The Colonizer Abroad Christopher McBride, 2004-06 Chapter Introduction chapter 1 Melville's Typee and the Development of the American Colonial Imagination chapter 2 The Colonizing Voice in Cuba Richard Henry Dana Jr's To Cuba and Back A Vacation Voyage chapter 3 The Kings of the Sandwich Islands Mark Twain's Letters from Hawaii and Postbellum American Imperialism chapter 4 Charles Warren Stoddard and the American Homocolonial Literary Excursion chapter 5 And Who Are These White Men Jack London's The House of Pride and American Colonization of the Hawaiian Islands The Colonizer Abroad Christopher McBride, 2004-06-01 Looking at a diverse series of authors Herman Melville Richard Henry Dana Jr Mark Twain Charles Warren Stoddard and Jack London The Colonizer Abroad claims that as the U S emerged as a colonial power in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries the literature of the sea became a literature of imperialism This book applies postcolonial theory to the travel writing of some of America's best known authors revealing the ways in which America's travel fiction and nonfiction have both reflected and shaped society

A Laughable Empire Todd Nathan Thompson, 2023-03-14 In the nineteenth century United States jokes comic anecdotes and bons mots about the Pacific Islands and Pacific Islanders tried to make the faraway and unfamiliar either understandable or completely incomprehensible i e other to American readers A Laughable Empire examines this substantial archival corpus attempting to make sense of nineteenth century American humor about Hawai'i and the rest of the Pacific world Todd Nathan Thompson collects and interprets these comic sometimes racist depictions of Pacific culture in nineteenth century American print culture Drawing on an archive of almanac and periodical humor sea yarns jest books and literary comedy Thompson demonstrates how jokes and humor functioned sometimes in the service of and sometimes in resistance to US imperial ambitions Thompson also includes Indigenous voices and jokes lampooning Americans and their customs to show how humor served as an important cultural contact zone between the United States and the Pacific world He considers how nineteenth century Americans and Pacific Islanders alike used humor to employ stereotypes or to question them to other the unknown or to interrogate laughingly the process by which othering occurs and is disseminated Incisive and detailed A Laughable Empire documents American humor about Pacific geography food dress speech and customs Thompson sheds new light not only on nineteenth century America's imperial ambitions but also on its deep anxieties

Mark Twain & France Paula Harrington, Ronald Jenn, 2017-07-31 Blending cultural history biography and literary criticism this book explores how one of America's greatest icons used the French to help build a new sense of what it is to be American in the second half of the nineteenth century While critics have generally dismissed Mark Twain's relationship with France as hostile Harrington and Jenn see Twain's use of the French as a foil to help construct his identity as the representative American Examining new materials that detail his Montmartre study the carte de visite album and a chronology of his visits to France the book offers close readings of writings that have been largely ignored such as The Innocents Adrift manuscript and the unpublished chapters of A Tramp Abroad combining literary analysis socio historical context and biographical research Australian Travellers in the South Seas Nicholas Halter, 2021-02-08 This book offers a wide ranging survey of Australian engagement with the Pacific Islands in the late 19th and early 20th centuries Through over 100 hitherto largely unexplored accounts of travel the author explores how representations of the Pacific Islands in letters diaries reminiscences books newspapers and magazines contributed to popular ideas of the Pacific Islands in Australia It offers a range of valuable insights into continuities and changes in Australian regional perspectives showing that ordinary Australians were more closely connected to the Pacific Islands than has previously been acknowledged Addressing the theme of travel as a historical literary and imaginative process this cultural history probes issues of nation and empire race and science commerce and tourism by focusing on significant episodes and encounters in history This is a foundational text for future studies of Australia s relations with the Pacific and histories of travel generally Circulating Queerness Natasha Hurley, 2018-06-19 A new history of the queer novel shows its role in constructing gay and lesbian lives The gay and lesbian novel has long been a distinct literary genre with its own awards shelving categories bookstore spaces and book reviews But very little has been said about the remarkable history of its emergence in American literature particularly the ways in which the novel about homosexuality did not just reflect but actively produced queer life Drawing on Mikhail Bakhtin s insight that the history of society is connected to the history of language author Natasha Hurley charts the messy complex movement by which the queer novel produced the very frames that made it legible as a distinct literature and central to the imagination of queer worlds Her vision of the queer novel s development revolves around the bold argument that literary circulation is the key ingredient that has made the gay and lesbian novel and its queer forebears available to its audiences Challenging the narrative that the gay and lesbian novel came into view in response to the emergence of homosexuality as a concept Hurley posits a much longer history of this novelistic genre In so doing she revises our understanding of the history of sexuality as well as of the processes of producing new concepts and the evolution of new categories of language Exploring Travel and Tourism Jennifer Erica Sweda, 2012-03-15 Exploring Travel and Tourism Essays on Journeys and Destinations offers a broad treatment of topics in global travel tourism studies through articles first presented at Travel and Tourism panels at Mid Atlantic Popular American Culture Association conferences between 2007 and 2010 Through archival research close readings and case studies the authors assembled here examine the significance of travel and the tourist experience over the last two hundred years from Borneo to Cuba to Niagara Falls and places in between The contributions seek to unpack the meanings of nationality postcolonialism place gender class and the Self Other dyad as they bump up against the framework of travel studies Taken together the articles speak to central issues in current scholarly debates about travel tourism and culture from various historical geographical and disciplinary perspectives The contributions are grouped thematically into three sections Part I The Personal Travel Narrative Constructing the Self Through Encounters with the Other offers close readings of travelogues both published and unpublished Part II Constructing a National Identity Through Tourism details the ways that nations and states market themselves to tourists Part III The Meaning of Journey The Meaning of Destination investigates places both real and created and the ways people travel to get to them Postmodern Counternarratives Christopher Donovan, 2005-02-10 This book provides a wide ranging discussion of realism postmodernism literary theory and popular fiction before focusing on the careers of four prominent novelists Despite wildly contrasting ambitions and agendas all four grow progressively more sympathetic to the expectations of a mainstream literary audience noting the increasingly neglected yet archetypal need for strong explanatory narrative even while remaining wary of its limitations presumptions and potential abuses Exploring novels that manage to bridge the gap between accessible storytelling and literary theory this book shows how contemporary authors reconcile values of postmodern literary experimentation and traditional realism

Twentieth-Century Americanism Andrew Yerkes, 2013-10-31 First Published in 2005 The main purpose of the book is to expand the scope of revisionary studies of the thirties by analyzing novels using recent innovations in critical theory The book adds to the research of Barbara Foley Michael Denning Alan Wald and others who have challenged Cold War era accounts of the decade's socialist and communist culture The book explores leftist literature from the thirties as balanced between two antithetical philosophical modalities identity and ideology Writers create identitarian fiction he argues as they attempt to appeal to a mainstream audience using familiar types and patterns culled from mass culture They engage ideology on the other hand when they use narrative as a means of critiquing those same types and patterns using strategies of ideological critique similar to those of their European contemporary Georg Lukacs The End of the Mind DeSales Harrison, 2005-02-10 This book seeks to include among accounts of modern lyric poetry a theory of the poem's relation to the unintelligible DeSales Harrison draws a distinction between sites of unintelligibility and sights of difficulty while much has been said about modernist difficulty little has been said about the attention that poets give to phenomena that by definition arrest impede obscure damage or destroy the capacity for intelligible representation
