Cornelsen English G 21:

Inter- and Transcultural Learning in the Context of Canadian Young Adult Fiction Grit Alter, 2015 Within the past few years transcultural learning has become one of the key terms in TEFL theory Central concerns in current research include differentiating between inter and transcultural learning navigating processes of understanding otherness and assessing cultural competences Using these aspects this study investigates texts recommended for cultural learning and key components of implementing literature in ELT The results call for a more holistic perception of alterity and argue in favour of transcultural literature as a basis for transcultural learning All of this dissertation is in English Subjects Literary Criticism Education Series Fremdsprachendidaktik in globaler Perspektive Vol 5

English G 21 für Gymnasien Jana Schubert, Manuela Feierabend-Vonhausen, Hellmut Schwarz, 2010 Language Acquisition in CLIL and Non-CLIL Settings Verena Möller, 2017-12-15 Language Acquisition in CLIL and Non CLIL Settings builds a bridge between Second Language Acquisition and Learner Corpus Research LCR methodologies to take the evaluation of Content and Language Integrated Learning CLIL to a new level The study innovates in two main ways First it is based on a highly diversified L2 database which includes learner corpus data as well as experimental data from the same learners These linguistic components of the database are complemented with extensive information on learner variables including cognitive and affective factors which are rarely studied in LCR Second the study relies on multifactorial statistical analyses to assess the effectiveness of CLIL itself as well as the impact of the selectivity inherent in the CLIL system which has frequently been ignored The linguistic focus of the study is the English passive which is investigated in CLIL and non CLIL teaching materials and subsequently related to learner output

Gender and Language Learning Daniela Elsner, Viviane Lohe, 2016-06-13 Although Gender Studies have found their way into most domains of academic research and teaching they are not directly in the spotlight of foreign language teaching pedagogy and research However teachers are confronted with gender issues in the language classroom everyday By the use of language alone they construct or deconstruct gender roles with the choice of topics they shape gender identities in the classroom and their ways of approaching pupils clearly mirrors their gender sensitivity The book Gender and Language Learning aims at raising awareness towards gender issues in different areas of foreign language teaching and learning The primary objective of the book is to spark university students trainee teachers and in service teachers analysis and reflection of gender relations in the foreign language learning and teaching section

Textbook Analysis of Cornelsen's English G21 - A 1 from an English as a Lingua Franca-aware Perspective Lea-Christin Klaas, 2023-11-10 Seminar paper from the year 2020 in the subject Didactics for the subject English Grammar Style Working Technique grade 1 7 University of Dortmund Institut für Anglistik und Amerikanistik course Hauptseminar Fachdidaktik language English abstract This paper deals with the analysis of Cornelsen's English G 21 A1 textbook for secondary schools published in 2007 for students in year 5 from an English as a lingua franca aware perspective First the theoretical framework will be presented where important definitions such as English as a lingua franca will be explained Afterward the applied chapter will be presented with its learning goals and strategies and a short reference concerning the curriculum will be made In the analysis the first chapter of the textbook will be examined and evaluated by applying Syrbe and Roses research questions as well as the criteria from Galloway and a few other interesting aspects to look at Finally a conclusion will be drawn regarding the teaching material and the own future teaching In this paper a textbook will be analyzed from an English as a lingua franca aware perspective A lingua franca describes a contact language that is a vehicular language between speakers that do not share a first language so for example a German and a French agreeing on talking English because the German does not speak French and the other way around Here it is important to say that this does not only include face to face communication but all types of communication including via the internet and everywhere in the world A Cognitive Grammar Approach to Teaching Tense and Aspect in the L2 Context Franka Kermer,2016-05-11 This volume links Cognitive Grammar explanations to the area of second language learning and instructed grammar teaching It represents a contribution to empirically based knowledge promoting a new perspective on the process of teaching and learning about English language structures The theoretical part of the book provides an overview of the basic tenets of Cognitive Grammar and discusses elements of the theory that are of crucial importance for understanding English tense and aspect structures The second part brings together these two fields of study and tests a Cognitive Grammar approach to teaching tense and aspect to less advanced learners of English To this end an experimental study was conducted comparing the effects of Cognitive Grammar inspired instruction on the language learning process with those of teaching methods which employ more traditional grammatical descriptions As such the book is of particular relevance to Cognitive Grammar research and second language learning and teaching research and for learners and teachers of a foreign language Pluricentric Languages and Language Education Marcus Callies,Stefanie Hehner,2022-11-29 This book maps out the pedagogical implications of the global spread and diversification of pluricentric languages for language education and showcases new approaches that can take account of linguistic diversity Moving the discussion of contemporary norms aims and approaches to pluricentric languages in language education beyond English this book provides a multilingual comparative perspective through case study examples of Spanish French German Portuguese Dutch and Vietnamese The chapters document compare and evaluate existing practices in the teaching of pluricentric languages and highlights different pedagogical approaches that embrace their variability and diversity Presenting approaches to overcome barriers to innovation in language education the book will be of great interest to academics researchers doctoral students in the field of language education as well as socio and applied linguists Practitioners interested in linguistic diversity more broadly will also find this book engaging The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 license English G 21 ANONIMO,Susan Abbey,Jennifer Seidl,2008 The Application of Current Second Language

Acquisition Research in Instructed Language Learning. A Closer Look at two German School Books Lutz Chrobok, 2023-02-20
Bachelor Thesis from the year 2013 in the subject Didactics for the subject English Pedagogy Literature Studies grade 1 7
Christian Albrechts University of Kiel Englisch language English abstract This bachelor thesis deals with the implementation of results from the field of second language acquisition research In the introduction the main idea and approach of the work is presented The guiding question is Are current research results used in schools and if so how For this purpose the two leading textbooks in Germany are examined against previously established principles of second language acquisition The base text for establishing these principles is Principles of Instructed Language Learning by Ellis Rod 2005 Following the introduction the textbooks Green Line and English G 21 are briefly introduced and their selection is explained In both cases the fifth grade editions are analyzed due to these grades being at the beginning of their learning and because many of the principles established contain a special focus on this phase of learning Furthermore the curriculum itself is also considered as it has a significant influence on the content of the textbooks The second chapter then deals with the establishment of the principles Based on Ellis text current research findings that are directly related to language teaching are summarized and with its help implementation possibilities are suggested These implementation possibilities in turn form the basis of the analysis of the textbooks
