

CHAPTER 4 CONTROLLER

Crankshaft trigger wheel. Notice the missing teeth at 180 degrees apart. The missing teeth change the pulse width time. These locate TDC of cylinder 1 and 4 as they pass the POS sensor.

By monitoring the trigger wheel, the POS sensor indicates crankshaft position and speed information to the ECM. By monitoring the missing tooth, the POS sensor is also able to identify piston travel in order to synchronize the ignition system and provide a way of tracking the angular position of the crankshaft relative to a fixed reference point.
