Chinese National Cinema National Cinemas:

Chinese National Cinema Yingjin Zhang, 2004 This introduction to Chinese national cinema covers three Chinas mainland China Hong Kong and Taiwan Historical and comparative perspectives bring out the parallel developments in these three Chinas while critical analysis explores thematic and stylistic changes over time As well as exploring artistic achievements and ideological debates Yingjin Zhang examines how despite the pressures placed on the industry from state control and rigid censorship Chinese national cinema remains incapable of projecting a single unified picture but rather portrays many different Chinas Projecting A Nation Jubin Hu, 2003-06-01 This is the first major work on pre 1949 Chinese cinema in English As such it represents a major contribution to existing discussions of both Chinese cinema and national cinema and is an indispensable basic resource for scholars interested in Chinese film history The book analyses the wide variety of conceptions of Chinese national cinema between the early years of the 20th century and 1949 and contrasts these to conceptions of national cinema in Europe and China After years of exhausting primary historical research the author has been able to bring to light sources hitherto not widely available The author argues that questions and debates about the status and meaning of the national in Chinese national cinema are central to any consideration of cinema during this period and addresses the issue of Chinese nationalism as part of a complex history of cinema within the early modern Chinese nation Chinese National Cinema Yingjin Zhang, 2004-08-02 Chinese National Cinema written for students by a leading scholar traces the formation negotiation and problematization of the national on the Chinese screen over ninety years

Theorising National Cinema Valentina Vitali, Paul Willemsen, 2019-07-25 Why do we think of clusters of films as national cinema Why has the relationship between the nation and film become so widely and uncritically accepted Theorising National Cinema is a major contribution to work on national cinema by many of the leading scholars in the field It addresses the knotty and complex relationship between cinema and national identity showing that the nationality of a cinema production company and the films that it made have not always been seen as pertinent The volume begins by reviewing and rethinking the concept of national cinema in an age of globalisation and it goes on to chart the parallel developments of national film industries and the idea of a nation state in countries as diverse as Japan South Korea Russia France and Italy The issues of a national cinema for nation states of contested status with disputed borders or displaced peoples is discussed in relation to film making in Taiwan Ireland and Palestine The contributors also consider the future of national cinema in an age of trans national cultural flows exploring issues of national identity and cinema in Latin America Asia the Middle East India Africa and Europe Theorising National Cinema also includes a valuable bibliography of works on national cinema The Early Transnational Chinese Cinema Industry Yongchun Fu, 2019-03-04 Based on extensive original research including in studio archives industrial surveys official records trade journals and English and Chinese newspapers this book explores the role of the American film industry in the development of cinema in China It examines the Chinese industry's response to the American industry and the consequences of this response It also considers the attitudes of Chinese film practitioners towards Hollywood and the contribution of those figures who acted as intermediaries between the two industries Overall the book casts much new light on the early development of the film industry in China and demonstrates the huge influence Hollywood had on it Winner of the inaugural 2021 New Zealand Asia Society Book Award second prize The Chinese Cinema Book Song Hwee Lim, Julian Ward, 2020-04-30 This revised and updated new edition provides a comprehensive introduction to the history of cinema in mainland China Hong Kong and Taiwan as well as to diasporic and transnational Chinese film making from the beginnings of cinema to the present day Chapters by leading international scholars are grouped in thematic sections addressing key historical periods film movements genres stars and auteurs and the industrial and technological contexts of cinema in Greater China The Oxford Handbook of Chinese Cinemas Carlos Rojas, Eileen Chow, 2013-04-25 What does it mean for a cinematic work to be Chinese Does it refer specifically to a work's subject or does it also reflect considerations of language ethnicity nationality ideology or political orientation Such questions make any single approach to a vast field like Chinese cinema difficult at best Accordingly The Oxford Handbook of Chinese Cinemas situates the term more broadly among various different phases genres and distinct national configurations while taking care to address the consequences of grouping together so many disparate histories under a single banner Offering both a platform for cross disciplinary dialogue and a mapping of Chinese cinema as an expanded field this Handbook presents thirty three essays by leading researchers and scholars intent on yielding new insights and new analyses using three different methodologies Chapters in Part I investigate the historical periodizations of the field through changing notions of national and political identity all the way from the industry's beginnings in the 1920s up to its current forms in contemporary Hong Kong Taiwan and the global diaspora Chapters in Part II feature studies centered on the field's taxonomical formalities including such topics as the role of the Chinese opera in technological innovation the political logic of the Maoist film and the psychoanalytic formula of the kung fu action film Finally in Part III focus is given to the structural elements that comprise a work's production distribution and reception to reveal the broader cinematic apparatuses within which these works are positioned Taken together the multipronged approach supports a wider platform beyond the geopolitical and linguistic limitations in existing scholarship Expertly edited to illustrate a representative set of up to date topics and approaches The Oxford Handbook of Chinese Cinemas provides a vital addition to a burgeoning field still in its formative stages Nascent Filmmakers in Hong Kong, 2000-2020 Fangyu Chen, 2023-07-03 This book is an interdisciplinary study of the commerce art politics nexus of Hong Kong cinema from 2000 to 2020 investigating the current nascent generation of film workers who joined the industry as it gradually entered an era marked by the domination of Hong Kong mainland co productions Fangyu Chen explores the filmmaking ideologies of the emerging filmmakers from both within and beyond their film texts and uncovers the artistic and ideological discrepancies between this generation and their predecessors the established generation who contributed to the glory days of Hong Kong cinema during its economic boom By tracing the studies of national cinema and transnational cinema Chen debunks the national transnational antagonism with the case of post 2000 Hong Kong cinema and argues that it has split into two a transnational cinema represented by the established generation of filmmakers and a national cinema that is driven by the nascent generation who are struggling for better preservation of Hong Kong local culture and their own cultural identities Employing a Hong Kong mainland film dynamics perspective this study addresses a gap in the academic study of Hong Kong cinema drawing attention to the material conditions and artistic visions of the craft labour in the industry Scholars of communication film studies and labor economics will find this book of particular interest Modern Chinese Literary and Cultural Studies in the Age of Theory Rey Chow, 2001-01-04 An attempt to describe the new boundaries of the field of Chinese studies China on Screen Christopher J. Berry, Mary Ann Farquhar, 2006-04-04 In China on Screen Chris Berry and Mary Farquhar leaders in the field of Chinese film studies explore more than one hundred years of Chinese cinema and nation Providing new perspectives on key movements themes and filmmakers Berry and Farquhar analyze the films of a variety of directors and actors including Chen Kaige Zhang Yimou Hou Hsiao Hsien Bruce Lee Jackie Chan Maggie Cheung Gong Li Wong Kar wai and Ang Lee They argue for the abandonment of national cinema as an analytic tool and propose cinema and the national as a more productive framework With this approach they show how movies from China Hong Kong Taiwan and the Chinese diaspora construct and contest different ideas of Chinese nation as empire republic or ethnicity and complicated by gender class style transnationalism and more Among the issues and themes covered are the tension between operatic and realist modes male and female star images transnational production and circulation of Chinese films the image of the good foreigner all related to different ways of imagining nation Comprehensive and provocative China on Screen is a crucial work of film analysis
