Jennifer E. Gaddis

Cafeteria Worker Day 2015:

Effigy (2015-) #3 Tim Seeley, Officer Chondra Jackson is teamed with a television hating homicide detective and an obsessed fan to search for a killer at the Star Cop Fan Corps Con Plus Chondra reunites with a former co star to get a glimpse of the life she left behind Schooled and Sorted Thurston Domina, Andrew M. Penner, Emily K. Penner, 2023-06-22 We tend to view education primarily as a way to teach students skills and knowledge that they will draw upon as they move into their adult lives However schools do more than educate students they also place students into categories such as kindergartner English language learner or honor roll student In Schooled Sorted Thurston Domina Andrew M Penner and Emily K Penner explore processes of educational categorization in order to explain the complex relationship between education and social inequality and to identify strategies that can help build more just educational systems Some educational categories have broadly egalitarian consequences Indeed Domina Penner and Penner argue that when societies enroll young people in school making them students they mark them as individuals who are worthy of rights But other educational categories reinforce powerful social categories including race gender and class and ultimately reproduce social and economic inequality in society Elite colleges tracked high schools and elementary school gifted programs provide not only different educational experiences but also create merit and inequality by sorting students into categories that are defined by the students who are excluded Schooled Sorted highlights that many of the decisions that define educational categories occur in school based committee meetings and other relatively local settings The local nature of these decisions provides many opportunities to define educational categories differently and for school communities to bring about change Schooled Sorted is an illuminating investigation into the ways sorting within schools translates into inequality in the larger world While some educational categorization may be unavoidable the authors suggest ways to build a more equitable system and thus a more equitable society "We Are All Fast-Food Workers Now" Annelise Orleck, 2018-02-27 The story of low wage workers rising up around the world to demand respect and a living wage Tracing a new labor movement sparked and sustained by low wage workers from across the globe We Are All Fast Food Workers Now is an urgent illuminating look at globalization as seen through the eyes of workers activists small farmers fast food servers retail workers hotel housekeepers home healthcare aides airport workers and adjunct professors who are fighting for respect safety and a living wage With original photographs by Liz Cooke and drawing on interviews with activists in many US cities and countries around the world including Bangladesh Cambodia Mexico South Africa and the Philippines it features stories of resistance and rebellion as well as reflections on hope and change as it rises from the bottom up The Labor of Lunch Jennifer E. Gaddis, 2019-11-12 There is a problem with school lunch in America Big Food companies have largely replaced the nation's school cooks by supplying cafeterias with cheap precooked hamburger patties and chicken nuggets chock full of industrial fillers Yet it is no secret that meals cooked from scratch with nutritious locally sourced ingredients are better for children workers and the environment

So why not empower lunch ladies to do more than just unbox and reheat factory made food And why not organize together to make healthy ethically sourced free school lunches a reality for all children The Labor of Lunch aims to spark a progressive movement that will transform food in American schools and with it the lives of thousands of low paid cafeteria workers and the millions of children they feed By providing a feminist history of the US National School Lunch Program Jennifer E Gaddis recasts the humble school lunch as an important and often overlooked form of public care Through vivid narration and moral heft The Labor of Lunch offers a stirring call to action and a blueprint for school lunch reforms capable of delivering a healthier more equitable caring and sustainable future
