Both Adichie and Mah allude to a famous writer to end their extracts in a hopeful tone. Adichie alludes to Alice Walker, a popular African American writer who exposed the challenges African American women faced in 1980s America. She quotes Alice Walker as saying that when a whole picture became clear, a “paradise was regained.” The “paradise” is a metaphor for a world in which people do not judge others by a stereotype, or a “single story”. Perhaps she selected Alice Walker to quote as she gave a minority race, often stereotyped and victim of prejudice, a ‘story’, the very message that is illustrated by Adichie’s TED talk. Similarly, Mah alludes to a popular writer at the end of her text, the poet William Wordsworth. She quotes the line “Bliss was it in that dawn to be alive.” Perhaps she selected Wordsworth to demonstrate to the reader her love for writing and literature, a hint to the reader that she still aspired to be a writer rather than a doctor. She found hope in her father’s offer to send her to England, bringing her one step closer to her dreams, and was grateful. This reflects the meaning of the quote; Wordsworth was expressing gratitude for life in the selected quote with the powerful adjective “bliss” meaning complete happiness and peace. Conclusively, both writers allude to famous writers to reinforce their points to the reader of hope in an unfair situation; Adichie that there is hope in the future as more stories are shared, and Mah that there is hope for her future to pursue her dreams of writing.
