book presents an overview of post conflict societies with an emphasis on the human toll exacted by modern warfare

Visual Cultures as Opportunity Helge Mooshammer, Peter Mörténböck, 2016 Assemblies gathering places and agora like situations have become popular sites for contemporary art At the heart of these arenas is the search for new ways to counter the crisis ridden experience of homo economicus the pervasive and alienating marketization of all aspects of our lives A great deal of hope is being placed on the potential of social formations enabled by new technologies of connectivity and exchange Artists and cultural producers are at the forefront of testing the viability of transgressive actions such as coworking crowdfunding and open source provisions At the same time it is apparent that global capitalism is expanding into multipolar constellations of top down and bottom up economic governance In this volume the fourth in the series Visual Cultures as Helge Mooshammer and Peter Mörténböck analyze the networked spaces of global informal markets the cultural frontiers of speculative investments and recent urban protests and discuss crucial shifts in the process of collective articulation within today's crowd economy Copublished with Goldsmiths University of London

The Aesthetics of Neighborhood Change Lisa Berglund, Siobhan Gregory, 2020-06-29 The Aesthetics of Neighborhood Change explores cultural shifts that result from gentrification and redevelopment showing how cultures of racially and economically marginalized groups are appropriated or erased by the introduction luxury real estate and retail branding The book explores the literal and symbolic shifts in ownership that are happening in urban locations undergoing redevelopment and demographic shifts As lesser discussed manifestations of these shifts cultural symbols of leisure tourism and elite consumption can be witnessed as cities work to reshape their landscapes through real estate retail and public space development Aesthetic changes often show up in the form of boutique coffee shops distilleries high end restaurants retail flagships and more Through careful branding and visual design the new spaces and places become recognized as signs of exclusivity This exclusivity also emerges in public spaces through local informal retail practices like street vending food trucks and outdoor markets As these changes take shape more affluent groups replace and displace the cultural practices of existing groups These changes send tangible observable messages of neighborhood change which signal the race and class profiles of the desired incoming population who can afford to participate in the redeveloped landscape Developing a discourse on how to better observe and analyze signs of exclusion in the built environment The Aesthetics of Neighborhood Change will be of great interest to scholars of community development social mobilization urban studies and design and urban planning and development The chapters were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Cultural Geography

The Policing of Terrorism Mathieu Deflem, 2010-02-10 This book offers an analysis of the policing of terrorism in a variety of national and international contexts Centered on developments since the events of September 11 2001 the study devotes its empirical attention to important police aspects of counter terrorism in the United States and additionally extends its range comparatively to other nations including Israel and Iraq and to the global level of international police organizations such as Interpol and Europol Situated in the criminology of terrorism and counter terrorism this book offers a fascinating look into the contemporary organization of law enforcement against terrorism which will significantly influence the conditions of global security in the foreseeable future

African Cities Professor Garth Myers, 2011-04-14 In this groundbreaking book Garth Myers uses African urban concepts and experiences to speak back to theoretical and practical concerns He argues for a re visioning a seeing again and a revising of how cities in Africa are discussed and written about in both urban studies and African studies Cities in Africa are still either ignored banished to a different other lesser category of not quite cities or held up as examples of all that can go wrong with urbanism in much of the mainstream and even critical urban literature Myers instead encourages African studies and urban studies scholars across the world to engage with the vibrancy and complexity of African cities with fresh eyes Touching on a diverse range of cities across Africa from Zanzibar to Nairobi Cape Town to Mogadishu Kinshasa to Dakar the book uses the author's own research and a close reading of works by other scholars writers and artists to help illuminate what is happening in and across the region's cities
