Perspectives on Connectivity in the Ancient Mediterranean Jill Hilditch, Martina Revello Lami, 2025-10-01 The identification of ceramic imports within prehistoric and historic assemblages has long been the primary indicator for identifying connections between different sites and regions Yet this has fostered a presence absence diagnosis for contact between different communities Approaches such as post colonial perspectives and network analysis which focus on the nature of the connections are now beginning to offer more meaningful ways of considering past interactions These approaches can bridge the traditional divide between prehistoric and historic and offer a valuable contribution to the wider study of past interactions in the ancient Mediterranean The geographical or topographical setting of an archaeological site is often acknowledged as an important factor in their significance or how well connected the community was within the cultural landscape But to what extent do geographical categories such as island coast mainland or hinterland influence modern ideas on the dynamics of these ancient communities This volume uses ceramic studies across multiple spatial and diachronic scales to provide new insights into the connectivity of ancient Mediterranean communities Ceramics in America 2017 Robert Hunter,2017-12-31 The 2017 volume of Ceramics in America contains the final contribution from Ivor Nol Hume a long time friend and contributor to the journal and fourteen articles highlighting important ceramic discoveries from archaeological contexts in St Augustine Florida Charleston South Carolina New Orleans Louisiana Alexandria Hampton Williamsburg and Jamestown Virginia St Mary s City London Town and Annapolis Maryland Philadelphia Pennsylvania New York New York and Boston and Plymouth Massachusetts Anyone with an interest in America s ceramic history will enjoy the diversity of ceramic forms and types that have been uncovered through archaeological research The remarkable finds discussed here range from a sixteenth century Spanish majolica dish found in St Augustine to a late nineteenth century Zuni water jar recovered from an urban New Orleans well This volume will be an important resource for years to come Now in its seventeenth year of publication Ceramics in America is considered the journal of record for historical ceramics scholarship in the American context and is intended for collectors historical archaeologists curators decorative arts students social historians and contemporary potters Each year Ceramics in America opens a window on most aspects of American life public and private imported and native industrial and aesthetic social and economic and on all cultures betwixt and between Philip Zea President Historic Deerfield Inc Ceramics in America is a highly important publication in the field of ceramics research Always stunningly produced it can be counted on to provide the latest research into a variety of topics that impact our understanding of ceramics production and consumption in America Suzanne R F Hood Curator of Ceramics and Glass Colonial Williamsburg Foundation Advanced Ceramic Materials Ashutosh Tiwari,Rosario A.
