Different Games Different Rules Why Americans And Japanese Misunderstand Each Other:

Different Games, Different Rules Haru Yamada, 2002 In a lucid and insightful discussion Yamada outlines the basic differences between Japanese and American English and analyzes a number of real life business and social interactions in which these differences led to miscommunication By understanding how and why each culture speaks in the way that it does Yamada argues we can learn to avoid frustrating and damaging failures of communication

Different Games, Different Rules Haru Yamada, 2023 An analysis of the problems of communication between the Japanese and American people in the twentieth century Yamada contrasts the American directness with the subtle nuances of meaning in Japanese business and social language to show how misinterpretation can lead to difficulties in interaction between the two races

The Power of Silence Colum Kenny, 2018-03-21 This book demonstrates that silence is eloquent powerful beautiful and even dangerous It surrounds and permeates our daily lives Drawing on a wide range of cross cultural literary and historical sources the author explores the uses and abuses of silence He explains how silence is not associated with solitude alone but has a much broader value within society The main themes of The Power of Silence are positive and negative uses of silence and the various ways in which silence has been understood culturally socially and spiritually The book's objectives are to equip people with a better appreciation of the value of silence and to enable them to explore its benefits and uses more easily for themselves

East Asian Perspectives on Silence in English Language Education Jim King, Seiko Harumi, 2020-06-22 Silence is a key pedagogical issue in language education Seen by some as a space for thinking and reflection during the learning process for others silence represents a threat inhibiting target language interaction which is so vital during second language acquisition This book eschews stereotypes and generalisations about why so many learners from East Asia seem either reluctant or unable to speak in English by providing a state of the art account of current research into the complex and ambiguous issue of silence in language education The innovative research included in this volume focuses on silence both as a barrier to successful learning and as a resource that may in some cases facilitate language acquisition The book offers a fresh perspective on ways to facilitate classroom interaction while also embracing silence and it touches on key pedagogical concepts such as teacher cognition the role of task features classroom interactional approaches pedagogical intervention and socialisation willingness to communicate as well as psychological and sociocultural factors Each of the book's chapters include self reflection and discussion tasks as well as annotated bibliographies for further reading

Professional Communication Winnie Cheng, Kenneth C.C. Kong, 2009-04-01 Professional Communication presents ten studies of communication practices in a variety of professional contexts By drawing on diverse methodologies from fields such as conversation analysis intercultural communication and organizational studies the essays here examine how language is constructed managed and consumed in various professional situations ranging from academic settings to business negotiations One important theme of the book is its emphasis on the collaboration between researchers and professionals

The contributors strongly believe that such collaborative partnership will provide direct implications for improving workplace communication and enhance better understanding of the construction of professional identity and organizational behaviour. This book will appeal to not only scholars and researchers in discourse analysis, intercultural communication and professional studies but also practitioners in the related fields and disciplines.

An Introduction to Language and Linguistics Ralph Fasold, Jeffrey Connor-Linton, 2006-03-06. This accessible textbook is the only introduction to linguistics in which each chapter is written by an expert who teaches courses on that topic, ensuring balanced and uniformly excellent coverage of the full range of modern linguistics. Assuming no prior knowledge, the text offers a clear introduction to the traditional topics of structural linguistics: theories of sound, form, meaning and language change, and in addition provides full coverage of contextual linguistics, including separate chapters on discourse, dialect variation, language and culture, and the politics of language. There are also up-to-date separate chapters on language and the brain, computational linguistics, writing, child language acquisition and second language learning. The breadth of the textbook makes it ideal for introductory courses on language and linguistics offered by departments of English, sociology, anthropology and communications, as well as by linguistics departments.

Languages of Sentiment Gary B. Palmer, Debra J. Occhi, 1999-12-15. Working from Radcliffe Brown's landmark concept of social sentiments, anthropologists and linguists examine pragmatic and cognitive dimensions of emotion in language in several societies. Introductory and concluding chapters devote special attention to emotional consciousness. Chapters cover language primordialism in Tamil, Harold Schiffman's 'the erasure of lamentation in Bangla' in favor of referential language praxis, James Wilce's 'women's discourse in Java that creates dignity by reframing the pain of humiliation', Laine Berman's 'speech styles signalling intimacy and remoteness in Japanese', Cynthia Dunn's 'divergent conceptions of love in Japanese and translated American romance novels', Janet Shibamoto Smith's 'the syntax of emotion mimetics in Japanese', Debra Occhi's 'the grammar of emotion metaphors in Tagalog', Gary Palmer, Heather Bennett and Lester Stacey and 'the lexical organization of emotions in the English and Spanish of second language learners'. Howard Grabois and Zoltán Kvecses, with Palmer, examines the complementary relationship of social construction theory to the search for universals of emotional experience.

Series B

Learner Narratives of Translingual Identities Patrick Kiernan, 2018-08-16. This book addresses translingual identities through an innovative multimodal analysis of the language learning histories of a class of advanced learners of English in Japan who grew up between two or more languages. The author explores both the translingual experiences of those in the classroom and how they use language and gesture when describing their experiences to each other. This approach uses three perspectives: it looks at the worlds and identities the interviewees construct for themselves at their interpersonal communication and at the way they frame their experience. Finally, it offers some lessons based on the observations of the class which reveal the values they share and the key to their success as language learners. It will appeal to applied linguistic and educational researchers, particularly those with an interest in narrative approaches to exploring educational contexts as well as language educators and policy makers interested in gaining a learner perspective on language learning Silence in the Second Language Classroom J. King, 2013-10-31 Why are second language learners in Japan's universities so silent This book investigates the perplexing but intriguing phenomenon of classroom silence and draws on ideas from psychology sociolinguistics and anthropology to offer a unique insight into the reasons why some learners are either unable or unwilling to speak in a foreign language Marketing Across Cultures in Asia Richard R. Gesteland, Georg F. Seyk, 2002 A practical step by step guide for international marketers who are targeting the challenging markets of the Asia Pacific region Packed with useful information and real world examples Marketing Across Cultures in Asia is based on the two authors 35 years of combined hands on experience of managing marketing and negotiating in Asia
