Crystabelle Order Oregon Brides Rockies:

Lamentations Carol Kammen, 2021-09 Lamentations is a novel about the first group of families crossing west to Oregon in 1842 from the perspective of the dozen women on the trip. Although none of these women left a written record of her journey, the company clerk's daily notations provided documentation of historical events. Based on these records and the author's own decades of work as a historian, Carol Kammen provides an interpretation of the women's thoughts and feelings as events played out in and around the wagons heading west. In this novel, the men are in the background, and we hear the women ponder the land, their right to be passing through their lives, and how they are changing the other people in the company, the Native Americans they encounter, and their changing roles. Lamentations is about women's reality as wives or unmarried sojourners, as literate or illiterate observers, and as explorers of the land. Kammen gives voice to these women as they consider a strange new land and the people who inhabit it, mulling over what they, as women of their time, could not say aloud. We see the mental and emotional impact of events such as the naming of peoples and lands, of a husband's suicide, of giving birth, and of ongoing and uncertain interactions with Native peoples from the Missouri River crossing all the way to Oregon. They face the difficulties of the road, the slow trust that builds between some of them and the oddities of the men with whom they travel. These women move from silent witnesses within a constrained gender sphere to articulate observers of a complicated world they ultimately helped to shape.

Crystabelle Carr White, 2015-12-23 She's strictly off limits but can't resist her. Not wanting to burden her uncle's family any longer, Crystabelle Marx agrees to become a mail order bride traveling with an older couple on the Oregon Trail. Her intended, Orville Davis, is waiting for her in Denver City, but it's the wagon master, Laurence McKinney, who catches her eye. The handsome guide flirts shamelessly with her, proving to be a capable leader, but as the weeks wear on, the affection she feels for him continues to grow. Laurence McKinney has been wagon master for years, helping folks travel to California. He's seen his share of disasters and accidents. Temptation abounds the group, having rescued a wagon full of harlots heading to the mining towns in the mountains. This spells trouble in several ways, but it's nothing compared to the lovely Crystabelle Marx, who is a constant distraction. The winsome brunette is full of sass and good-natured teasing, but Laurence knows he's in trouble with this one. It's ill-advised to fall in love with one of the customers, but it may already be too late.
