Constructivist Theories Of Ethnic Politics:

Constructivist Theories of Ethnic Politics Kanchan Chandra, 2012-10-25 Taking the possibility of change in ethnic identity into account this book shows and dismantles the theoretical logics linking ethnic diversity to negative outcomes and processes such as democratic destabilisation clientelism riots and state collapse Even more importantly it changes the questions we can ask about the relationship between ethnicity politics and economics Ethnic Politics and Conflict/Violence Erika Forsberg, Jóhanna K. Birnir, Christian Davenport, 2018-10-18 Ethnicity is one of the most salient and enduring topics of social science not least with regard to its potential link to political conflict violence Despite or perhaps because of the concept's significant use all too seldom has the field paused to consider the state of our knowledge For example how do we define and conceive of ethnicity within the context of political conflict What do we really know about the causal determinants of ethnic conflict What has been the most useful development within this literature and why This volume comprises reflections from an international range of prominent political scientists all engaged in the study of ethnicity and conflict violence They attempt to synthesize what the field does and does not know with regard to ethnic conflict as well as draw out the research directions for the immediate future in unique and interesting ways This book was originally published as a special issue of the journal Ethnopolitics Ethnic Politics and State Power in Africa Philip Roessler, 2016-12-15 Why are some African countries trapped in vicious cycles of ethnic exclusion and civil war while others experience relative peace In this groundbreaking book Philip Roessler addresses this question Roessler models Africa's weak ethnically divided states as confronting rulers with a coup civil war trap sharing power with ethnic rivals is necessary to underwrite societal peace and prevent civil war but increases rivals' capabilities to seize sovereign power in a coup d'état How rulers respond to this strategic trade off is shown to be a function of their country's ethnic geography and the distribution of threat capabilities it produces Moving between in depth case studies of Sudan and the Democratic Republic of the Congo based on years of field work and statistical analyses of powersharing coups and civil war across sub-Saharan Africa the book serves as an exemplar of the benefits of mixed methods research for theory building and testing in comparative politics Ethnic Boundaries in Turkish Politics Zeki Sarigil, 2018-09-04 The Kurdish Movement in Turkey's growing alliance with Islam One of the fault lines of Turkish politics traditionally has been the divide between religious and secular movements However as Zeki Sarigil argues the secular Kurdish movement in Turkey has increasingly become aligned with Islam As a result Islam has become part of the movement's political discourse strategies and actions Ethnic Boundaries in Turkish Politics traces the evolving relations between the leftist secular Kurdish movement and Islam from an apathetic and/or antagonistic attitude in the 1970s and 1980s to an increasingly Islam friendly approach in the 1990s to an attitude of accommodation and the rise of Kurdish Islamic synthesis in the early 2000s Based on 104 interviews in several provinces in Turkey primarily Ankara Diyarbakir Istanbul and Tunceli between 2011 and 2015 as well as ethnographic data public opinion surveys and statements from the

Kurdistan Workers Party PKK and Kurdish leaders Sarigil shows how the secular Kurdish movement increasingly has been endorsing Islam and Islamic actors The reasons for this Islamic opening are global national and local Sarigil demonstrates that a group of strategic and ideological factors have encouraged and or forced Kurdish leaders to redraw symbolic and social boundaries of the movement Namely with the end of the Cold War support for Marxist ideas collapsed creating increasingly more favorable responses towards religion In addition the movement s need to expand its social basis and popularity electoral politics and legitimacy struggles against rival political actors were other major factors which triggered the Kurdish movement s boundary expansion i e its Islamic opening The study also shows that the Kurdish boundary making was not without any tension or contestation The boundary expansion by Kurdish ethnopolitical elites triggered both internal and external boundary contestations The movement s embrace of Islam on a more widespread level has major ramifications for politics in Turkey and in the region Ethnic Boundaries in Turkish Politics has important insight into the PKK modern Turkish and Islamic societies and highlights the increasing role of Islam in global politics Identity Politics and Elections in Malaysia and Indonesia Karolina Prasad, 2015-12-14 In recent social research ethnicity has mostly been used as an explanatory variable It was only after it was agreed that ethnicity in itself is subject to change were the questions of how and why it changes possible to answer This multiplicity of ethnic identities requires that we think of each society as one with multiple ethnic dimensions of which any can become activated in the process of political competition and sometimes several of them within a short period of time Focusing on Malaysia and Indonesia this book traces the variations of ethnic identity by looking at electoral strategies in two sub national units It shows that ethnic identities are subject to change induced by calculated moves by political entrepreneurs who use identities as tools to maximize their chances of winning elections or expanding support base and highlights how political institutions play an enormous role in shaping the modes and dynamics of these ethno political manipulations The book suggests that in societies where ethnic identities are activated in politics instead of analysing politics with ethnic distribution as an independent variable ethnic distribution can be taken as the dependent variable with political institutions being the explanatory one It examines the problems of voters behaviour and parties and candidates strategy in a polity that is to a significant extent driven by ethnic relations Pushing the boundaries of qualitative research on Southeast Asian politics by placing formal institutions at the centre of its analysis this book will be of interest to students and scholars of Southeast Asian Politics Race and Ethnic Studies and International Relations

Ethnopolitical Entrepreneurs Daniel Fittante, 2023-12-15 Ethnopolitical Entrepreneurs presents the story of the Armenians of Glendale California Coming from Argentina Armenia Egypt Iran Jordan Lebanon Russia Syria and many other countries this group is internally fragmented and often has limited experience with the American political system Nonetheless Glendale s Armenians have rapidly mobilized and remade an American suburban space in their own likeness In telling their story Daniel Fittante expands our understanding of US political history From the late nineteenth century onward

Irish Italian Jewish and several other immigrant populations in large American cities began changing the country's political reality. The author shows how Glendale's Armenians as well as many other immigrants are now changing the country's political reality within its dynamic multiethnic suburbs. The processes look different in various suburban contexts but the underlying narrative holds: immigrant populations converge on suburban areas and ambitious political actors develop careers by driving coethnics' political incorporation.

Politicized Ethnicity Anke Weber, Wesley Hiers, Anaïd Flesken, 2016-04-29

This book offers a rigorous comparative historical analysis of Kenya, Tanzania, Bolivia, Peru, and the United States to demonstrate how colonial administrative rule, access to resources, nation building, and language policies, as well as political entrepreneurs, contribute to the politicization of ethnicity.

Conflict, Politics, and the Christian East Christopher Rhodes, George Soroka, 2021-11-29

This book brings a crucial perspective to the examination of religion and politics in the Middle East and North Africa (MENA) by focusing on the roles that Christian communities play in this region. Acknowledging and exploring their political activity represents a much needed contribution to the MENA literature, which overwhelmingly focuses on Islam. Through a collection of country case studies utilizing a variety of analytic methods, the contributors to this collection demonstrate how various Christian groups act as rational strategic political actors seeking to protect and promote the interests of their organizations and members. The cases explored here elaborate upon how Christians in the MENA region navigate their minority status and respond to local ideas of citizenship that often relegate them to second class status. The chapters also examine how MENA Churches draw on transnational networks to augment their local political influence. This volume is an important work for understanding contemporary politics in the MENA region and advances the study of religion's role in politics more generally. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Religion, State and Society.

Presidential Elections in Nigeria's Fourth Republic Babayo Sule, Usman Sambo, 2024-03-07

This book provides a uniquely detailed analysis of presidential elections in Nigeria's Fourth Republic. The authors explore the changing dynamics of voting patterns, religious politics, politicians' behaviour, and the broader political system to offer new insights into presidential systems in Africa and beyond. In doing so, they address an often neglected area of political science and cast light on the political challenges facing one of the world's largest democracies. The book's comprehensive coverage of Nigerian presidential elections and the lessons they hold for developing countries across the globe is a valuable resource for researchers, students, international institutions, and non-governmental organisations.
