Decolonizing Development Colonial Power And The Maya:

Decolonizing Development Joel Wainwright, 2008-02-11 Unsettling the Colonial geographies of southern Belize The matter of the Maya farm system An archaeology of Mayanism From colonial to development knowledge Charles Wright and the battles over the Columbia River Forest Settling fieldwork in the ruins of development Finishing the critique of cultural ecology reading the Maya Atlas Embodying Ecological Heritage in a Maya Community Kristina Baines, 2015-12-29 Embodying Ecological Heritage in a Maya Community Health Happiness and Identity provides an ethnographic account of life in a rural farming village in southern Belize focusing on the connections between traditional ecological practices and the health and wellness of the Maya community living there It discusses how complex histories ecologies and development practices are negotiated by individuals of all ages and the community at large detailing how they interact with their changing environments The study has wide applicability for indigenous communities fighting for rights to manage their lands across the globe as well as for considering how health is connected to heritage practices in communities worldwide Dams, Displacement, and the Delusion of Development Allen F. Isaacman, Barbara S. Isaacman, 2013-04-10 Cahora Bassa Dam on the Zambezi River built in the early 1970s during the final years of Portuguese rule was the last major infrastructure project constructed in Africa during the turbulent era of decolonization Engineers and hydrologists praised the dam for its technical complexity and the skills required to construct what was then the world's fifth largest mega dam Portuguese colonial officials cited benefits they expected from the dam from expansion of irrigated farming and European settlement to improved transportation throughout the Zambezi River Valley to reduced flooding in this area of unpredictable rainfall The project however actually resulted in cascading layers of human displacement violence and environmental destruction Its electricity benefited few Mozambicans even after the former guerrillas of FRELIMO Frente de Libertação de Moçambique came to power instead it fed industrialization in apartheid South Africa Richard Roberts This in depth study of the region examines the dominant developmentalist narrative that has surrounded the dam chronicles the continual violence that has accompanied its existence and gives voice to previously unheard narratives of forced labor displacement and historical and contemporary life in the dam's shadow Producing Mayaland Claudia Fonseca Alfaro, 2023-04-10 Producing Mayaland Producing Mayaland powerfully captures the extent to which the abstract spaces of global capital are infused with colonial fantasies haunted by uncanny ruins and plagued by monstrous manifestations of ecological breakdown Through a compelling account of the maquiladora industry in the Yucatan Peninsula Claudia Fonseca Alfaro vividly conveys the inextricable entanglements of the capitalist production of space and the colonality of power Japhy Wilson School of Social Sciences University of Manchester UK In Producing Mayaland Claudia Fonseca Alfaro finds a unique voice to narrate the contested relations between everyday life urbanization and the uneven development of capitalism in Motul Yucatán Mexico The remarkable insights of this work emerge from her innovative synthesis of critical urban theory anticolonialism and magical realism all grounded in an imaginative appropriation of Henri Lefebvre's oeuvre on the production of space Kanishka Goonewardena Professor of Geography and Planning University of Toronto Critical urban theory and postcolonial approaches are brought together in this compelling book to explore the relationship between colonial legacies urbanization and global capitalism in southern Mexico Producing Mayaland investigates the boom to bust story of maquiladoras in the state of Yucatán to shed light on how the built environment was shaped by discourse imaginaries and everyday practices In making sense of this social production of space the author examines infrastructure constructed to support the maquiladora project and traces the attempts of the state to portray Yucatán as an exotic and business friendly maquiladora paradise These practices stand in contrast to the livelihood strategies and life stories of maquiladora workers and residents Carefully weaving geography history and ethnography the author draws on a wide range of sources to illustrate a central tension in capitalism its tendency to homogenize while thriving in differentiation With important insights into an understudied location Producing Mayaland urges us to understand urbanization in the global South in new ways

Governing Maya Communities and Lands in Belize Laurie Kroshus Medina, 2024-05-17 In Belize conservation NGOs push for wildlife sanctuaries to protect endangered ecosystems State actors authorize timber extraction to generate revenue for debt repayment Maya communities dispossessed by state and NGO strategies pursue claims for Indigenous rights to lands This book explores the conflicting forms of governance that emerge as these trajectories intersect

Liquid Democracy Yu-Shan Tseng, 2025-03-17 This timely book carefully interrogates the increasingly fraught intersections of the digital the city and democracy It is a book that will endure bristling as it is with thoughtful reflection and insight on the democratic challenges that unfold amidst the ordinary troubled and generative digital worlds of cities as different as Madrid Taipei and Helsinki Amidst the work of policymakers activists and engineers what emerges is a hopeful exploration of what digital democracy platforms might enable Professor Colin McFarlane Durham University This vital book moves beyond a universal analysis of the effects of social media platforms on liberal democracy Through an in depth examination of civic platforms in Finland Spain and Taiwan Tseng provides a compelling and nuanced empirical and theoretical analysis of the contingent relationship between platforms place and democracy Professor Rob Kitchin Maynooth University Reimagining Democracy in the Digital and Urban Age How can democracy adapt and thrive in a world reshaped by artificial intelligence and digital platforms In Liquid Democracy author Yu Shan Tseng offers a bold new framework for understanding democracy as a dynamic fluid process Challenging the idea that AI and digital tools are inherently anti democratic this innovative volume bridges theory and practice to investigate various liquid conditions a novel concept capturing how political action flows and transforms like water within the intersections of urban spaces and digital technologies Through an in depth comparative study of three groundbreaking digital democracy platforms Decide Madrid in Madrid OmaStadi in Helsinki and vTaiwan in Taipei Tseng explores how digital platforms can foster participatory governance pluralism and alternative democratic futures In depth chapters critically examine the interactions between humans algorithms and urban systems revealing how digital tools reconfigure the boundaries of political participation decision making and collective action Throughout the text Tseng offers fresh insights into how democracy emerges under contingent conditions shaped by technology and geography Drawing from years of ethnographic fieldwork Liquid Democracy is essential reading for master s and PhD students in geography political science and urban studies as well as scholars practitioners and policymakers interested in digital governance smart cities civic technology and algorithmic politics

Geographies of Developing Areas Glyn Williams, Paula Meth, Katie Willis, 2014-03-21 Geographies of Developing Areas is a thought provoking and accessible introductory text presenting a fresh view of the Global South that challenges students pre conceptions and promotes lively debate Rather than presenting the Global South as a set of problems from rapid urbanization to poverty this book focuses on the diversity of life in the South and looks at the role the South plays in shaping and responding to current global change The core contents of the book integrate traditional concerns of development geographers such as economic development and social inequality with aspects of the global South that are usually given less attention such as cultural identity and political conflict This edition has been fully updated to reflect recent changes in the field and highlight issues of security risk and violence environmental sustainability and climate change and the impact of ICT on patterns of North South and South South exchange It also challenges students to think about how space is important in both the directions and the outcomes of change in the Global South emphasizing the inherently spatial nature of political economic and socio cultural processes Students are introduced to the Global South via contemporary debates in development and current research in cultural economic and political geographies of developing areas The textbook consider how images of the so called Third World are powerful but problematic It explores the economic political and cultural processes shaping the South at the global scale and the impact that these have on people s lives and identities Finally the text considers the possibilities and limitations of different development strategies The main arguments of the book are richly illustrated through case study material drawn from across the Global South as well as full colour figures and photos Students are supported throughout with clear examples explanations of key terms ideas and debates and introductions to the wider literature and relevant websites in the field The pedagogical features of the book have been further developed through discussion questions and activities that provide focused tasks for students research including investigation based around the book s case studies and in depth exploration of debates and concepts it introduces Indigenous Reconciliation in Contemporary Taiwan Scott E. Simon, Jolan Hsieh, Peter Kang, 2022-11-04 This book draws attention to the issues of Indigenous justice and reconciliation in Taiwan exploring how Indigenous actors affirm their rights through explicitly political and legal strategies but also through subtle forms of justice work in films language instruction museums and handicraft production Taiwan s Indigenous peoples have been colonized by successive external regimes mobilized into war for Imperial Japan stigmatized as primitive mountain compatriots in need of modernization and instrumentalized as proof of Taiwan s unique identity vis vis

China Taiwan's government now encapsulates them in democratic institutions of indigeneity This volume emphasizes that there is new hope for real justice in an era in which states and Indigenous peoples seek meaningful forms of reconciliation at all levels and arenas of social life The chapters written by leading Indigenous Taiwanese and international scholars in their respective fields examine concrete situations in which Indigenous peoples seek justice and decolonization from the perspectives of territory and sovereignty social work and justice Illustrating that there is new hope for real justice in an era in which states and Indigenous peoples seek meaningful forms of reconciliation this book is an invaluable resource for students and scholars of Taiwan Studies Indigenous Studies and Social Justice Studies
