Crime Aboriginality And The Decolonisation Of Justice:

Crime, Aboriginality and the Decolonisation of Justice Harry Blagg, 2016 Crime Aboriginality and the Decolonisation of Justice explores contemporary strategies which might reduce the extraordinary levels of imprisonment and victimisation suffered by Aboriginal people in Australia These are problems that continue to rise despite numerous inquiries and reports Harry Blagg disputes the relevance of the western urban criminological paradigm to the Aboriginal domain and questions the application of both contemporary innovations such as restorative justice and mainstream models of policing He also refutes allegations that Aboriginal customary laws condone violence against women and children pointing to the wealth of research to the contrary and suggests these laws contain considerable potential for renewal and healing This book maintains that unresolved questions of colonisation decolonisation and sovereignty lie at the heart of debates about criminal justice in post colonial Australia It explores the potential for hybrid initiatives in the complex liminal space between Aboriginal and non Aboriginal domains for example Aboriginal community night patrols community justice groups healing centres and Aboriginal courts This new edition covers emerging issues such as Foetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorders FASD and reports on the consequences of the Commonwealth Government's contentious intervention in remote Northern Territory communities in 2007

Aboriginal Justice and the Charter David Milward, 2012-11-22 Aboriginal Justice and the Charter explores the tension between Aboriginal justice methods and the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms seeking practical ways to implement Aboriginal justice David Milward examines nine legal rights guaranteed by the Charter and undertakes a thorough search for interpretations sensitive to Aboriginal culture Much of the previous literature in this area has dealt with idealized notions of what Aboriginal justice might be Here David Milward strikes out into new territory to examine why Indigenous communities seek to explore different paths in this area and to identify some of the applicable constitutional constraints This book considers a number of specific areas of the criminal justice process in which Indigenous communities may wish to adopt different approaches tests these approaches against constitutional imperatives and offers practical proposals for reconciling the various matters at stake Milward grapples with the difficult questions of how Aboriginal justice systems can be fair to its constituents while complying with the protections guaranteed all Canadians by the Charter

Neurodisability and the Criminal Justice System Lansdell, Gaye T., Saunders, Bernadette J., Eriksson, Anna, 2021-09-07 This thought provoking book highlights the increasing recognition of the prevalence of neurodisability within criminal justice systems discussing conditions including intellectual cognitive and behavioural impairments fetal alcohol spectrum disorders and traumatic and acquired brain injury International scholars and practitioners demonstrate the extent and complexity of the neurodisability experience and present practical solutions for criminal justice reform The Oxford Handbook of Ethnicity, Crime, and Immigration Sandra M. Bucerius, Michael H. Tonry, 2014 This title provides comprehensive analyses of current knowledge about the unwarranted disparities in dealings with the criminal justice system faced by some disadvantaged minority groups in all developed countries

Culture, Diversity, and Criminal Justice Alex Workman, Ranya Kaddour, Patricia M. Griffin, 2023-05-23 This ground breaking textbook engages readers in conversation about responding to the effects of diversity within formal criminal justice systems in Westernized nation states Moving past a binary concept of diversity that involves only race and gender this book elaborates upon a wide variety of other forms of diversity including sexuality disability mental health gendered identity refugees the young and the ageing and culturally and linguistically diverse CALD peoples with an awareness of how intersecting identities make some people more vulnerable than others With reported statistics providing only a snapshot of the incongruent experiences of diverse minorities in contact with criminal justice systems there is a clear need for nuanced training and accessible information regarding diversity in criminal justice The book examines diversity in terms of both criminal justice agents and justice involved individuals such as people in prison those convicted of crimes the victimized and the community This volume brings together a group of international scholars to articulate on each of the identified populations examining the effect of culture and diversity on criminal justice outcomes and outlining how those diverse perspectives can improve criminal justice service delivery overall Incorporating case studies reflections and activity questions this book is a valuable resource for courses in criminology criminal justice corrections and law enforcement and is ideal for any program focusing on multiculturalism and diversity in criminal justice Scholars researchers and professionals will also benefit from the analysis

Crime, Justice and Human Rights Leanne Weber, Elaine Fishwick, Marinella Marmo, 2017-09-16 A specialized introduction to the philosophy law and politics of human rights uniquely tailored to criminologists and criminal justice practitioners Exploring the connections between existing criminological scholarship and human rights frameworks the book helps readers to incorporate human rights paradigms into their criminological analysis

Decolonising Criminology Harry Blagg, Thalia Anthony, 2019-11-23 This book undertakes an exploratory exercise in decolonizing criminology through engaging postcolonial and postdisciplinary perspectives and methodologies Through its historical and political analysis and place based case studies it challenges criminological inquiry by installing colonial structures of power at the centre of the contemporary criminological debate This work unseats the Western nation state as the singular point of departure for comparative criminological and socio legal research Decolonising Criminology argues that postcolonial and postdisciplinary critique can open up new pathways for criminological investigation It builds on recent debates in criminology from outside of the Anglosphere The authors deploy a number of heuristic devices perspectives and theories generally ignored by criminologists of the Global North and engage perspectives concerned with articulating new decolonised epistemologies of the Global South This book disputes the view that colonisation is a thing of the past and provides lessons for the Global North

The Palgrave Handbook of Criminology and the Global South Kerry Carrington, Russell Hogg, John Scott, Máximo Sozzo, 2018-01-12 The first comprehensive collection of its kind this handbook addresses the problem of knowledge production in criminology redressing the global imbalance with an original focus on the Global South Issues of vital criminological research and policy significance abound in the Global South with important implications for South North relations as well as global security and justice In a world of high speed communication technologies and fluid national borders empire building has shifted from colonising territories to colonising knowledge The authors of this volume question whose voices experiences and theories are reflected in the discipline and argue that diversity of discourse is more important now than ever before Approaching the subject from a range of historical theoretical and social perspectives this collection promotes the Global South not only as a space for the production of knowledge but crucially as a source of innovative research and theory on crime and justice Wide ranging in scope and authoritative in theory this study will appeal to scholars activists policy makers and students from a wide range of social science disciplines from both the Global North and South including criminal justice human rights and penology

The Top Books of the Year Crime Aboriginality And The Decolonisation Of Justice The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous engrossing novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of top-selling books, exploring the fascinating narratives that have enthralled audiences this year. Crime Aboriginality And The Decolonisation Of Justice : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This touching tale of love, loss, and resilience has gripped readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover masterfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can triumph. Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reid's "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This spellbinding historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reid's compelling storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens' "Where the Crawdads Sing" This mesmerizing coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens crafts a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These top-selling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of compelling stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is an exceptional and thrilling novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
