Democracy Dialogue And Community Action Truth And Reconciliation In Greensboro:

Democracy, Dialogue, and Community Action Spoma Jovanovic, 2012-11-01 On November 3 1979 five protest marchers in Greensboro North Carolina were shot and killed by the Ku Klux Klan and the American Nazi Party There were no police present but television crews captured the shootings on video Despite two criminal trials none of the killers ever served time for their crimes exposing what many believed to be the inadequacy of judicial political and economic systems in the United States Twenty five years later in 2004 Greensboro residents inspired by post apartheid South Africa initiated a Truth and Reconciliation Commission TRC to take public testimony and examine the causes sequence of events and consequences of the massacre The TRC was to be a process and a tool by which citizens could feel confident about the truth of the city's history in order to reconcile divergent understandings of past and current city values and it became the foundation for the first Truth and Reconciliation Commission in the United States Spoma Jovanovic who worked alongside other community members to document the grassroots effort to convene the first TRC in the United States provides a resource and case study of how citizens in one community used their TRC as a way to understand the past and conceive the future This book preserves the historical significance of a people's effort to seek truth and work for reconciliation shows a variety of discourse models for other communities to use in seeking to redress past harms and demonstrates the power of community action to promote participatory democracy

Democracy, Dialogue, and Community Action Spoma Jovanovic, 2012-11-01 History of the First Truth and Reconciliation Commission in the United States

Human Rights and Justice for All Carrie Walling, 2022-02-16 Human rights is an empowering framework for understanding and addressing justice issues at local domestic and international levels This book combines US based case studies with examples from other regions of the world to explore important human rights themes the equality universality and interdependence of human rights the idea of international crimes strategies of human rights change and justice and reconciliation in the aftermath of human rights violations From Flint and Minneapolis to Xinjiang and Mt Sinjar this book challenges a wide variety of readers students professors activists human rights professionals and concerned citizens to consider how human rights apply to their own lives and equip them to be changemakers in their own communities

Crimes against Humanity in the Land of the Free Imani Michelle Scott, 2014-08-20 This vital book considers the compelling and addictive hold that racism has had on centuries of Americans explores historical and contemporary norms complicit in the problem and appeals to the U S government to improve race relations rectify existent social imperfections and guard against future race based abuses Despite an assertion by the founding fathers that all men are created equal and the Fourteenth Amendment to the U S Constitution that guarantees equal protection the race based oppression that has characterized most of America's history shows that in practice our society has rarely measured up to principle Why has deep seated racial conflict in America continued for so long This unprecedented examination into the topic explores the evidence and consequences of what seems to be an addiction to racism in the United States analyzing the related disconnect between our nation's stated moral principles and social realities and assessing how U.S. citizens of all races can take individual action to start the long needed healing process. The contributors to this work present interdisciplinary perspectives and discussions on American history, politics, philosophy, and 21st century psycho-social conditions as they relate to the oppression, social injustice, and racism that have occurred and continue to occur in the United States. The discussions allow readers to grasp the serious challenges at hand and direct them towards recognizing the potential for conflict transformation and reconciliation through a non-conventional co-created Truth Reconciliation and Peace Process (TRPP) to begin resolving America's dysfunction. This is essential reading for anyone who seeks to understand the sources of perpetual racially based conflict, disparity, and hatred in the United States, identify the social injuries of exposure to centuries of racism, move America towards harmonious interracial relationships, and improve its international standing as a peace building nation that is truly committed to human rights throughout the world. Creating

Space for Democracy Timothy J. Shaffer, Nicholas V. Longo, 2023-07-03 We live in divisive and polarizing times, often remaining in comfortable social bubbles and experiencing few genuine interactions with people who are different or with whom we disagree. Stepping out and turning to one another is difficult but necessary. For our democracy to thrive at a time when we face wicked problems that involve tough trade-offs, it is vital that all citizens participate fully in the process. We need to learn to listen, think, and act with others to solve public problems. This collaborative task begins with creating space for democracy. This book provides a guide for doing so on campus through deliberation and dialogue. At the most basic level, this book describes collaborative and relational work to engage with others and co-create meaning. Specifically, dialogue and deliberation are processes in which a diverse group of people moves toward making a collective decision on a difficult public issue. This primer offers a blueprint for achieving the civic mission of higher education by incorporating dialogue and deliberation into learning at colleges and universities. It opens by providing a conceptual framework with leading voices in the dialogue and deliberation field, providing insights on issues pertinent to college campuses: free speech and academic freedom, neutrality, and the role of deliberation in civic engagement. Subsequent sections describe a diverse range of methods and approaches used by several organizations that pioneered and sustained deliberative practices, outline some of the many ways in which educators and institutions are using dialogue and deliberation in curricular, co-curricular, and community spaces, including venues such as student centers, academic libraries, and residence halls. All of the chapters, including a Resource Section, provide readers with a starting point for conceptualizing and implementing their own deliberation and dialogue initiatives. This book, intended for all educators who are concerned about democracy, imparts the power and impact of public talk, offers the insights and experiences of leading practitioners, and provides the grounding to adopt or adapt the models in their own settings to create educative spaces and experiences that are humanizing, authentic, and productive. It is an important resource for campus leaders, student affairs practitioners, librarians, and centers of institutional diversity community engagement teaching excellence and service learning as well as faculty particularly those in the fields of communication studies education and political science A Co Publication with AAC U and Campus Compact A 21st Century Ethical Toolbox Anthony Weston,2018 A 21st Century Ethical Toolbox invites students to think beyond the rigid pro and con positions of tough ethical problems by developing creative problem solving skills moral vision and genuine dialogue Provocative selections from a wide range of philosophers essayists community activists and students are interwoven with Weston s own discussions to equip students with the tools they need to think critically about contentious issues

Truth in the Public Sphere Jason Hannan,2016-10-20 Has truth become a casualty of America s increasingly caustic and volatile political culture Truth in the Public Sphere seeks to understand the significance of truth for the everyday world of human communication To this end this book explores the place of truth in several facets of the public sphere language ethics journalism politics media and art Featuring an international group of contributors from across the humanities and social sciences this collection is a definitive supplement to theoretical debates about the meaning and status of truth

Mourning in America David W. McIvor,2016-10-20 Recent years have brought public mourning to the heart of American politics as exemplified by the spread and power of the Black Lives Matter movement which has gained force through its identification of pervasive social injustices with individual losses The deaths of Sandra Bland Michael Brown Freddie Gray Trayvon Martin Tamir Rice Walter Scott and so many others have brought private grief into the public sphere The rhetoric and iconography of mourning has been noteworthy in Black Lives Matter protests but David W McIvor believes that we have paid too little attention to the nature of social mourning its relationship to private grief its practices and its pathologies and democratic possibilities In Mourning in America McIvor addresses significant and urgent questions about how citizens can mourn traumatic events and enduring injustices in their communities McIvor offers a framework for analyzing the politics of mourning drawing from psychoanalysis Greek tragedy and scholarly discourses on truth and reconciliation Mourning in America connects these literatures to ongoing activism surrounding racial injustice and it contextualizes Black Lives Matter in the broader politics of grief and recognition McIvor also examines recent grassroots organized truth and reconciliation processes such as the Greensboro Truth and Reconciliation Commission 2004 2006 which provided a public examination of the Greensboro Massacre of 1979 a deadly incident involving local members of the Communist Workers Party and the Ku Klux Klan

Expression in Contested Public Spaces Spoma Jovanovic,2021-08-06 Expression in Contested Public Spaces Free Speech and Civic Engagement addresses how people express themselves and their differences in ways that amplify the many voices central to the mission of democracy This book investigates in what ways and in what discursive forms people interrupt the status quo or unjust practices to advance positive social change The chapters feature research activity engaged scholarship and creative expression to boldly frame the issues of free speech amid attempts to chill and silence expressions of dissent in order to demonstrate how community organizers activists and scholars use their voices to advance peace and justice befitting the human condition Scholars and students of communication and the social sciences will find this book particularly interesting Truth and Reconciliation Thomas E. Malewitz, 2024-02-15 Framed within the lens of Robert Greenleaf's Servant Leadership model Truth and Reconciliation examines and explores trends through global historical accounts and examples of diplomatic leadership surrounding the Truth and Reconciliation Commissions of South Africa and Canada as a guide to approach America's divided identity and racial tensions Through the wisdom and diplomacy illustrated during the transition of a South African nation defined by legal racial segregation of apartheid to democracy as well as a Canadian national identity deeply scarred through the cultural genocide of generations of First Nations children and families through the abusive Residential School system and the Sixties Scoop it is the hope that this manuscript will offer insights as well as a theological lens for reflection to approach a nonviolent narrative based option of seeking truth and the first steps toward reconciliation beyond cyclic ideologies By highlighting the historical parallels between South Africa Canada and America this manuscript serves as a conversation starter offering reflective stories and activities to help establish an initial dialogue in a nation whose consciousness remains deeply rooted in unresolved cultural conflict from Indigenous genocide as well as the residual deep cultural challenges and stereotypes of American slavery ideology and practices
