

CHATTEL, SERVANT OR CITIZEN

WOMEN'S STATUS
IN CHURCH,
STATE AND SOCIETY

THE LUTHERAN BUSINESS. A political cartoon by J. C. H. 1848. The cartoon depicts a woman in a green dress and a man in a yellow coat and black hat standing in a field. The woman is holding a large bundle of money, and the man is holding a small object. In the background, there are rolling hills and a small building. The cartoon is signed 'J. C. H. 1848' in the bottom right corner.

Chattel, Servant Or Citizen Mary O'Dowd, Sabine Wichert, 1995 Chattel, servant or citizen : women's status in church, state and society ; papers read before the XXist Irish Conference of Historians, held at Queen's University of Belfast, 27 - 30 May 1993 Mary O'Dowd, 1995 Sacred to Female Patriotism Judith Lewis S, 2003-06-17 Missing from much of the scholarship on 18th century British politics is recognition of the extensive participation of aristocratic women Fortunately as a literate and self conscious group these women created and preserved vast manuscript collections now available to historians In Sacred to Female Patriotism Judith S Lewis taps into these sources Missionary Women Rhonda Anne Semple, 2003 Under the influence of wise and devoted and spiritually minded colleagues She is a lady of much ability and intelligence the selection and training of candidates LMS work in North India the feeblest work in all of India Good temper and common sense are invaluable the Church of Scotland Eastern Himalayan Mission The work of the CIM at Chefoo faith filled generations Gender and the professionalization of Victorian society the mission example Conclusion fools for Christ A New History of Ireland Volume VII J. R. Hill, 2010-08-26 A New History of Ireland is the largest scholarly project in modern Irish history In 9 volumes it provides a comprehensive new synthesis of modern scholarship on every aspect of Irish history and prehistory from the earliest geological and archaeological evidence through the Middle Ages down to the present day Volume VII covers a period of major significance in Ireland's history It outlines the division of Ireland and the eventual establishment of the Irish Republic It provides comprehensive coverage of political developments north and south as well as offering chapters on the economy literature in English and Irish the Irish language the visual arts emigration and immigration and the history of women The contributors to this volume all specialists in their field provide the most comprehensive treatment of these developments of any single volume survey of twentieth century Ireland Gender, Migration, and the Public Sphere, 1850-2005 Marlou Schrover, Eileen Yeo, 2011-01-13 The decision to emigrate has historically held differing promises and costs for women and for men Exploring theories of difference in labor market participation network formation and the immigrant organising process on belonging and diaspora and a theory of vulnerability A Global History of Gender and Migration looks critically at two centuries of the migration experience from the perspectives of women and men separately and together Uniquely investigating the subject globally over time this book incorporates the history of migration in areas as far flung as Yemen Sudan the Netherlands France Belgium Poland the Soviet Union the US and the UK an approach that allows for patterns to emerge over time A Global History of Gender and Migration further shows that although there are various points on which migrant men and women differ and several theories exist to explain these differences this comprehensive guide offers a unifying thesis on the theories and practice of migration adding to our insight into the mechanisms underlying the creation of differences between migrant men and women Women of Quality Ingrid H. Tague, 2002 An examination of the interaction between ideology and experience in the lives of English women during a period of great social and intellectual change Focusing on the complex relationship between discourse and experience Women of Quality examines the role of gender in aristocratic women's daily lives during a period of significant cultural change In the years following the Glorious Revolution didactic writers and other social critics responded to a perceived crisis of gender relations by creating a new discourse of natural feminine behavior in opposition to the luxury and decadence of fashionable women Modern scholars have often portrayed this agenda as representing the rise of a middle class ideology but Ingrid Tague argues that the new rhetoric held enormous appeal for those women who would appear to be its greatest targets wealthy fashionable women of quality Using the correspondence and diaries of these women Tague traces the ways in which they adopted adapted and exploited ideals of femininity In their hands feminine values could become powerful tools that enabled them to compete for status and reputation Ironically by identifying femininity with private trivial concerns these ideals created unique opportunities for elite women Female participation in informal social and political activities placed women at the heart of aristocratic power in the early eighteenth century even as they employed the language of wifely subordination and domesticity Ingrid Tague is Assistant Professor of History at the University of Denver

Women, Scholarship and Criticism C. 1790-1900 Anne Laurence, Joan Bellamy, Gill Perry, 2000 This innovative volume explores a wide range of artistic critical and cultural productions by women scholars critics and artists between 1790 and 1900 many of whom are little known The essays question the concepts of scholarship criticism and artist across different disciplines focusing on the gendered associations and exclusions and on structures of sexual difference Women discussed include Mary Wollstonecraft Shelley Sydney Morgan and Anna Jameson actresses such as Elizabeth Siddons Dorothy Jordan and Mary Robinson critics such as Margaret Oliphant and Mary Cowden Clarke historians such as Agnes Strickland Lucy Aikin Mary Anne Everett Green Elizabeth Cooper and Lucy Toulmin Smith the writers and readers of women's magazines educationalists such as the Shirreff sisters and translators such as Anna Swanwick as well as many others Contested identities Carmen M. Mangion, 2019-01-04 English Roman Catholic women's congregations are an enigma of nineteenth century social history Over ten thousand nuns and sisters establishing and managing significant Catholic educational health care and social welfare institutions in England and Wales have virtually disappeared from history Despite their exclusion from historical texts these women featured prominently in the public and private sphere Intertwining the complexities of class with the notion of ethnicity Contested identities examines the relationship between English and Irish born sisters This study is relevant not only to understanding women religious and Catholicism in nineteenth century England and Wales but also to our understanding of the role of women in the public and private sphere dealing with issues still resonant today Contributing to the larger story of the agency of nineteenth century women and the broader transformation of English society this book will appeal to scholars and students of social cultural gender and religious history The Oxford Handbook of Women and Gender in Medieval Europe Judith M.
