Description of Change

We want to increase the efficiency rating of our residential solar panels from 22 percent to 25 percent.

Reason for Change

Market research shows an increasing demand among residential customers for more efficient solar panels. Increasing our efficiency rating will keep us competitive and show that we are innovative.

CHANGE IMPACTS

Scope	The scope will remain the same.
Deliverables	We will need to update our product specifications and design.
Cost	We will need a budget increase for additional research, development, and testing.
Resources	We may require new or additional materials. Employees will need training concerning the product change.
Timeline	We will extend the timeline to account for additional testing phases, marketing material adjustments, etc.
Stakeholders	This change will have a positive impact on customers because they will benefit from the product's improvements. It will have a positive impact on stakeholders because it will enhance the company's competitive edge and potentially lead to increased market share and revenue. It will have a mixed impact on employees because some teams may face an increased workload.

RISK ANALYSIS

Risk Identification

There are technical challenges related to the design.

Probability of Risk

Low

Risk Mitigation Strategies

In order to identify any technical challenges, we will conduct thorough research and engage experts before implementation.
