De Hongerwinter Van Dolle Dinsdag Tot Bevrijding:

De hongerwinter Henri van der Zee, 1989 Beschrijving van de periode september 1944 tot juni 1945 in het door de Duitsers bezet gehouden noorden en westen van Nederland De hongerwinter David Barnouw, 1999 The Hunger Winter Ingrid de Zwart, 2020-07-23 A pioneering study on the causes and consequences of the Dutch famine of 1944 1945

Enterprise in the Period of Fascism in Europe Harold James, 2017-07-05 The essays in this volume consider the involvement of business corporations and of individual businessmen in the politics of the 1930s and 1940s in the move away from the market and also from democracy towards state control and authoritarianism including the massive intervention of the state in property rights How far did businesses attempt to guide this intervention for their own purposes and to what extent did they succeed This debate deals centrally with the role of German business of banks of industrial corporations and of small tradesmen in the Nazi regime An older discussion of how they may have facilitated the Nazi takeover has been supplemented here by an investigation into how they made the regime's policies possible and the extent to which the profit motive drove them to participate with sometimes more sometimes less enthusiasm in the politics of inhumanity Such discussion has been given further impetus by legal action initially in the United States in the form of class action suits on behalf of the victims of Nazism What do such legal and political debates mean for business history What are the current responsibilities of business facing the consequences of historical action And what lessons should be learned concerning the ethics of business behaviour The contributions to this volume were originally presented as papers at a conference organised by the Society for European Business History in Paris in November 1998 Western and Northern Europe June

1942-1945 Katja Happe, Barbara Lambauer, Clemens Maier-Wolthausen, 2022-08-01 Executive editors Katja Happe Barbara Lambauer and Clemens Maier Wolthausen with Maja Peers English language edition prepared by Elizabeth Harvey Johannes Gamm Georg Felix Harsch Dorothy Mas and Caroline Pearce In summer 1942 the Germans escalated the systematic deportations of Jews from Western and Northern Europe to the extermination camps In most of the countries under German control the occupying forces initially focused on arresting foreign and stateless Jews thereby securing the cooperation of local authorities However before long the entire Jewish population was targeted for deportation This volume documents the parallels and differences in the persecution of Jews in occupied Norway Denmark the Netherlands Belgium Luxembourg and France in the period from summer 1942 to liberation it records the implementation of the systematic deportation and murder of Jews from Western and Northern Europe and it also records the rescue of more than 5 000 Danish Jews In letters and diary entries the persecuted Jews describe their attempts to flee life in hiding the transit camps and deportation transports that often took several days In Westerbork camp in the occupied Netherlands Bob Cahen himself an inmate recorded in his diary the arrival in the camp of 17 000 Jews from across the Netherlands in October 1942 People arrived here herded like livestock Some were buried beneath their luggage others without any possessions at all not even properly dressed Women in poor health who had been hauled out of bed in thin nightgowns children in undergarments and barefoot the elderly the ill the infirm more and more new people came to the camp The sources in the volume show how the perpetrators attempted to dupe their victims regarding the destination of the transports and how Jewish organizations attempted to alleviate the suffering of the deportees The documents additionally illustrate how the resistance movement gained momentum during this period

Economic Adjustment and Political Transformation in Small States Erik Jones, 2008-05-08 The smaller countries of Western Europe have a reputation for being more successful than their larger neighbours They are wealthier per capita they are more stable politically and they are more flexible economically The secret to this success lies in their consensual style of politics and their corporatist style of decision making Unfortunately however that may be about to change A political transformation underway in small states is undermining the politics of consensus and breakdown the effectiveness of corporatist institutions Small countries are becoming increasingly vulnerable to the vicissitudes of world markets as a result Belgium and the Netherlands offer clear examples of the problem at hand The political societies of both countries were tightly organized to avoid conflict and to promote consensus Over time however this tight organization has broken down politicians have opted for conflict over consensus and elections have become more volatile as a result In turn this political transformation of Belgium and the Netherlands has undermined their traditional approach to economic policymaking and economic adjustment Belgium and the Netherlands are now more vulnerable to world market forces than at any time since the end of the 1970s Their relative economic and political success can no longer be taken for granted The relative success of other small states should be brought into question as well

The Hunger Winter Henri A. Van Der Zee, 1998-01-01 Germany invaded the Netherlands in the spring of 1940 Life in occupied Holland was hideous enough but for the Dutch the worst was yet to come After the Western Allies lost the Battle of Arnhem in September 1944 the Dutch provinces north of the Rhine and Waal Rivers were in the hands of the Germans and to the south fighting raged for months In the winter of 1944-45 just as other parts of Europe were being liberated the Dutch seemed forsaken by the Allies who bypassed Holland on their drive to Berlin That last winter of the war with its severe food and fuel shortages was a terrible one for the Dutch people who also suffered from episodes of Nazi terrorism In some provinces there was nothing to eat but tulip bulbs and sugar beets and eighteen thousand Dutch civilians actually starved to death Henri van der Zee who was ten years old that winter remembers what happened to his people
