Cases On Higher Education Spaces Innovation Collaboration And Technology:

Cases on Higher Education Spaces: Innovation, Collaboration, and Technology Carpenter, Russell G.,2012-12-31

Higher education spaces are undergoing radical transformations in an attempt to respond to the needs of 21st century learners and a renewed interest in collaboration that spans beyond the walls of departments colleges and libraries Cases on Higher Education Spaces Innovation Collaboration and Technology highlights key innovations and collaborative ventures in space design from across campuses and institutions Including writing and communication centers studios libraries digital media labs learning commons and academic learning spaces this collection is ideally suited for university and professional administrators Supporting Neurodiverse College Student Success Elizabeth M.H. Coghill,Jeffrey G. Coghill,2020-11-12

The basic premise of neurodiversity is that there is no normal baseline for brain processes but that all individual brains vary and therefore are diverse The CAST organization estimates that 11% of college students enrolling in post secondary campuses having a learning disability or learning difference As neurodiverse students enroll in post secondary education the environments within which these students learn can either support or impede their ability to succeed Simply put a neurodiverse campus population means that educators recognize that all students process and learn differently and must adapt our approaches and services in order to reach and support all students enrolled on our campuses Neurodiverse students are a growing population on today s college campus Their growing presence prompts new approaches to support their success and change traditional student services and collegiate experiences This practical guide Assists readers in better understanding neurodiverse students and the way campus services can create welcoming environmentsExplores the role Universal Design for Learning UDL and Executive Functioning EF plays in student success and Focuses on specific collegiate offices and services that effectively address the needs of neurodiverse learners Chapters cover tutoring learning supports academic coaching academic advising career services residential living and classroom experiences that impact and assist neurodiverse college students Studio-Based Approaches for Multimodal Projects Russell Carpenter,2019-05-10

Studio Based Approaches for Multimodal Projects examines a cross section of strategies for studio approaches and models that enable process oriented multimodal projects and promote student learning This collection features seven chapters authored or coauthored by leaders and innovators in studio based approaches These scholars explore studio models and provide vivid examples of ways in which they are realized as students pursue design and create multimodal projects including ePortfolios research posters websites and other engaging artifacts that integrate oral written visual and electronic communication Studio based approaches enhance creativity interaction and learning among students The models designed and employed to support these activities would benefit from a more focused look This collection assembles perspectives from scholar practitioners who know and use studio based models They are experts in this area and have helped to shape current understandings of approaches that work well to enhance learning through multimodal projects those that integrate oral visual written or electronic modes of communication

Writing Studio Pedagogy Matthew Kim, Russell

Carpenter, 2017-02-22 Writing Studio Pedagogy WSP breaks from the tradition of teaching and responding to writing in traditional ways and moves the teaching and learning experience off the page and into engaging spaces in multiple ways which can enhance the composing process Through this collection scholars interested in rethinking approaches to teaching writing pedagogy and innovative learning will find new ways to challenge their own understandings of space place and collaboration WSP involves an attention to space and place in the development of rhetorical acts by focusing on the ways in which they enhance pedagogy This book takes a unique opportunity to return to pedagogy as the foremost priority in any learning space Educators might preference WSP for its emphasis on student centeredness by creating productive interactions intersections and departures that arrive from prioritizing learning WSP acknowledges the centralized role of students and teachers as co facilitators in learning and writing These threads are intentionally broad based as the chapters contained in this book speak to the complexity of WSP across institutions

Exploring Informal Learning Space in the University Graham Walton, Graham Matthews, 2017-09-01 Growing student numbers increased student expectations new approaches to learning and fast paced technological advances all contribute to the need for universities to take a more strategic approach to their buildings including formal and informal learning spaces Exploring Informal Learning Space in the University addresses the issue of informal learning space from the perspectives of a comprehensive range of stakeholders including students academics facilities managers university managers IT managers architects interior designers and librarians With contributions from a range of experts practitioners and academics around the world this book uses a combination of case studies and theoretical discussion to explore the rationale and theory of informal learning space alongside the practicalities of its planning development and utilization The volume is at once ambitious and pragmatic combining innovative thinking with a firm awareness of practicalities including the varied constraints faced by universities and the need to work in tandem with broader strategies Advocating broad collaboration at both planning and delivery stage the result is essential reading for anyone involved in the delivery of learning space provision from architects and designers to university managers and strategists It will also be of particular interest to academics researchers and postgraduate students engaged in the study of library information science or higher education policy and strategy

A Guide to Teaching in the Active

Learning Classroom Paul Baeppler, J. D. Walker, D. Christopher Brooks, Kem Saichaie, Christina I. Petersen, 2023-07-03 While Active Learning Classrooms or ALCs offer rich new environments for learning they present many new challenges to faculty because among other things they eliminate the room's central focal point and disrupt the conventional seating plan to which faculty and students have become accustomed. The importance of learning how to use these classrooms well and to capitalize on their special features is paramount. The potential they represent can be realized only when they facilitate improved learning outcomes and engage students in the learning process in a manner different from traditional classrooms and lecture halls. This book provides an introduction to ALCs briefly covering their history and then synthesizing the research on these spaces to provide faculty with empirically based practical guidance on how to use these unfamiliar spaces effectively. Among the questions this book addresses are: How can instructors mitigate the apparent lack of a central focal point in the space? What types of learning activities work well in the ALCs and take advantage of the affordances of the room? How can teachers address familiar classroom management challenges in these unfamiliar spaces? If assessment and rapid feedback are critical in active learning, how do they work in a room filled with circular tables and no central focus point? How do instructors balance group learning with the needs of the larger class? How can students be held accountable when many will necessarily have their backs facing the instructor? How can instructors evaluate the effectiveness of their teaching in these spaces? This book is intended for faculty preparing to teach in or already working in this new classroom environment for administrators planning to create ALCs or experimenting with provisionally designed rooms and for faculty developers helping teachers transition to using these new spaces.
