Cooking Curriculum For Middle School:

Development of a Nutrition and Cooking Curriculum for Middle School Students in Los Angeles Alyssa

Bartholomew, Esther J. Schultz, 2018 Obesity in childhood and adolescence is a major national and global public health concern Nutrition education programs are important tools in the fight against obesity Including cooking skill development as part of nutrition education programs could enhance the effectiveness of these programs in helping to prevent obesity With this in mind this project developed and implemented a combined nutrition and cooking curriculum based on MyPlate principles for 7th grade students in the Los Angeles Unified School District LAUSD This behavior based intervention program aimed to provide students with the knowledge and skills required to make simple nutritionally balanced meals in accordance with recommended dietary allowances RDAs of macro and micronutrients Students were to receive five 1 hour nutrition classes and five 1 hour cooking classes over a 5 week period The curriculum was delivered to one gifted 7th grade class in the medical magnet program at Christopher Columbus Middle School in Canoga Park California During the lessons qualitative observations were noted to allow for changes to be made to the curriculum to improve learning outcomes In addition four dietetic experts evaluated the curriculum and modifications were made based on their feedback Providing adolescents with nutrition knowledge and cooking skills is one tool to help prevent childhood obesity

Food and Cooking Skills Education Anita Tull, 2018-01-29 Food and Cooking Skills Education FCSE is a complex mix of policy and practicality educational theory and pedagogy classroom and government policy This book shows how FCSE has been at the centre of a tussle between education and policy for decades It reviews how FCSE has grappled with various significant issues of concern that threaten to marginalise it and pose problems for educational practicalities as expectations are increased but resources are squeezed It assesses the debate about the significance and importance of acquiring practical food and cooking skills in a society where the purchase of ready made food has become commonplace and public knowledge of where our food comes from is noticeably lacking This has contributed to the escalating incidence of diet related diseases and the attendant cost to society and threatened environmental sustainability In turn governments have reacted by proposals to make practical cooking skills a statutory National Curriculum subject as part of the armoury for tackling such costs Based on detailed research conducted across England and Wales as well as comparisons with thirty five other countries or states the author makes recommendations for policy to manage this challenge facing contemporary society
